Little Men Do Learn.
When Mussolini Appeared.
No Chemical Life.
Mexico Experiments.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

THE big ill wind that blew in Wall Street did somebody good.

New York's savings banks report more than 18,000 new accounts within a few days after the slump. The "little" man seems to have learned a lesson.

AT THE royal wedding in Rome, five sovereigns, five rulers who had recently lost their jobs, and 54 other royalties looked on. Queens, princes and princesses crowded the chapel.

THE interesting moment came when Mussolini, Italy's dictator, entered and was saluted by all the royalties with the Fascist salute, the outstretched right arm.

Mussolini did not march with the royalty. But when they saw him and gave him that salute, angels, looking down, could easily identify the real ruler of Italy.

IT WAS an interesting marriage, with special rites reserved by the church for royalty. The Italian King and Queen sat on a throne at one side of the altar, the Belgian King and Queen sat on another throne at the other side of the altar. At the elevation of the host, trumpets sounded, and drums were beaten. That is done only for royalty.

THE young prince and princess, asked by Cardinal Maffi "Do You," et cetera, looked toward their fathers and mothers, sitting on their thrones, and said: Si, "Yes," only after their parents had nodded consent.

DR. HEYL, physicist of the United States Bureau of Standards, says science will produce life artificially, "it is chemical, not supernatural," and there is "nothing occult in the processes of life."

NOTHING occult, perhaps, but Prof. Heyl will not produce life, nor will any other physicist by chemical means. Things may be made to wiggle, but that will not be life.

This universe is a great trinity, matter, force and spirit or consciousness. No scientist will produce consciousness, possessing the potential ability to think. Chemicals can't do that.

MEXICO experiments with the criminal law. Instead of a jury there will be five "technical experts," the degree of guilt based on the criminal's intelligence and realization of his crime.

No punishment for your first crime if you were hungry and hurt no one. Here we allow a dog one bite, but don't allow a thief one theft.

NO MEXICAN death penalty for civil crimes. Revolutionists will be shot as usual. Automobile drivers, killing somebody, cannot be locked up more than six years.

The new law assumes that crime is largely "a disease." Criminologists in many countries have suggested similar changes. Mexico is first to try them.

FREDERICK G. ECKER, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company president, renders great service to aviation, upholding through the New York court of appeals his plan to let aviators, commercial, military, naval and amateur, obtain life insurance against ordinary hazards at regular rates.

The rule canceling life insurance, if the insured traveled by airplane, was a serious handicap for aviation.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED were invited to see a moving picture demonstrating Einstein's theory.

Four thousand five hundred forced their way in, police reserves were called, professors were puzzled.

They might be. No films could explain the Einstein theory, except to Einstein himself.

HOWEVER, it is encouraging that 4,500 should make a virtuous ATTEMPT to understand the Einstein theory.

When Einstein says the extent of the universe is limited, feeble man asks what is OUTSIDE the limits.

EDWARD W. BOK, who came here a boy and made his life useful to his adopted country, is dead, respected and regretted.

His body will be buried at the foot of a great tower in a bird sanctuary, established by him. It will be a pleasing resting place for an earnest and useful man.

FIRST little rift in the lute. France refuses the consent to an arrangement under which Italy would have a navy as big as that of France.

It is certain that Mussolini will not officially subordinate Italy to any other Latin power.

LETS HOUSE DICTATE ON REFORM METHOD

President Abandons Program For Select Committee After Leaders' Opposition

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Hoover today bowed to the wishes of the House leaders and made it known that on Monday he would send to Congress the several preliminary reports of his law enforcement commission on the question of prohibition enforcement.

With this gesture, the President abandoned his hope of having a joint-select committee consider the ways and means of tightening up enforcement of the dry laws.

HOOVER WANTS SPEED

Hoover's only desire, it was said at the White House, is that Congress expedite the legislation which his law enforcement commission is recommending. He made it known that he would adapt himself to the wishes of the House leaders as to the methods by which the proposals would be considered.

Further, he promised to place the various administrative officials of the government at the disposal of the several House committees which will take up various phases of the prohibition enforcement problem.

The White House announcement came hard on the heels of a statement by Speaker of the House Longworth that House leaders were opposed to formation of a joint committee which would take away preliminary functions from already established committees of the House.

The refusal of Longworth and his assistants to permit House members of any joint committee to report direct to the House itself, in the opinion of the President, would only entail further delay, and for this reason he relinquished his fight for creation of such a body.

REPORT'S SCOPE

The report of the law enforcement commission, which goes to Congress Monday, will deal with four subjects:

Relief of court docket congestion.

BISSELL & LAND IN MERGER

Bissell & Land, Inc., one of the largest advertising agencies in the Pittsburgh district, has combined its organization with Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., of New York, it was announced today.

A completely developed organization will be maintained in Pittsburgh, according to the plans of the merger. The organization of Bissell & Land will remain intact. Every service offered in the past will be given in addition to the added advantages which will accrue from association with one of the foremost advertising agencies in the United States. John Bennett Bissell, president of Bissell & Land, Inc., made the following statement:

DEATH STALKS TRAGIC OPERA

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Jan. 10—Miss Merran Reader, opera singer, drove up to the door of her home here today, begrimed and tired.

Her brother-in-law, Carl Maevers, of Baltimore, drove the auto. She had missed the last train there last night. They had sped over the mountain roads from Baltimore so that today might be spent at the bier of her mother, Mrs. Jennie N. Reader, wife of Presiding Judge Frank E. Reader, of the Beaver County courts.

Elevator Operator Relates How Patrolman Was Shot After Holdup of Grocery

Arrested as an auto theft suspect in Canonsburg, Philip Fears, 17, Negro elevator operator, today confessed, according to police, that he was one of the three bandits who killed Patrolman James E. Hughes, following a holdup at Emmett and Wadsworth streets, December 27.

Police say he named his companions, for whom a search is now being made.

GRILLED BY POLICE

Fears, according to the police, was arrested Wednesday night in Canonsburg in the car of Dr. C. H. Carroll, 1291 Boyle street, which had been stolen at Webster avenue and Wandless street.

Turned over to motorcycle officers yesterday, he was questioned. He answered the description of one of the three men who killed Patrolman Hughes.

This morning, after a 12-hour grilling, he signed a four-page confession, homicide detectives said.

In it he said, according to the police, that he was invited by two other young men to accompany them on December 27.

The alleged confession recites that Fears stood guard outside the store while his companions robbed the grocery of Morris Pechersky, a clerk and a customer of $117.

FIRED FROM BEHIND POLE

Following the robbery the trio fled to Center avenue, where they saw a plainclothes patrolman alight from an auto, and when he approached, the confession says, the trio ran. One stepped behind a telephone pole and fired. The fleeing youths separated and Fears says he went to his home, remaining there until the next day. Fears said he didn't get a full share of the money. Police refuse to divulge the names of his alleged accomplices.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—With one man dead, two persons in a critical condition and about 100 others suffering from less serious injuries, following four explosions in the partly demolished Globe Theater Building, which rocked the heart of this city, officials today began an investigation to determine the cause of the blasts.

BOY SOUGHT IN DONOHOE DEATH CASE FOUND

Lad, 6, Given Up by Woman In North Side After She Learns He Is Wanted

BULLETIN.

Mrs. Velma Koll, Oakland waitress and mother of 6-year-old Alfred Koll, who was identified as the boy sought in the investigation of the Donohoe murder, was taken into custody today and turned over, along with her son, to Uniontown authorities.

The 6-year-old boy believed to be the one wanted in the investigation of the murder of Constable John Donohoe, of Uniontown, was found today in a North Side rooming house, police reported.

The boy, Alfred Koll, had been placed there by his mother, Mrs. Velma Koll, a waitress in an Oakland restaurant, the landlady, Mrs. Herman Drechsel, of 1114 Arch street, told police.

ANOTHER NAME

Mrs. Drechsel said the boy's mother had telephoned her last night, after newspapers reported the search for the boy, and advised her that the boy should be known as Alfred Beck.

Fayette County authorities wanted the boy to help clear up the investigation, but just what testimony he can contribute has not been explained.

Donohoe was found murdered in an auto on a highway near Uniontown last summer.

SUSPICIOUS

Mrs. Drechsel told police that Alfred was first brought to her home in the summer of 1928, that he lived there for 11 months, and was brought back last December 22. Usually his mother visits him weekly, and pays his bill, but last week she mailed the money, the landlad said.

Mrs. Drechsel said she became suspicious when the boy's mother asked her to change his name, and, after reading the newspaper reports, she notified the police.

Alfred has been attending the Mary J. Cowley School in the North Side, according to Mrs. Drechsel.

The district attorney of Fayette County reached the North Side Police Station late this afternoon and immediately began questioning Alfred.

WITHDRAWAL FROM STATE RACE SEEN

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—James J. Davis will remain indefinitely as secretary of labor in the Hoover cabinet, it was learned here today on reliable authority.

The secretary of labor was retained at the outset of President Hoover's administration because of a disagreement among organized labor leaders over various candidates for his post. At that time it was said Davis would stay in the cabinet for one year, his tenure ending on next March 4.

On retirement he planned to enter the Pennsylvania campaign as a contestant for the Republican nomination for governor or senator.

POPULAR IN CAPITOL

Davis' popularity among Republican leaders in Washington and the fact there has been no complaint against his administration in his nine years of cabinet duty now is said to have convinced the President that he should retain Davis among his advisers.

Consequently, it is understood, the President asked Davis to remain indefinitely in the Hoover

Fear Parrot Fever in Ohio

WARREN, O., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—City authorities today sought information from state health officials about "parrot fever" from which three Warren people are believed to be suffering.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McEntire and their daughter, Miss Clody McEntire, became ill a few days after they had bought a parrot which died soon after it was purchased. The symptoms were much like those of influenza, with high fever weakness and nausea.

City health authorities quarantined the home.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Toledo specialists announced today that the death of Mrs. Percy Q. Williams recently was brought on by Psittacosis, or parrot's disease. Mr. Williams is still in a hospital with the same disease.

Williams returned three weeks ago after spending two months in Cuba. He brought two parrots home and one of the birds died three days after he arrived here.

Jugoslavia Fetes Queen on Birthday

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The thirtieth birthday of Queen Marie, daughter and namesake of the Dowager queen of Rumania, was celebrated here. There was a solemn mass at the Cathedral and last night a ball was given at the royal palace for 800 guests.

Steel Orders Gain For Fourth Month

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The United States Steel Corporation reported today that its unfilled orders increased 91,848 tons during December to a total of 4,417,193 tons.

Unfilled tonnage on October 31 was 4,086,562 tons, and on December 31, 1928, it amounted to 3,976,712 tons.

This is the fourth successive monthly increase and carries the total of the corporation's unfinished business to the highest level since last June.

Mills at that time were operating around 100 per cent of rated capacity and contrasted with less than 60 per cent recently.

The cold wave which has held sway in the west moved into this district today with prospect of a drop in temperature to 15 degrees above by tomorrow morning.

Dowry of Princess Bride Of Humbert $6,500,000

ROME, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Princess Marie Jose, of Belgium, who on Wednesday became the bride of Crown Prince Humbert, of Italy, brought as her dowry, it was said in diplomatic circles today, 50,000,000 Belgian francs, or about $6,500,000.

This, together with the crown prince's own private properties, including Racconingi Castle, which by itself is one of the largest estates in the world, forms such a substantial patrimony as to give the newlyweds an independent status equal to if not surpassing that of most European royalties.

King Victor Emanuel, father of Prince Humbert, is reputed to be the wealthiest man in all Italy.

The prince and princess this morning heard 30,000 Roman school children acclaim them and 6,000 greet them in song in the statue-lined Plazza di Siena, in the great park known as the Villa Umberto Primo. At the conclusion of the songfest, the youngsters marched by the royal stand and each deposited flowers in honor of the young couple.

Princess Marie Jose evidently was touched by the moving tribute and she smiled and patted the cheeks of some of the young donors and kissed one or two of the girls. The children were all uniformed, the girls in white with blue ties and white berets adorned with the colors of the city of Rome, and the boys in blue shirts with white collars and sailors' caps.

DOZEN DEAD IN SOUTHWEST BLIZZARD, SEASON'S WILDEST

BELOW ZERO AT MANY POINTS

Snow Still Falling in Rocky Mountains; Middle West Paralyzed by Deep Drifts

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—A dozen lives had been claimed in the Southwest today by winter's onslaught, which tumbled temperatures below zero as far south as Texas, in the wake of the season's worst blizzard.

Snow flurries still fell in the Rocky Mountains and the Southwest, but most communities had dug out from the deep snow of the last three days and transportation generally was restored, although highway travel was hazardous.

NEW LOW MARKS

New low temperatures for the winter were established, and in many cases the mercury dropped to marks untouched for years.

At Oklahoma City the minimum was 2.3 degrees below zero, the coldest since 1918.

At Lubbock, Texas, it was 10 degrese below zero, and near freezing weather prevailed along the Gulf coast.

Kansas City experienced three below zero.

Deaths reported in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas were from accidents indirectly attributed to the storm, including coasting and motor-car wrecks, and the drowning of a skater.

RECORD SNOWFALL

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Continued snowfall and another drop in temperature were predicted today as the middle west gained momentary relief from the blizzard which has held the district in its paralyzing grip for the last twenty-four hours.

After bringing record snowfalls to many sections of the west, the blizzard today was moving east and south. Eight inches of snowfall was common in many of the central states with huge drifts delaying or halting railroads and bus traffic.

Three deaths, attributed to the blizzard, occurred in Illinois. Two men, Edward Dalton and Giovanni Tognato, were killed here, and Mrs. Susan Shelby, of Danville, Ill., died a victim of the storm.

framework of the building, ignited gasoline being drawn from a tank by another workman. The gasoline was used to supply power for the air drills.

Debris thrown high into the air by the force of the explosions caused the crowds on Market and Juniper streets to scurry for safety in panic.

WINDOWS SHATTERED

Heavy timbers and bricks which fell in the City Hall plaza opposite, damaged many cars parked there. Most of the windows on the east side of the City Hall were broken. Several window panes in the Wanamaker store nearby also were shattered.

Charles Hallowell, of Collingswood, N. J., a workman in the wrecking crew working in the building, died this morning. John McBrearty, a fireman, and Charles Raisner, a policeman, are critically hurt.

FIFTY IN HOSPITALS

About 50 of the others injured were able to go home after first aid treatment by ambulance surgeons and in drug stores. The rest were taken to hospitals where their injuries were attended to, many of them then being allowed to go to their homes.

DAVIS TO STAY IN CABINET

cabinet, and Davis is expected to accept.

Two other elements are known to have entered into the Davis case.

First, and perhaps foremost, is the political situation in Pennsylvania. With Davis remaining in the cabinet he would be removed from both the senatorial and gubernatorial candidacies in the Keystone state. With Davis out of the cabinet, he would immediately become a candidate for either Senate or Governor and with his tremendous personal following might upset the plans of Republican chiefs in Pennsylvania.

SPLIT ON SUCCESSOR

The other element is the failure of organized labor leaders to agree on a successor for Davis. Last March 4 W. N. Doak, Virginia labor leader, was the oustanding candidate for his post, but the Doak candidacy aroused so much opposition among other labor leaders that he virtually passed out of the picture. Since then, it appears, the opposition to Doak has not abated, and oDak's followers have opposed the selection of any other leader.

leaves. She will sing tomorrow night in Philadelphia.

IN TRAGIC ROLE

Mrs. Reader died yesterday—a few days after her daughter had played her first big role with the German Opera Company and fulfilled a lifelong dream that two persons at least had shared, her mother and herself.

In Baltimore, the German Opera Company was rehearsing for "Goetterdaemmerung"—Wagner's heroic tragedy.

Miss Reader's role, important, was a tragic one.

She received the news of her mother's death through her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Maevers, of Baltimore. Appended was this, her mother's last wish:

MOTHER'S DYING WISH

Merran Reader sang to a Baltimore audience. The thousands didn't know, perhaps, why she sang it so well, and under what conditions.

Tonight Miss Reader must leave the Beaver Valley again. She plans to be in Philadelphia tomorrow, so that she will sing the role of Wellgunde, in "Das Rheingold." Funeral services for her mother will be held tomorrow.

Garden Club Head Honored for Work

In recognition of her service in the promotion of home gardens and horticulture, Mrs. Roy Arthur Hunt of Pittsburgh has been elected to membership in the American Civic Association, it was learned today.

'Bugs' Moran Uses U. S. Attorney As Alias

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—George "Bugs" Moran, the gentleman who lost seven choice henchmen in a gang reprisal last St. Valentine's Day, today finds it hard to change his identity, especially when he takes the name of the United States attorney.

Taken in custody at a hotel by detectives, Moran was sent to the police station despite his protests that he was "being taken for a ride."

"Your name?" he was asked.

"George E. Q. Johnson." which is none other than the United States attorney.

Moran was sent through the Bureau of Identification and 10 minutes later he came back tagged:

"George Moran, alias George E. Q. Johnson."

Fifth Avenue Home Sold by Sinclair

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Harry F. Sinclair is quitting Fifth avenue. He has sold his residence at the corner of Seventy-ninth street. He purchased it in 1918 and had as neighbors Mrs. Payne Whitney, Mrs. James B. Duke and John D. Ryan. The assessed valuation is $415,000.

Bonus to Ministers For Children Urged

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—A bonus for each child of a clergyman is proposed by Dr. Clarence G. Campbell, president of the Eugenics Research Association. "We know from reliable factual data," he said in an address, "that the best quality of leaders arises, and arises in great frequency, from the progeny of the clergy."

ONE KILLED AS 3 AUTOS CRASH

One man was killed, another perhaps fatally injured and three others slightly hurt when three automobiles crashed early today in the Freeport road at Acmetonia. Two of the cars were destroyed by fire, which followed the explosion of the gasoline tank of one of the machines.

The dead man was Benjamin Catley, of 1324 Pritchard street, Corliss Station. Francis Puchtler, 23, of 4107 Windsor street, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. He may die, it was said at Citizens General Hospital, New Kensington.

James Griffen, of 2022 Forbes street, said to have been riding with Catley and Puchtler, was arrested after the crash, but was later removed to the hospital. His condition was not regarded as serious.

The accident was said by police to have occurred when an auto being driven toward Pittsburgh by Herbert Sutton, of Cheswick, was stopped. Catley's car was said to have crashed into that of Sutton, and then to have swerved in front of the car driven by Puchtler.

Sutton was hurled 20 feet by the force of the collision. He had been cleaning his windshield. He is also in the hospital.

William Lotz, 19, of 85 Clifton Park, driver of the third car damaged in the smashup, suffered cuts on the face.

WOMAN ASSAILS SENATORS IN LOBBY QUIZ

Publicity Agent Takes Stand Charging Committee Plot To Embarrass President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Mrs. Gladys Moon Jones, a young woman smartly garbed in blue, proved a defiant witness before the Senate Lobby Committee today and her examination had proceeded only a short time before she had threatened to take "up with some one" the action of the committee in obtaining copies of her personal letters.

The attitude of Mrs. Jones, a publicity worker for the United States Sugar Association, toward the commitee was indicated even before she took the witness stand. She had prepared a statement in which she accused Chairman Caraway and his fellow members of playing politics, of trying to embarrass President Hoover and of violating the "spirit of the fourth amendment" by taking personal files from offices.

CARAWAY LAUGHS

Caraway read a copy of the statement, laughed and remarked that no one "would read it anyhow" and a few minutes afterwards Mrs. Jones became exasperated and asserted with spirit:

"You are wasting so much time and the taxpayers' money asking me silly questions."

Nor did the subsequent proceedings mollify her. Several letters Mrs. Jones had written which were obtained from the files of H. C. Lakin, of New York, president of the Cuba Company, were produced.

"I maintain you have no right under the fourth amendment to have those letters in your hands," she said, her voice rising sharply. "I'm going to take it up with someone."

PAID $230 A WEEK

After testifying that she received $230 a week from the sugar association, $1,333 from the American Chamber of Commerce of Cuba, and that she also did publicity for a number of other organizations, Mrs. Jones asserted that she had handled publicity for a low sugar duty and intended to continue to do so.

"So far as I can see there is not the slightest objection to it," Senator Walsh (Dem.), of Montana, told her.

Turning to the newspapermen, Mrs. Jones said laughingly:

"Be sure and get that."

Mrs. Jones protested that an investigator of the lobby committee had obtained correspondence from her office and said "in spirit he broke into my office," adding that she objected to "someone coming into my office without a warrant and taking my papers."

LOBBYISTS ELECTED

She said sugar interests advocating a high sugar duty elected "their lobbyists to the Senate."

Asked for particulars, she said Senator Smoot was chairman of the tariff making Senate finance committee, Senator Waterman, (Rep.) of Colorado, was counsel for years for the Great Westerh Sugar Company, and Representative Timberlake, (Rep.) of Colorado, who, she said, had been a beet grower, was chairman of a sub-committee on sugar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—(AP)—Dr. Edward R. Pickrell, of the General Dyestuffs Corporation of New York, was summoned today by the Lobby committee to appear Tuesday to answer reports that he had used the office of Senator King, (Dem.) of Utah, as headquarters during consideration of the tariff bill.

Thieves Peeved At $2 Loot Free 100 Chickens

Thieves turned 100 chickens loose in the poultry store of B. W. Campbell, 611 Amity street, Homestead, early today when they became peeved, police believe, at only $2 loot in the cash register. Entrance was gained through a skylight.

Police blame the same robbers, thought to be boys, for breaking a window in the rear of the Kroeger grocery store, 131 Eighth avenue, Homestead, about the same time and stealing $5 and a quantity of candy.

ernment to the Department of Justice.

Codification of the 25 Federal statutes under which prohibition is now being enforced.

Rep. John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, House Republican leader, promised the enactment of any legislation the President wanted to enforce the dry law, despite the disagreement of House leaders over the method of preparing it.

'BREAK' MINIMIZED

Minimizing the "break" between the White House and House leaders, Tilson said:

"It is not a question of a split with the White House—just a question of difference of opinion over a method of procedure. Any statement that there is a split is a gross exaggeration. Throughout the House, so far as I know, there is no desire to disagree with the main purpose of the President's main purpose, which is to make the necessary transfers.

"Nothing definite has been determined. I suppose the departments will send down their recommendations and I am sure tha the House will act as pro ptly as possible on them."

Speaker Longworth also denied a breach of prohibition policy between the House Republican leaders and President Hoover.

House Republican leaders, he said, had only differed from the President on the question of how to handle proposed legislation for the transfer of the prohibition units from the Treasury to the Justice Department.

"It was just a difference of opinion," the Speaker said.

In a formal statement Longworth declared "the majority party of the House stands firm in its support of the President upon all measures which he deems necessary for the proper enforcement of all laws of the United States."

JONES SILENT

Senator Jones (Rep.), of Washington, who sponsored the joint committee resolution in the Senate, declined to comment on the attitude of House leaders, saying "That is a matter for the House to determine."

Some House "drys," it was indicated, are opposed to the leaders on the ground that a widespread impression of a split with the President will be created while the prohibition issue is uppermost in Congress.

"I neither criticize nor indorse the action of these so-called House leaders at this time," said Representative Sproul (Rep.), of Kansas.

HOUSE DRY—CRAMTON

Rep. Cramton (Rep.), Michigan, titular dry leader, later said on the floor that the majority of the House favored prohibition and would give President Hoover the legislation he desired.

Rep. LaGuardia (Rep.), New York, entered the discussion by issuing a statement in which he said that his prediction of the "hopelessness of the prohibition cause and the confusion in their ranks has now been officially demonstrated."

"There seems to be a deadlock on this annoying question between the executive and legislative branches of government," he asserted.

The statement of Speaker Longworth that House leaders had definitely turned down the proposal for a joint committee, which was the subject of a special message by the President, was accepted as the final word of House leaders.

Always jealous of their prerogatives, the House leaders by their action indicated that they would oppose the general tendency of the Hoover administration to seek legislative and other action by commissions and special committees rather than through the organized committees of the House.

The Justice and Treasury departments, it was learned, will submit a bill for transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit to the former department within a week. Rep. Williamson (Rep.), of South Dakota, who has conferred with both departments and the President, will sponsor it, he said.

eral records on the track team. After his graduation as a metallurgical chemist, he was invited by Andrew Carnegie to come to Pittsburgh as one of his "boys."

GOES TO WORK HERE

He was placed in the laboratory at the Lucy furnaces, and soon discovered that the use of "roll-scale," then wasted in iron and steel works, was far richer in iron than Lake Superior ores used at that time in blast furnace practice.

To preserve his physical condition while in laboratory work he often went to the casting room and assisted the workmen in loading pig iron into freight cars.

His strength at that was unusual and it is recorded that he had lifted more than 600 pounds free from the ground without the use of harness.

MANY INTERESTS

He was president and chairman of the board of the Crucible Steel Company of America, and at the same time took a prominent part in the development of the coal, coke and rubber industries.

At the time of his death he was chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, a concern in which he had been most prominently identified in the later years of his life.

CARNEGIE TRUSTEE

He had long served as a trustee of the Carnegie Institute, was president of the Connellsville Central Coke Company, and director in the Farmers Deposit National Bank, the Reliance Life Insurance Company, and was a member of the board of managers of the Kingsley House Association.

He was a member of the boards of many other manufacturing, financial and real estate enterprises. He was active in the Huguenot Society of America.

ART PATRON

He married November 6, 1879, Amy Hostetter, daughter of David M. Hostetter. They had five children, but a daughter, Mrs. Frederic I. Merrick, is the only one surviving. There are nine grandchildren.

He was a member of Calvary Episcopal church.

Mr. Dupuy and his wife numbered among the few great collectors of objects of art, just a year ago gave to the people of Pittsgurgh, through the Carnegie Museum, a roomfull of priceless European miniatures, and other art gems, their dates ranging from the Thirteenth century to the Eighteenth century.

The collection of miniature paintings by the masters of that art of England, France and Holland, is the second largest in the United States.

One of the outstanding American miniatures is that of Bishop White, the first Protestant Episcopal bishop of Pennsylvania and one of the organizers of that denomination in this country. Others are of famous historical characters in France and England.

ODDITIES

One of the gems of the wood carving collection is the "Last Supper." Many wax figures of characters of the past are notable in the Dupuy room.

Old manuscripts, some Spanish, richly illuminated on vellum and parchment, date back to the early days, while a collection of snuff boxes from England and France are examples of the finest workmanship. Many of them are set in jewels.

Silver enamel cryptics, some early German, and monochromes also are in evidence.

Two distinctive pieces are the pompous carriage which Louis IV gave to his son, the Count of Toulouse, and a sedan chair used by ladies of the court of that period.

DEATH A LOSS TO ART

They are gaily colored and richly carved of fine woods.

An old German chest and a "Nativity" from the thirteenth century designed and set in enamel and precious stones are distinctive pieces.

While the collection is a familiar one to visitors and art connoiseurs, it was a loan until a year ago, when it was presented for all times.

INSURGENTS HALT G.O.P. TREATY

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A last-minute Midwestern revolt against the Republican truce in the Senate today blocked its ratification at a party caucus.

The rebels charged the Republican committee on committees had violated the Senate's traditional seniority rule in negotiating a bargain awarding new assignments to the various committees of the Senate. The arrangement gave control of the powerful Senate finance committee to the Democratic-Insurgent coalition by awarding two vacancies of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., youthful Wisconsin Insurgent, and Senator John Thomas, Idaho Independent.

McNARY CHOSEN

The only affirmative action taken by the caucus was to elect Senator Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, as assistant Republican floor leader.

McNary was chosen to succeed Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington, who resigned because of pressing duties in his new capacity as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. There was no opposition to McNary, since he was the joint choice of old guards, young guards and insurgents.

The warfare over the seniority rule was unexpected. It revolved around the action of the Republican committee on committees in awarding a post on the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to Senator Daniel O. Hastings, of Delaware, Senator William H. McMaster, of South Dakota, had asked for the assignment, but his request was overruled. Under the seniority rule it should have gone to McMaster.

SUPPORTED BY NORRIS

When the caucus met, McMaster asked why his request had been ignored in favor of Hastings, his junior in service. The question threw the caucus into confusion. He was supported by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, the Insurgent leader, who declared the caucus would have to decide whether the seniority rule was to be ignored or followed.

The issue was brought to a point when Senator Howell (Rep.), of Nebraska, moved that all committee assignments be returned to the committee on committees with instructions to place McMaster on the Interstate Commerce Committee. A moment later, Senator Phipps (Rep.), of Colorado, offered a substitute motion, directing the committee on committees to make every committee assignment according to the seniority rule.

Majority Facing Poverty in Old Age

TORONTO, Jan. 10. — (AP.) — Ninety-eight people out of every 100 are financially incompetent, as Dr. S. S. Huebner, professor of insurance and commerce at the University of Pennsylvania, figures it. Only one out of 10 men at the age of 65 has enough money to assure him an income of even $50 a month. Dr. Huebner spoke to Toronto underwriters.

CITY HALTS OVERBROOK PROJECTS

Borough Ordered Work, After Annexation Vote, Exceeding Bonding Limit

Public Works Director Edward G. Lang today ordered work stopped on all contracts let by the former Overbrook Borough after the people voted for annexation to Pittsburgh. He did this to permit city officials time to study the legality of the contracts.

Council was advised yesterday that the borough had pledged 35 contracts, totaling about $500,000, after the borough debt limit had been exceeded by $23,000.

Tom M. Reed, assistant city engineer, today said work had started on eight of the contracts, but that weather had caused suspension of work on seven of them.

Work was still underway on the improvement of Jacobs street by the Pittsburgh Paving Company, which also has six of the other projects. Matthew Ott has the eighth project.

Reed notified them and the 35 contractors who have not yet begun their work to remain idle until advised to proceed by the city works department.

John E. Laughlin and T. J. McGovern, attorney and engineer, respectively, of the former borough of Overbrook, were retained by Council yesterday to help solve the problem of the contracts.

SHIP HITS ROCK, AID STANDS BY

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Coast Guardsmen stood by in a "pea soup" fog today to rescue 40 officers and men aboard the big freight steamship Edward Luckenbach, stranded today on the treacherous shoals west of Southeast Light.

The Coast Guardsmen on hand included 90 men of the destroyer Henley, out of New London, Conn., the crews of surf boats from the two Coast Guard stations at Block Island, and the crew of the 125-foot patrol boat Nemaha.

The big freighter, resting a full ship's length from shore, had water pouring into her holds and flooding her engine room.

The jagged rocks off this island had pierced the steel bottom of the Edward Luckenbach, which was en route from New York to Boston with a 1,500-ton cargo from Pacific Coast ports when she piled up on the lee of this island.

The wind favored the Edward Luckenbach and the sea was comparatively calm.

Reports received here were to the effect that the radio operator on the Luckenbach, whose SOS calls first summoned the Coast Guard, had trouble with his sending set and had to rig up a makeshift one to tell the rescuers how to reach his side.

After putting on an additional cargo at Boston the Luckenbach was to have departed for the Pacific Coast via the Panama Canal.

She is a ship of 7,916 gross tons, is 436 feet long, was built in Quincy, Mass., in 1916 and is owned by the Luckenbach Steamship Company of New Jersey.

Merchant, Victim Of Bullet, Sinking

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—State police today redoubled efforts to find the robber who shot and perhaps fatally wounded John C. Appleby, 59, Mt. Union merchant, when Appleby refused to go to the merchant's store and open the safe. Attaches at the hospital reported Appleby's condition critical. He was operated upon to effect the removal of the bullet from his left side and blood transfusions have been resorted to.

Gen. Bullard Gains On Heart Ailment

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Maj. Gen. PANTAGES PLEA SET JAN. 27

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Oral arguments on the appeal of Alexander Pantages, wealthy vaudeville theater owner, from a conviction on an assault charge will be held January 27 before the District Court of Appeals, presiding Justice N. P. Conrey, announced.

Justice Conrey allowed Pantages until February 25 to file his opening brief, and the state ten days after that to file its answer. Transcript of Pantages' trial on charges brought by Eunice Pringle, 17, was filed in appellate court last week. Associate Justices J. M. York and Frederick Houser will hear the appeal with Justice Conrey.

Pantages is held in the county jail hospital under sentence of from one of fifty years in San Quentin penitentiary, awaiting outcome of the appeal. He was moved to the jail hospital recently after making an unsuccessful attempt to obtain his release on bail on the grounds he was suffering a heart ailment.

Train Wreck Robber Begins Life Sentence

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Tom Vernon, confessed wrecker and robber of the Southern Pacific West Coast Limited, near Saugus, Cal., November 10, 1929, today was on his way to Folsom Penitentiary to serve a life sentence for the crime.

The Superior Court yesterday canveled Vernon's 30-day stay of execution. He had told deputy sheriffs he had accomplices, but his story was found to be false.

Mrs. Hoover, Taft Absent At White House Function

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Illness erased two of the most prominent names in official Washington from the list of those attending the first official reception—that for the judiciary—last night at the White House.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, who expected to receive with the President, was advised by her physician that she should not undergo the strain of shaking hands with the 1,500 guests.

Instead of being at the head of the line, Chief Justice Taft was in a hospital room undergoing treatment following exhaustion brought on by an old ailment and overwork.

In the place of the chief justice of the United States, one of the oldest and most distinguished of American jurists, Justice Holmes, who is 89 years old, was placed with the President at the head of the receiving line.

In addition to the Supreme Court, members of the judiciary from many parts of the country were among those to greet the President in the first of the large state functions. The death of Secretary Good caused the postponement of the diplomatic reception which was set for early December. The dinner given by the President to the members of the cabinet and their wives which usually begins the official social season in Washington also was postponed.

The line led guests through the East entrance up a spiraling staircase to the main entrance hallway, and thence through the state dining room, the red room, to President Hoover in the blue room.

WOMAN DENIED BABIES LOSES DIVORCE

Separation Agreement Balks Suit of Wife Claiming Mate Opposed Children

Mrs. Helen L. O'Neil, of North Craig street, whose testimony revealed her as a wife who longed to rear a family, but was opposed by her husband who held children would prevent his comfort, was denied a divorce by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen.

The court held that a six-page agreement between husband and wife, whereby he was to pay her $2,700 a year until they were divorced or one of them died, was against public policy.

CHILDREN HANDICAP

The husband, Robert Day, O'Neil, engineer and superintendent of the Vulcan Detinning Company, had an aversion to her because she wanted children, Mrs. O'Neil testified in the proceedings, brought on the ground of desertion.

"We had been married less than a year when he informed me that he didn't care to have any children," she testified at the hearing. "He said they were a great handicap."

That was after their marriage, in Spokane, Wash., in 1910, the wife testified.

Eleven years later, the two lived in Coraopolis. O'Neil had risen to the top of his firm, she testified, and had become prosperous.

AGREEMENT SIGNED

"One afternoon we went to see a new baby of a friend of ours, testified Mrs. O'Neil. "That evening we discussed the subject of children. I told him I thought our friends had the ideal American family of two children.

"He said, 'Well, I don't care to enter into this question. We might as well settle this matter now for all time. I want to retire at 45 and children will prevent my comfort."

The agreement to which the court objected was then drawn up and signed by both husband and wife, Mrs. O'Neil testified.

SUIT UNCONTESTED

They separated and she entered divorce proceedings shortly afterward but failed to press the suit until recently.

A letter written by O'Neil to his wife in April, 1926, stating that he was "going down hill fast" and urging her to obtain a divorce and remarry, was introduced in evidence.

O'Neil did not contest the proceedings.

Mrs. O'Neil at present is visiting in New York.

Disturbed at 3 A. M., Shoots Noise Maker

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Magistrate Doyle, of Long Island City, sympathizes with persons whose sleep is disturbed at 3 a. m., but he proposes to enforce the law. Awakened by the playing of a burdy gurdy George Hanse fired at James Tsaveras with an air rifle hitting his nose. Regretfully the magistrate held Hanse for trial, remarking that if every victim of noise grabbed a gun it would sound as if the war had started all over again.

BANK ROBBERS SENTENCED

YORK, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Harry Sprague and William Ralph Ward, each 23, of Baltimore, and John Messersmith, of York County, were sentenced to long terms in the Eastern penitentiary for the robbery of the Seven Valleys National Bank, near here, on December 10. After the three men pleaded guilty Judge Niles imposed sentence of not more than 20 years nor less than 10 years imprisonment, each to pay a fine of $100 and costs of prosecution.

Sprague and Ward also were found guilty of holding up a local restaurant on December 7, and for this offense the court imposed sentence of not more than five years nor less than two and one half years.

Messersmith also pleaded guilty to two charges of violating the liquor laws. He is an old offender along this line and had heretofore been shown mercy by the court. However, Judge Niles sentenced him to three years imprisonment in the county jail on each charge. The jail sentences are to run concurrently and to start at the expiration of the penitentiary sentence.

Helen Says Wedding Trip Was Gorgeous

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Frederick S. Moody, Jr., and his bride, the former Helen Wills, queen of the tennis courts, announced they would return to San Francisco by automobile today to take up residence in an apartment which has been furnished since they began their sea honeymooning, December 23.

"We've had a perfectly gorgeous time," Mrs. Moody said, to which her husband added, "But I must return to work." He is a stock broker.

Trooper Appeals For More Dead Bandits

READING, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—More dead bandits are one of the great needs of the times in Pennsylvania, Maj. Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of state police, told the Reading Company Club, made up of railroad men, at a meeting here last night.

"Criminals get long terms in the penitentiary and stay there until some welfare society finds they have dandruff. I say that in all seriousness, for prisoners have been released on more trivial excuses than that.

"Let's have a little more confidence in judges and less interference with their sentences."

State troopers are shot at by criminals every day, Maj. Adams said. "If our men weren't quicker with their guns than the criminals," Adams went on to say, "more of our men would be shot. We're getting a little soft in this country. What we need is more dead bandits."

$350,000 LEFT TWO WIDOWS

The profound affection and respect of two Pittsburgh district men for their wives was expressed in their wills filed for probate today.

John M. Siegel, of Etna, devised that his $150,000 estate be given to his wife, with the implicit instructions that she not be required to furnish bond. The estate goes to their children at her death.

NEW CHARGES IN BOMB SLAYING

SEAT PLEASANT, Md., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Two additional murder charges will be placed against Leroy Brady, 26, automobile mechanic, charged with sending the murder bomb which New Year's Day caused the death of Naomi Hall Brady, young bride of his brother, officials said. Brady already has been charged with the murder of the woman.

The new charges will cover the deaths of Samuel Hall, 19 months old, and Dorothy Hall, 4½ years old, brother and sister of the slain woman. They were mangled when the bomb, sent through the mails to the young bride, exploded as she was unwrapping it in her home. Both later died in Washington hospitals.

Brady was served with the murder charge at the Upper Marlboro Jail, where he has been held with his brother, Herman, husband of the dead woman. Herman will be released soon, officials said.

Detectives have disclosed they were working on a theory that the bomb plot involved a "distorted sense of family honor" and was designed to prevent general knowledge of the fact that Herman Brady's bride was soon to become a mother.

FOLSOM PRISON RIOTERS HANG

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Folsom's gallows swiftly took another double toll today as two more 1927 Thanksgiving-day rioters paid the extreme penalty.

Walter E. Burke and James Gregg were plunged through the trap within the walls where their shouts of mutiny once echoed.

Last Friday Tony Brown and Roy Stokes were executed.

SMOOT, AT 68, REVIEWS LIFE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Reed Smoot, of Utah, dean of Republicans in the Senate and indefatigable worker, celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday today with these words:

"I am drawing dividends on the life I have lived since boyhood.

"I've never, never drunk liquor in my life. I've never smoked. I've always eaten good, plain food and loved work. I never was lazy and never saw a time when I didn't have plenty to do.

"I've wronged nobody. I was fortunate in marrying as perfect a young woman as ever lived. My children have had a marvelous mother, a superb homemaker. Of all the blessings received by me she was the greatest."

Senator Smoot added the last with a touch of feeling.

His wife, who was Alpha May Endredge, died November 7, 1928. Harold and Ernest Smoot gave a luncheon at the Capitol on their father's birthday. Those attending included Vice President Curtis, Senators Watson, of Indiana; Harrison, of Mississippi; LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and Hawes, of Missouri; Ogden Mills, undersecretary of the treasury, and many others.

TENNIS PLAYER ASKS DIVORCE

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Ralph Powell, nationally known tennis player, has filed suit for divorce from Rosamund Gluck, niece of Mrs. Arthur Shoellkopf, of New York and Niagara Falls, heir to the Shoellkopf power millions.

The Powell-Gluc' romance developed during the war when Mrs. Shoellkopf said she saw in Powell a resemblance of her dead son.

She offered Powell the position of her private secretary, which he accepted promptly. While traveling with Mrs. Shoellkopf he became acquainted with her traveling companion, Miss Gluck, and both became infatuated with each other.

Although Mrs. Schoellkopf frowned upon their friendship, they were married in 1923. Both were discharged from their employment.

Powell in his bill charged cruelty and desertion. The bill said his wife has gone to live with her mother in Boston.

Powell is a real estate broker here.

JUNK DEALER DISCOVERS BODY

Believe Victim Was Killed Elsewhere and Taken to Philadelphia Back Yard

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Stuffed in a canvas sack, the body of a woman was found yesterday in the rear yard of a vacant house in Poplar street. Police said she had been murdered. There was a deep gash on her forehead and black and blue marks about her throat, indicating strangulation, authorities said.

There was no clue to her identity. Neighbors told the police the sack in which the body was found had been in the yard about a week.

SLAIN ELSEWHERE

Police are working on the theory that the woman was slain elsewhere and her body thrown into the yard from a street which runs back of the house.

The victim had been sewed into the sack after being wrapped in an old raincoat and gray blanket. The limbs were drawn tightly together, with the knees compressed against the abdomen.

Part of a newspaper dated December 27, 1929, inclosed in the sack, led police to believe the murder occurred recently.

Discovery of the body was made by a junk dealer who was pushing his cart up an alley in the rear of the Poplar street house.

BELIEVED WEALTHY

Police pinned their hopes of identifying the woman, who appeared to be about 35, on three gold teeth in her mouth. Detectives are visiting every dentist in the city with a description of the dental work.

The woman apparently came from a wealthy home, police say. Her hands bore no signs of toil.

At first the theory was advanced that the slain woman was Mrs. H. A. Buckley, wife of a prominent Lancaster and Reading merchant, who disappeared last month from a sanitarium near Easton.

Relatives of the missing woman living near Allentown, however, visited the morgue here and declared the body was not that of Mrs. Buckley.

HAGUE LEADERS END DISPUTE

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—A great forward step toward the successful culmination of the negotiations at The Hague reparations conference was taken today when, it was understood, French and German leaders met and reached an agreement on the question of sanctions, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague stated.

According to the dispatch, Foreign Minister Briand and Premier Tardieu conferred with Foreign Minister Curtius and Dr. Wirth this morning and finally arrived at a solution of the question which has proven one of the stumbling blocks of the conference.

MOTHER SLAIN, 2 MEN SHOT

TOLEDO, O., January 10.—(INS)—While a five-year-old boy lay asleep in an adjoining room, a woman was killed and two men were critically injured in a shooting here today.

The woman is Mrs. Mabel Follett, 32. Her husband, Kenneth R. Follett, 33, is reported dying, as is Fred Stall, said by police to be the gun-wielder.

The shooting took place in the Follett bedroom. Follett ran out of his home with a wound in his right temple. Before losing consciousness he gasped out the brief statement that Stall had entered their bedroom, shot and killed Mrs. Follett and then turned the gun on Follett and himself.

'Spirits' Fail in Mission, Alleged Medium Fined

Spirits of another world failed to work on Magistrate Thomas D. Jones, in Morals Court today, in the case of Mrs. Julia Johnston, 52, of 2651 Perrysville avenue, an alleged spiritualistic medium, who was fined $25 or 30 days in jail on a suspicious person charge.

Mrs. Johnston was arrested upon orders of Police Inspector Charles Faulkner, after Mrs. Anna Woodhall, of 3456 Gass avenue, complained to the Rev. S. C. Michelfelder, superintendent of the Lutheran Inter-Mission Society, that an alleged seance given her by the suspect caused her "great mental anguish."

Testimony brought out that on New Year's eve last, Mrs. Johnston advised Mrs. Woodhall, she said, that her husband was "running around" with an "auburn haired woman who had bleached her hair to the color of a blonde." Mr. Woodhall, the alleged medium told her, she said at Christmas had given the "blonde" a diamond ring and the year before money for a fur coat.

The suspect advised her to secure more support from the husband, Mrs. Woodhall testified.

Testifying in her own defense, Mrs. Johnston told Magistrate Jones she was not a medium but only gave advice to friends and never took money, and never told fortunes, but Mrs. Woodhall forced her to take $1 on the occasion of the seance, she stated.

"My business is to keep couples together and not to separate them," Mrs. Johnston told the court.

The Rev. Michelderfer, who was present at the hearing, denounces spiritualistic practices and said that within the past year three examples of "great mental anguish" had been brought through him to public attention.

Mrs. Johnston resides in a house owned by Former Police Magistrate Edward M. Hough, it was said. Her office is located on the Brighton road.

Boy Asks $10,000 For False Arrest

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—Charging that his arrest on a charge of breaking and entry and the theft of an automobile was malicious, Miller Godich, 17, of Hendersonville, through his mother, Mrs. Mary Godich, has entered suit against Stephen Kurevich, of Hendersonville, for damages in the sum of $10,000.

As the result of information made by Kurevich before Justice of the Peace T. M. Reese, Godich was held in jail for a few days awaiting a preliminary hearing at which he was discharged.

ATTACK ON U. S. DEFENSE ACT FOUGHT

By WILLIAM S. NEAL.
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Champions of a strong national defense were aroused today by suggestions of the House Appropriations Committee to abandon the national defense act plan of maintaining reserves for an army of 1,000,000 men and whittling down the regular army to reduce military expenditures.

These proposals, laid before Congress for consideration without definite recommendation by the committee, are declared to be the most sweeping proposed since President Hoover announced his program for reorganization of the Army to achieve economy.

CAUTION ADVISED

They would require revision of the national defense act of 1920, upon which the present national defense system is modeled. The plan calls for a regular army of but 125,000 men, with maintenance of a large reserve and war supplies and ammunition for a million men.

"This plan would change the whole national defense policy and ought not to be acted upon without serious consideration," said Representative J. Mayhew Wainwright (Rep.), of New York, member of the Military Affairs Committee and an ex-secretary of war.

"Our plans are based entirely upon the placing of an army on the field on short notice. We should be cautious before we do anything to weaken our national defense."

Representative Melvin J. Maas (Rep.), of Minnesota, member of the "soldiers' bloc," opposed the suggestions.

REAL FIGHT IN HOUSE

"Our national defense plan is based upon our minimum requirements and any reduction at all would destroy the whole plan," said Maas. "We might as well wipe out the army altogether.

"The idea of cutting the regular army is even worse. We barely have enough in the army now to train the civilian components, such as the National Guard, Reserve Corps and for training camps."

With the Appropriations Committee suggesting economy and the army supply bill for next year $455,000,000 larger than last year, the House faced a real fight over the question of army expenditures.

INFLUENCE ATTACKED

Representative Collins (Dem.), of Mississippi, minority leader on the Appropriations Committee, has charged these groups have developed into a great political organization with the object of getting appropriations and maintaining a big military machine.

At the same time another group is assailing the committee because it slashed $2,000,000 off the Budget Bureau's recommendations for Army housing.

UNIVERSITY SEX QUESTIONNAIRE UPHELD

Professors' Association Condemns Dismissal of Sponsors at Missouri

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.) — President Stratton Duluth Brooks and the board of curators of the University of Missouri have been severely censured by a special committee of the Association of University Professors as a result of the controversy over a sex questionnaire issued at that institution last year.

The censure, announced last night by the association, was returned after an investigation into the disciplining of two members of the university faculty "because of their sanction" of the questionaire circulated among students.

The association said the inquiry had been undertaken at the request of President Brooks, members of the faculty and students in the courses of Prof. Harmon O. Degraff, who was dismissed last April on account of the questionnaire. Prof. Max F. Meyer was suspended.

CALL OFFENSE TRIVIAL

The committee's conclusion, as revealed in a statement issued preliminary to publication in the February bulletin of the association, was:

"For the board of curators to decree the most severe punishment within its power, dismissal and suspension without pay, for this alleged 'offense,' (trivial, if any) is under the present circumstances a clear breach of the principles of freedom of teaching and research and security of tenure in the university."

Alluding to the actions against Degraff and Meyer as having been taken without notice to them "and without preferment of definite charges," the statement said the questionnaire had related to "the changing economic status of women, the sexual code and the moral ideas concerning the family."

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The statement:

"The charges made by the executive board of the curators against the professors were:

"That they (Meyer and Degraff) allowed a questionnaire to be circulated which tended to make students sexually immoral.

"That the questionnaire was shocking to students, especially to women students.

"There is little or no evidence that any student receiving the questionnaire was shocked or insulted by it. There is no evidence that the questionnaire led to sexual immorality or to decreased self-control in the matter of sex-behavior on the part of the students. Apparently, before the publicity, the questionnaire was taken by the students for what it purported to be, a scientific inquiry.

"Prof. De Graff testified that as a student adviser he had been frequently consulted by students about the very issues that are raised in this questionnaire concerning the sex code and the moral ideals that are also involved in engagement and marriage. The students testified that these problems of the sex code of morals, engagement and marriage are frequently discussed frankly, not only in the fraternity and sorority houses, but also by the girls with their boy friends."

CURATORS STAND BY ACT

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—James E. Goodrich, president of the board of curators of the University of Missouri, made public here last night a report in which the nine board members concurred, defending their action in the sex questionnaire controversy. He said:

"We sincerely feel that the action of the board in suspending Dr. Max F. Meyer, and dismissing Prof. M. O. DeGraff was justified by the impropriety of the questionnaire and the manner of its circulation, and in no sense constituted a violation of the principles of academic freedom.

"It is the view of the board that the circulation of this questionnaire was improper whether it was scientifically valid or not."

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

'CUSSING' ON AIR BRINGS QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Department of Justice agents are investigating the complaint of Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, that profanity is being used over Radio Station KWKH, owned and operated by W. K. Henderson, at Shreveport, Louisiana.

Acting upon a letter received from the Senator, Attorney General Mitchell ordered inquiry. He is prepared to refer the facts disclosed by the investigation to the district attorney in Louisiana.

Again complaining of the language sent over the country from this station, Senator Dill today demanded in the Senate that Henderson be arrested and prosecuted.

"I am concerned only that this gift of science shall not be used to befoul the air and make it impossible for women and children to listen in over the radio," he declared.

The Washington Senator emphasized that he was not interested in the merits of Henderson's attacks upon the chain stores and he did not want this issue confused with his demand that obscene language be discontinued.

Replying to Senator Walsh (Dem.), Montana, Senator Dill said the present law of which he is a co-author prohibited the use of profane language."

10,000 RALLY IN STRIKE

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Resenting the government's action in moving two trains of coal from Rothbury, ten thousand miners were massed today at various centers planning parades of protest. A detachment of 70 police was dispatched to Rothbury from Sydney.

President Hoare, of the Miners' Federation, hurried to the scene hoping to avert a collision. A crowd of four thousand miners surrounded Aston fields colliery, stripped two non-unionists, who recently gave evidence against a labor official, and burned their clothing.

Two detachments of miners, including 600 former soldiers, marched to Rothbury and assembled near the mines to hold a meeting.

The coal fields seethed with excitement and many centers bordered on a state of panic.

FREE 10 YEARS, DANZIG GLUM

DANZIG, Danzig Free State, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Today, the tenth anniversary of the "forcible" severance of Danzig from the German fatherland, was kept as a day of mourning by the overwhelmingly German population of the city. It was made occasion for patriotic addresses and articles in the press in which hopes of ultimate reunion were revived.

The papers recalled the declaration by Poland's first premier, Ignace Jan Paderewski, in 1918, that "Danzig's occupation will be Poland's aim." They emphasized that colonization of the Danzig port and railways was making continuous headway and that Danzig's financial affairs had become increasingly dependent upon Poland's overlordship, while competition of the new Polish port, Gynia, constituted a growing menace to Danzig prosperity.

Drug Store Magnate Fights Burglar, Hurt

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—A burglar last night invaded alone the Fifth avenue mansion of Dr. Nicholas Partos, millionaire head of a chain of drug stores. Partos discovered the masked intruder, who was armed with an iron bar, and leaped upon him.

The noise of the battle aroused five servants, and the burglar threw off the millionaire and fled. Dr. Partos today was being treated for severe wounds on his head and body, inflicted by the burglar.

MRS. MILLER RAPS W.C.T.U.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Mrs. Carroll Miller, of Pittsburgh, denounced the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in her speech last night at one of the largest Jackson Day dinners ever held here, declaring it "neither temperate nor Christian."

"In the last election," she told the assembled Democratic state leaders, "the bigots, hypocrites and bootleggers were too much for us. Never was there such a travesty on free government as in the election of 1928."

CRITICIZES MELLON

Mrs. Miller sharply criticized Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon for what she termed his "hypocrisy" in trying to enforce prohibition.

The political methods of the Republican party in Pennsylvania were denounced by Senator David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts. Declaring that there should be strict limitation of the use of money in campaigns, Senator Walsh affirmed that any man whose title was tainted should be expelled from office.

"The recent corruption in the Republican senatorial elections in Pennsylvania and Illinois show conclusively that when elections are bought they are in the interest of those who put up the campaign funds for such corruptions," Senator Walsh said.

FIGHT GRUNDY

State Chairman John R. Collins announced that plans had been made for a real fight against Senator Grundy.

"We intend," Collins said, "to show up the extravagance and the incapacity of the Republican administration as well as expose the reactionary record of Grundy.

"When Joseph R. Grundy is through with his fight for United States senator he will know he has been running for something more than a councilman in Bristol."

At a conference preceding the dinner it was understood that Sedgwick Kistler, Pennsylvania national committeeman, had been indorsed for the nomination for governor.

The conferees also were reported to have agreed upon E. J. Lynett, Scranton publisher, as the candidate for United States senator, but the latter's son, William R. Lynett, announced that under no condition would his father consent to become a candidate.

Convict Gets Away In Hail of Bullets

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Frank Hall, a convict serving a five-year term for burglary in Logan County, escaped from the State Penitentiary here today by scaling the prison wall. Prison guards fired at the fugitive, but they said he was not injured.

Mrs. Addie Wickham, living near the institution, saw the man going over the wall and sounded an alarm. Hall escaped from prison guards when being brought here in August, 1928, by leaping from a moving train. He was captured later at Indianapolis.

Dr. John Hatch Dies; Noted as Specialist

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Dr. John Leffingwell Hatch, 67, former chief lecturer on bacteriology at the University of Pennsylvania, died yesterday at his home. Dr. Hatch, a fellow of the Royal Medical Society of London, was professor of laryngology in the New York Clinical School of Medicine and a specialist of note. During the World War he was chief sanitary inspector for Antwerp, Belgium.

TANKER SINKS AFTER CRASH

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The oil tanker Sunbeam, operated by the Sun Oil Company, sank yesterday at the company's Delaware River pier here after having her forward hold damaged several hours earlier when she struck a submerged wreck in the river off Wilmington, Del.

The vessel went to the bottom an hour after making port under her own power. None of the crew was injured and all left the tanker before she went down. She was not completely submerged as the water at the pier is comparatively shallow.

Capt. H. B. Hedelund said the Sunbeam, from San Pedro, Cal., to Marcus Hook, freed herself from the submerged wreck off Wilmington after maneuvering for some time and proceeded to Marcus Hook with pumps working. After making port, however, the pumps were unable to keep ahead of the incoming water.

The Sunbeam struck the submerged U. S. Government dredge Manhattan, which was sunk about two months ago in a collision with the tanker Bessemer. The Sunbeam had a cargo of 90,000 gallons of gasoline, most of which was lost.

Wild Sea Batters Brittany After Earthquakes

BREST, France, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Extremely heavy seas washed the coast of Brittany last night from Brest to Lorient, the visitation coming in the wake of earthquakes which lasted from three to 16 seconds. The phenomena shook the morale of the population, inured though the people are to freaks of the ocean. What disturbed them was that there was no wind to account for the waves.

Many fishermen, recently returned from the Newfoundland Banks, where there were seismic disturbances a few months ago, averred that the Atlantic has "gone crazy."

No loss of life was reported from any place along the coast. Several houses collapsed when the earth quivered under the seismic shocks. Comparatively little damage was done by the waves.

EIELSON CLUE VERIFIED

By SAM McAULEY,
Member of Aviation Corporation's Eielson Relief Expedition.

NULATO, Alaska, Jan. 10.—The storm furies are holding the fliers to the ground, but the search for Carl Ben Eielson and the leader of the expedition that was searching for him, Pat Reid, continued by dog teams.

More dog teams started out from Unalakleet today and are coursing the fields in the direction of Ungalik and Inglutalik River, where Reid's plane was last sighted. This area is in the bleak wilderness around Norton Bay. A team already had started along the coast from that point to scout for the missing airmen.

Maj. H. C. Deckard, Pilot Matt Niemenen and myself had planned to fly across the mountains between here and the coast at daybreak to carry on the search. Last night weather conditions seemed favorable. We were greatly discouraged when we arose to find it blowing wildly and the visibility practically nil.

STORM BALKS START

Snow fell yesterday, but reports from Nome said the weather had moderated to such an extent it was raining there. Our hope and prayer is for a cold snap that will clear the atmosphere. That is the only practicable flying weather in winter in this far land.

Although no trace has yet been discovered of Pat and his two companions, James Hutchinson and William Hughes, we have by no means abandoned hope that they are safe. They may be at one of a number of cabins or at Eskimo villages that dot the region where they were last seen.

They took with them ample provisions, eiderdown sleeping robes and snow shoes for the entire party. Even though they found shelter at the cabin of some native, it would take several days to a week for them to get word to the outside world.

GET EIELSON CLUE

Meanwhile, reports arrived here from the motorship Nanuk, base of the Eielson search at North Cape, Siberia, describing the search being carried on by two dog teams over that bleak region. The teams are scouring the country about 50 miles inland.

Apparently a report that Eielson's plane passed over a native camp in that vicinity November 9, the day he disappeared, has been confirmed.

One of the dog teams, driven by a native, is still continuing the search. The other, driven by a Russian, returned to the Nanuk on account of stormy weather and lack of dog food.

We hope the planes there and our own can and will be able to get on the search very soon, but it is impossible to buck this Arctic weather.

RAILWAY SIGNS POWER PACT

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—A contract for power for electrification of suburban lines of the Reading Railroad has been signed by Agnew T. Dice, president of the company, and William H. Taylor, president of the Philadelphia Electic Company.

The contract will ultimately involve an expenditure of $1,500,000 annually and will be in effect 20 years, with an option on the Reading Company for an extension of 20 additional years. The power will be taken from the Conowingo hydro-electric generating staton on the Susquehanna river and also from Philadelphia electric steam generating stations. The railroad will begin taking power on May 31, 1931, two months before operation of the first Reading electric line between the Reading terminal and Lansdale.

Scotchman's Heir Pays for Will

LONDON.—An Aberdeen merchant called his son into his office the other day and unbosomed himself as follows:

"I haven't been feeling quite so well for a few days past, Weelum, and so I have just made my will, leaving everything to you."

"Oh, father," said the son, "I don't like to discuss these affairs with you at all. I hope you live for many years yet, I'm sure."

"So do I, Weelum; so do I, but I just called to tell you that the lawyer's fee for making out the will is 30 shillings, an' this sum will be kept off your next week's pay."

The Future Is Suggested in

New Frocks

From the Misses' Shop

Note the cape model pictured at the right . . . There is every indication now that cape styles will be awfully "good" next spring.

Green in all of its shades is more than hinted at as a fashion possibility for the approaching season, and so many of these dresses are in varying shades of that color.

That frocks for the afternoon shall differ in length and hem outline, from those for street wear, is an edict which will be very marked in spring fashions . . . These new frocks observe it, including both straight and uneven hemlines. Whether one is most concerned with the future or the present, this is an interesting group of frocks.

Modette Shoes

With the Youthful Lines and Bows Young Women Like

$7.50

Modette shoes, while they are designed expressly for the Junior-Miss, find wide popularity even with older women because their youthful modes succeed in being fashionable and graceful. Here are three of our Modette shoes at $7.50 that embody these points:

Top: A dull black kid step-in with a pert black bow drawn through its two eyelets.

Bottom: A brown pump with kid vamp and suede quarter; with walking heel.

New Sports Frocks

A Very Special Group for Saturday

$10.75

The Sportswear Shop knows that one just must have fresh new frocks at this time for skating parties, for trotteur wear about town, for school wear and business, and so this special selling was planned.

The frocks are all new, and the styles show it . . . Low-placed godets to effect the more subtle fullness of the latest models, belts at the well-fixed normal waistline, and the newest tricks in collars and vest effects.

They are a nice grade of wool jersey, in light, bright and medium shades, and of sportsy tweed-knit fabrics.

FAMILY SAVED FROM SNOW

STOCKTON, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Nightingale and their seven-year-old son, snowbound in the high Sierras at Niagara Creek since Saturday, are safe. This word was telephoned to Sonora by Fred Merma and Jasper Meull, who made their way to the snowbound cabin on snow shoes.

Merma and Meull arrived at the cabin Wednesday and found the Nightingales enjoying their dinner from food found cached in a nearby cabin. They were all in good condition, and returned with Merma and Meull to Cow Creek on skiis. It was at Cow Creek that Merma was first able to telephone the news of the rescue.

Rescue of the family ended a five-day search that called into play airplanes and the best ski men in the district.

Philadelphia Sad, Repeal of Blue Laws Urged

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Philadelphia is "too gloomy." Councilmen Morris Apt and Bernard Samuel declared in urging the repeal of the Blue laws of 1794 on the floor of city council.

Their demand for a originator town came during a discussion concerning the city's financial situation.

"Go over to Broad Street Station and see the trainloads of Philadelphians bound for New York every night," said Samuel, who is chairman of council finance committee. "You will see why Philadelphia is in the dumps. We must keep these people who want entertainment and the money they spend here."

Apt declared that one of the "crying" needs of the community was the repeal of the ancient Sunday laws.

Lusitania Survivor Shipwrecked Again

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. — The laird of the island of Pula, a professor of Greek art at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., is here after his second shipwreck. Ian B. Stoughton Holburn survived the torpedoing of the Lusitania and was 45 minutes in the water. His second wreck was near the island he inherited and he was in the water three hours.

Miss Lent.

The Twentieth Century Club presented Sylvia Lent, violinist, and Julius Huehn, baritone, in a recital yesterday afternoon. The program was made for our lighter emotions, and was pleasing from first to last.

J. Fred Lissfelt

The outstanding feature of Miss Lent's playing was an exceedingly sparkling tone, and a clarity that enlivened every phrase. Harmonics as pure as the coloratura, and which brought richest chords, abounded, and made us eager to hear her in greater works. Not the least gratifying was her lovely playing of the underlying classic melodies in Kreisler' arrangements.

Julius Huehn is the winner of sectional honors in the recent Atwater Kent radio contest. His voice is the outstanding baritone among singers in this neighborhood, and his musical nature has magnificent possibilities. As a recital singer he should go far, and his aria from Wagner's "Tannhauser" was a good prophecy of his chances for the opera.

Earl Mitchell played accompaniments.

Speed Negro's Trial On Murder Charge

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Alonzo Price, Negro, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murdering Reuben Heyman and criminally assaulting Mrs. Dorothy Burgess. Officials plan to bring him to a speedy trial. The murder and assault took place on the outskirts of the city several days ago.

HISTORY SOLD, PRINCE EXILED

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Department of the Interior announced that the notice of deportation had been formally given to Prince Antonio Aragon Cortes Pignatelli, accused of selling documents about the early conquest of Mexico. These documents, the government holds, should have been preserved for the nation.

The prince contends that the deportation order was due to a misunderstanding. He is trying to persuade President Portes Gil to intervene.

TWINS' 'ANGEL' QUITS ROLE

After a day in the spotlight of publicity, turned upon him with the finding of the Parkes twins in a South Neville street rooming house, Pat O'Brien, of 248 Meyron avenue, resolved today to "mind my own business."

"I haven't anything to say," he said. "How was I to know they were just kids who ran away from home? All I knew was that they were hungry and broke, and I tried to help them."

O'Brien returned home late yesterday after his fine of $25 was paid. The twins are to be placed in a boarding school and Anna Frederick, 21, in whose room the two girls were found, is being held by Morals Court authorities.

"I've had all the publicity I want," O'Brien said. "Too much. I'll think twice before I let my feelings get the better of my good judgment again.

"Fine reward I get for trying to help someone," he finished bitterly.

Annapolis Expels Another Married Midshipman

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—John H. Faunce, Philadephia, midshipman of the U. S Naval Academy, class of 1933, was dropped from the rolls because of his married state. Rules of the academy forbid married men to enter, or students to marry after admittance.

Faunce told academy officers he was ignorant of the rule when he entered last June. He said he had been married more than a year ago, but did not reveal the name of his wife.

Physicians said his case was developing into bronchial pneumonia.

HERO OF WAR TO GET D. S. C.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Harry W. Fanning, member of the House of Delegates from Baltimore, will receive the distinguished service cross which he won in France in 1918 at the annual reunion of the One Hundred and Seventeenth trench mortar battery of the Forty-second division to be held on the night of January 14 at the Southern Hotel.

Presentation of the medal will be made by Maj. Gen. Frederick W. Sladen, commander of the fifth corps area.

Fanning, a corporal in the trench mortar battery, threw himself upon a shell which had been fired, striking the parapet of the trench and falling back among American troops, pulling the fuse and rendering it harmless, he was decorated with the French Croix De Guerre given an American citation.

GIRL NIPS PLOT TO BLACKMAIL

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—A telephone operator frustrated an alleged blackmail plot to extort $8,000 from Otho H. Wathen, wealthy distiller, and caused the arrest of a white man, a Negro and a Negro woman.

The operator, warned by her superiors to keep track of all telephone calls to the Wathen home, intercepted one, traced the pay station from which it came and notified police. Officers made a hurried run to the pay station and arrested the Negro woman, who in turn implicated William Carroll, 35, white, and Robert Garrett, 20, Negro.

Wathen had reported to police that he had been warned by mail and telephone that failure to deliver $8,000 to the extortionists would result in injury to himself, his wife and two children. The first threat, an unsigned letter, was received at the Wathen home yesterday. It instructed Mrs. Wathen to deliver a package containing the money to a Negro man who would approach her in the interurban station and ask for change for a $5 bill. Officers laid a trap but the man did not appear.

The woman who called warned Mrs. Wathen to deliver the money to a man in a blue overcoat whom she would meet on a certain street corner in Jeffersonville.

Mr. Wathen is vice president of the American Medicinal Spirits Company, and a former owner of the Louisville American Association Club. He is owner of the most noted stables of Welsh ponies in America.

JUDGE SCORES BOOK DRIVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Judge Herbert Immenhausen, of Morals Court, ordered an investigation of the methods whereby the Illinois Vigilance Association secures the evidence upon which booksellers are being prosecuted in Chicago for selling what the association claims is obscene literature.

The investigation order was the climax of the trial of Miss Marion Mathes, 26, a saleslady in a local book store, arrested on a "John Doe" warrant. She was held in a police station cell several hours before securing her release, but the owner of the shop was not apprehended.

In his request for an investigation the court criticized that portion of the law which provides for half of the fine going to the organization which makes the complaint. Judge Immenhausen also suggested the state's attorney's office be more careful to see how evidence was obtained before prosecuting cases of this nature.

The Rev. Phillip Yarrow, of the Vigilance Association, objected to the judge's remarks and said that the association had been made the victim of unfavorable publicity.

It was charged in testimony at the trial of Miss Mathes that the agents of the association pursuaded the shopkeeper to order literature not in stock for the purpose of bringing about the arrest and collecting the fee.

ASKS U. S. SHIPS GET MAIL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Strict regulation of ocean mail contracts, with a definite ban against their being granted to foreign flag shipping lines, was proposed by representative Davis, of Tennessee, the ranking Democrat on the House Merchant Marine Committee.

Davis announced on the floor that he had introduced a bill to amend the merchant marine act to prohibit the postmaster general from granting any ocean mail-carrying contract to any person or concern in any way affiliated with any operator of ships flying foreign flags in competition with American vessels.

Davis said that some operators, who technically qualified as American citizens, were "strenuously seeking, and some have already received, substantial and valuable ocean mail contracts," yet operate most of their ships under foreign flags.

Representative Bacon, (Rep.) of New York, asked Davis to name some of the lines, and the Tennesseean replied that he could only recall the Munson steamship line and the International Mercantile Marine.

"Some such companies," Davis said, "do not operate ten per cent of their ships under the American flag."

1,000 TO HONOR WILLARD

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—More than 1,000 persons have accepted invitations to attend a testimonial dinner to be tendered Daniel Willard on the observance of his twentieth anniversary as president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, it was said at the office of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which is planning the affair. All of the labor organizations connected with the road will take part.

Sir Henry Thornton, director general of the Canadian National Railways, and Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, will be the principal speakers at the dinner, which is to mark Willard's contributions to the development of labor, the railroad and the welfare of the public during his term. Willard also will speak.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor; Governor Ritchie, and Mayor William F. Broening are other officials expected to attend.

Avers Crash Broke Teeth, Sues for $20,000

For several broken teeth sustained in a traffic collision, Frances Hedge, a minor, has filed suit through her mother, Bessie Hodge, against the Fletcher-Moore Hauling & Storage Company for $20,000 damages. Sarah K. Hedge has filed suit against the same company for $30,000 damages.

The accident occurred recently on the Lebanon Church road, near Bettis Field. The automobile in which both were guest passengers, came in collision with a trailer on a truck of the defendant company. Both plaintiffs allege they were badly hurt about the body.

AWARD WRIGHT AIR MEDAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Orville Wright, for the "design and construction, with his brother, the late Wilbur Wright, of the first successful engine-propelled airplane," will be the recipient of the first Guggenheim medal for notable achievement in the advancement of aeronautics, the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for Promotion of Aeronautics has announced.

The award will be presented on April 30, in connection with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, in Washington.

Theodore Spicer-Simpson designed the gold medal, which is simple in form, with the inscription "For Great Achievement in Aeronautics," surrounded by symbolic wings on one side and a plane flying in the clouds on the other. The background of the latter side was a balloon and the nose of a dirigible.

Alfred D. Flinn, secretary of the fund, in announcing the award, said it was the latest from "the world of science to a man who has been honored by the leading countries of the world."

Monongahela Ferry To Increase Rates

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—The Marchand Ferry Company, furnishing service between Coal Center, Washington County and Newell, Fayette County, has filed a new tariff with the public service commission, increasing rates effective February 1.

CHARTER ASKED BY RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Definite plans of the Pennsylvania Railroad to build a standard gauge line from Washington to Waynesburg, replacing the old narrow gauge, because known here with the serving of notices on county commissioners and township officials of the application for a charter for the new Waynesburg and Washington Railway Company.

The new company is capitalized at $500,000, 10,000 shares of $50 par value each, of which amount 2,800 shares have been subscribed. Officials of the Pennsylvania, incorporators of the new road, include A. J. County and Elisha Lee.

The road is to be built in a general southerly direction through Hackney into Waynesburg, and would pass through thousands of acres of virgin bituminous coal land. In Waynesburg it will join with the recently completed extension of the Monongahela Railway Company from Mather to Waynesburg.

Extension Granted Fayette City Bridge

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Allowance of an extension of time in which to erect the new bridge across the Monongahela River at Fayette City is provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate this week by Senator David A Reed, of Pennsylvania. A similar measure will be introduced in the House by Representative S. A. Kendall within the next few days.

Railroad Head Dies in Office

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 10.—James T. Robertson, general manager of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania railroad since 1911, died suddenly from apoplexy. He was stricken in his office. Mr. Robertson, who was 58, started in the service as messenger boy. He was active in Masonry. His wife and daughter survive.

Redistricting Body Plan Three Meetings

Three meetings of the redistricting commission will be held Wednesday night as follows: First Ward, Forbes School; Eleventh Ward, Peabody High School; Twenty-first Ward, Manchester School. Sub-committees will sit in hearing at all places beginning at 8 p. m. for suggestions in election district changes.

Auto Show Contest

$300 Cash Prizes—200 Show Tickets

(The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, co-operating with the Pittsburgh Automobile Dealers' Association, is donating these prizes for the best answers and slogans).

HERE is the Sun-Telegraph Automobile Puzzle Contest, based on passenger cars to be exhibited in the forthcoming annual Automobile Show to be held at Motor Square Garden, January 18 to 25, inclusive.

Three separate puzzle pictures, in each of which will be concealed the name of an automobile and in each of which the artist has made at least 10 errors will be published for 10 days in the daily and Sunday Sun-Telegraph.

Readers of the Sun-Telegraph are invited to find the names of the automobiles and five of the artists' 10 errors in each puzzle and send them to the Auto Show Contest Editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, 612 Grant street, together with a good slogan, descriptive of the Automobile Show. YOU MUST SEND ALL YOUR ANSWERS AT THE SAME TIME IN ONE ENVELOPE AT THE COMPLETION OF THE CONTEST. ACCURACY, NEATNESS AND CLEVERNESS OF SLOGAN WILL BE CONSIDERED IN AWARDING THE PRIZES.

Prizes totaling $300 in gold and 200 show tickets are to be awarded the winners in the contest. Be sure to put your name and address with the slogan at the top of the first page. Your name should appear on each page you send in.

The final pictures will be published January 16. All answers must be in the hands of the Auto Show Contest Editor no later than noon, Friday, January 17. The winners will be announced at the Automobile Show, Monday evening, January 20 and in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph on January 21.

At various times during the contest, the names of passenger cars to be exhibited at the show will be printed. From this list contestants are to pick the names of the cars.

CONTESTANTS ARE NOT TO SEND IN ANSWERS UNTIL THE FINAL PUZZLE PICTURES HAVE BEEN PRINTED. THEN SEND THEM IN ALL TOGETHER AT THE SAME TIME.

WRITE THE NAMES OF CARS ON SEPARATE SHEETS OF PAPER WITH THE MISTAKES OF EACH PICTURE IN THE ORDER IN WHICH THE PICTURES APPEARED.

Your slogan must accompany the answers. It may be either rhyme or prose and should be applicable to the Automobile Show. It must be short, snappy and clever. Remember it is an important factor in deciding the winners.

Any person is eligible to enter this contest, except employes of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph or members of their families.

LIST OF PRIZES

For the best list of correct auto names, discovered mistakes, and the cleverest slogan, the following prizes will be awarded:

First prize—$100 in gold.
Second prize—$50 in gold.
Third prize—$25 in gold.
Five prizes of $10 each, $50 in gold.
Fifteen prizes of $5 each, $75 in gold.
And 100 prizes of two tickets each, good any afternoon at the Auto Show.

In case of ties, equal prizes will be awarded the tying contestants.

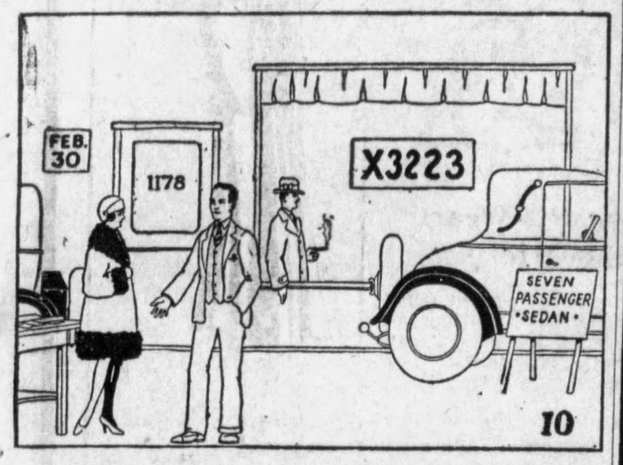
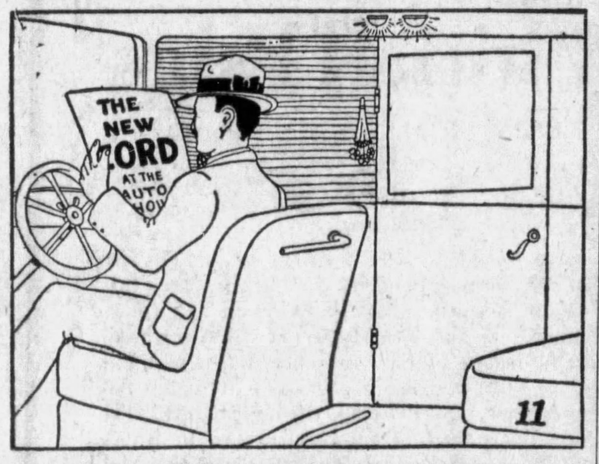
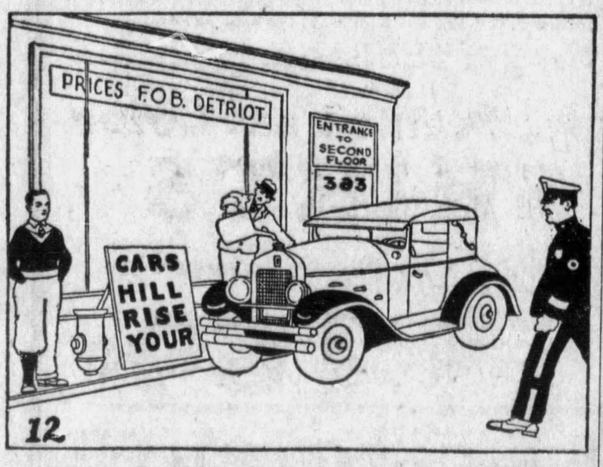
Auburn	La Salle
Blackhawk	Lincoln
Buick	Marmon
Cadillac	Marquette
Chevrolet	Nash
Chrysler	Oakland
Cord	Oldsmobile
Cunningham	Packard
De Soto	Peerless
Dodge	Pierce-Arrow
Duesenberg	Plymouth
Durant	Pontiac
Elcar	Reo
Erskine	Rolls-Royce
Essex	Roosevelt
Ford	Studebaker
Franklin	Stutz
Gardner	Viking
Graham	Whippet
Hudson	Willys-Knight
Hupmobile	Willys
Jordan



There are 10 mistakes in this picture that were planned and executed by the artist. Try to find five of them and enumerate them on your list. X3223 is a cryptic message on the sign in the window. Somehow it has a peculiar significance if you can figure it out. Perhaps it has something to do with the name of a make of automobile; for you must find the name of a car to complete puzzle.



This picture contains 10 mistakes that were purposely made. The object is to find five of these mistakes and list them. There may be others; but the correct list must include only five that were intentionally inserted. It is not difficult to guess the name of the make of car that is included in the puzzle. The name appears in the paper the man is reading. Include that name with the list of mistakes to make the puzzle complete.



What are the mistakes in this picture? If you can find five of them—the ones intended by the artist—your answer will be 100 per cent correct. That is, provided that you discover the name of a car also. There is a sign in the picture, which if studied carefully may give you the required name. It will appear quite obvious—once you find it—for the letter formation is regular.

Man Slashes Throat, Saved By Neighbor

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Paul Sholtis, 57, Vestaburg miner, yesterday slashed his throat in an attempt at suicide and staggered around his home for five hours, beating his fists against the walls, before a neighbor woman heard him.

He had become despondent over failing eyesight, he said. Physicians said he would recover.

Leg of Injured Patrolman Saved

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—T. B. Elder, 27, state highway patrolman, who is in the hospital here with a fracture of the leg received when his motorcycle was struck by an automobile driven by Edward O. Conway, of Pursglove, W. Va., last week, will not lose his leg. For a time it was feared amputation would be necessary.

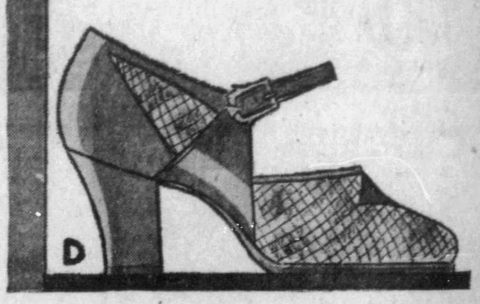
ALL SIZES
Widths AAA to C

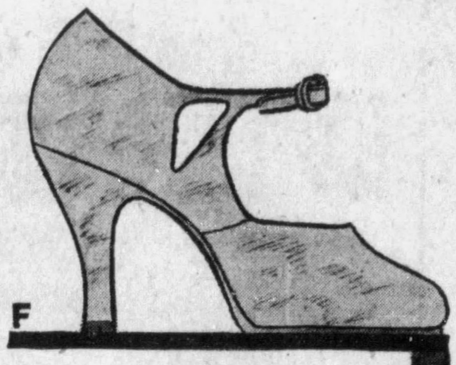
(A) Opera pump with rounded vamp. Trimmed with simulated lizard. Combinations of brown, green, blue, black, suntan and patent leather. Note the graceful line that the trimming takes . . . the not-to-high heel . . 5.00

(B) Three-eyelet tie, oxford style. Fashioned of simulated lizard—so it's particularly good for the tweeds you'll soon wear. The Cuban heel and the soft cream beige color are particularly good — and important! Priced 5.00

(C) Graceful opera pump in dull black kid or patent leather. Very good for the newer gowns. The vamp is longer and slightly narrower. The Louis heel is curved and slim. Designed for smart wear 5.00



(D) One-strap style—youthfully smart. The shoe sketched is suntan kid with angular inserts of simulated reptile in harmonizing color. The heel is a comfortable Cuban. The strap finishes with a metal buckle 5.00



(F) White moire strap slipper for formal afternoon wear or for evening. Have it tinted (without extra charge), to match your new gown. A tiny ornament of brilliants high on the instep. Rounded vamp for the youthful foot. Priced 5.00

(G) Step-in pump with youthful heel and youthful squared toe and heel. Patent leather or kid. Trimmed with silk kid and tiny bow. Made to fit snugly and make the foot look daintier. For your spring costumes. Priced 5.00

(E) Slim T-strap style—for the woman who wants that slender looking foot. Swirl trimming of simulated reptile and silk kid. In combinations of green, beige, and blue. For dressy daytime wear. And priced 5.00

(H) Step-in pump with junior Louis heel. Trimmed with bow at instep. In black patent and dull leather. Priced 5.00

(I) Opera pump with interestingly cut vamp. Trimming of silk kid. In new colors for spring. Priced 5.00

COOLIDGE SEES U. S. SAFE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Economic life in America has made astounding progress since the birth of the Republic and the causes have been the character of the people and the accumulation of capital, former President Calvin Coolidge said here last night. He spoke at the annual convention of the New York Life Insurance Company, and his address was carried by radio.

"In any estimate of the power of a country, we find the chief asset in spiritual values," he said. "Without them all else is vain. In this respect we are well equipped. The heart of the people is sound.

RAPS "CAMP FOLLOWERS"

"Civilization always has its camp followers. We are not without a fringe of idle, vicious, boisterous wastrels. But they are conspicuous chiefly by their contrast with the great body of sober, industrious, thrifty, intelligent, honest, God-fearing men and women of high courage and abiding faith, who make up the great body of our people.

"The material welfare of the country also depends upon the amount of capital it can command. It is not entirely the superiority of the American people that enables them to do about one-half the world's work; it is because each operator has great facilities, uses more improved machinery and is supplied with several times more horsepower than the workers in other countries."

Declaring that the rapid increase in accumulated capital is indicated in part by the records of banks and insurance companies, Mr. Coolidge said that in 1916 the deposits in savings banks were about four billions, in 1920, six and one-half billions, and at present ten and one-half billions.

FASCINATED BY PROGRESS

The total amount of insurance in force for the same dates, he added, was about fifteen and one-half billions, thirty-five and three-quarters billions, and one hundred and three billions.

"Nothing has been more fascinating than this economic development," said Mr. Coolidge. "Nothing more completely demonstrates the ability of the people under our system to take care of themselves. The advocates of defeat have often asserted that the only economic salvation lay in communism, but the independent spirit of the American has constantly replied that the individual is sovereign, that the private ownership of property is a sovereign right, and he is able to take care of his own destiny.

"While there are no accurate records," said Mr. Coolidge, "the first sources estimate our national wealth at from 300 to 350 billion dollars. Our income has increased from a little over sixty billions to more than ninety billions in the last 10 years."

Printing Craftsmen To Elect Jan. 21

Election of officers and appointment of district conference committees will be held January 21 at the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Club of Printing House Craftsmen in the Keystone Club. James M. Spence has been suggested for president while other nominations include: Vice presidents, Clarence Dahl and Anton Auth; treasurer, A. C. Gratz; recording secretary, E. J. Daugherty, and financial secretary, S. Roy McClelland.

Settlement to Stage 4-Act Fairy Tale

INDICT WOMAN IN FRAUD CASE

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Elmer S. Huckins, his wife, Amelia, and their son, George E. Huckins, have been charged with obtaining money under false pretense in indictments returned by the Linn County grand jury.

While the indictments against the father and son were similar to those contained in true bills filed several years ago by County Attorney Hendrickson, the indictment of Mrs. Huckins came as a surprise. Her name was not mentioned in previous charges, although she had been made defendant in two suits filed on behalf of four investors in the Huckins' 26 to 52 per cent dividend business, seeking recovery of $73,350.

The grand jury indictments came as the latest step in a long series of investigations into the Huckins' activities. The Federal government sought to indict them on charges of using the mails to defraud, but was unable to prove its case.

Stimson Parrot, 'Old Soak,' Goes To New Home

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—"Old Soak," the Stimson parrot brought to the United States from the Philippines when he cultivated home sickness for his master when Stimson became Secretary of State, has been taken to the Pan-American Union building for the period of the London Naval Conference.

"Old Soak," a white parrot of Chinese origin, will join two vari-colored macaws at its new home. It speaks Chinese and the two macaws speak mostly Spanish.

British Banks Join In Prosperity Plan

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The Daily Herald, newspaper organ of the Labor party, says that J. H. Thomas, Lord of the Privy Seal and minister of employment, has concluded an agreement with the Bank of England and five other financial institutions whereby liberal credits will be available for the stimulation of industry and consequent relief of unemployment.

Negotiations to this effect have been known for some time, but the Daily Herald says the agreement now is definite.

MILLS PLAN BIG EXPENDITURES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 10.—District steel makers will spend large sums for maintenance and construction this year. Newton Steel soon brings into operation new eight-mill plant at Monroe, Mich., with capacity of 20,000 tons of full finished sheets monthly. Carnegie Steel adds a 10-inch continuous bar and hoop mill at McDonald works. Republic Iron and Steel will complete new tube mills to produce steel pipe by electric welding process; will install mechanical tubing plant at Warren, Ohio, and remodel hot metal mixer for Bessemer plant at Youngstown.

Program of Youngstown Sheet and Tube includes: Remodeling and enlarging by-product coke works at Campbell plant; rebuilding "C" blast furnace in this battery; adding new galvanizing department for pipe mills.

At Brier Hill works, remodel sheet mills and install four continuous sheet furnaces. At Indiana Harbor, company has under construction 10-inch and 18-inch merchant bar mills; new 10-stand continuous billet mill and is enlarging benzol plant. Large sums will be spent, in addition, for rehabilitation.

Pennsylvania Doctors Amazed By Results From Powerful New Vitaminized FLAXOLYN

Dr. Eldridge, of Philadelphia, Declares That No Medicine in All His Years as a Physician Ever Gave the People as Much Benefit as the Brilliant Discovery of Dr. Luntz.

DR. THOMAS C. MARTINDALE (Ph. N. D.)

Health Leader Praises Flaxolyn for Tired, Run-Down Condition

"Flaxolyn works naturally upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels," says Thomas C. Martindale, celebrated Philadelphia dietitian. "As the director of the Martindale Health House, I have heard such glowing praise and have seen such vast improvements since my health-followers have taken the pleasant, new, vitaminized Flaxolyn, that I could hardly believe my eyes and ears in many cases.

"Really, there is nothing much more I can say about Herbal Flaxolyn. It is the best health preparation I could possibly recommend."

Dr. George C. Crandall

York, Pa., Health School Head Calls Flaxolyn "World's Best Health Formula"

Dr. George C. Crandall, whose remarkable health school in York, Pa., is talked about all over the state, is so well pleased with the results from Flaxolyn that he recommends it throughout his entire health institution.

If you can use added strength and energy, more restful sleep, sharper appetite and more vigorous all-around health, you certainly would do well to follow the example of this Pennsylvania institution which teaches people the greatest thing in life—how to live.

"Gas, Biliousness, Headaches, Back and Rheumatism Pains Gone!" Says Ardsley, Pa., Lady in Sincere Letter

What more eloquent proof of the merits of Flaxolyn can there possibly be than this simple honest letter of Mrs. A. Logue, of Ardsley, Pa.

"I had been in poor health for several years, suffering with bilious spells and finally rheumatism set in," writes Mrs. Logue. "At first the bilious attacks were one and two a month, but they kept getting closer until I had hardly gained strength from one attack until I was having another.

"I tried everything I was told would do me good. Many dollars I paid for prescriptions. But these medicines only helped me in the beginning. Then I would feel myself falling back and after taking the medicine for a time, it had no effect on me. I got tired and discouraged trying anything more, when I read a notice about Flaxolyn.

Big Improvements in Short Time

"It said Flaxolyn is not a drug but made from herbs, and I thought, well, everything I tried failed, but as I heard Dr. Martindale talk over the radio, I was anxious to give Flaxolyn a trial. That was over a year ago. IN A SHORT TIME I BEGAN TO SEE BIG IMPROVEMENTS. No more bilious spells, gas or headaches, and rheumatism pains almost gone. Flaxolyn has done a GREAT DEAL for me!"

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

It is absolutely guaranteed in writing that Flaxolyn will help in cases of general exhaustion, anemia, biliousness, sleeplessness, headaches, backaches, dizzy spells due to constipation gases—or druggists refund the purchase price.

Every reader of this paper who would like to feel better, eat better, sleep better and look better, can obtain a bottle of the wonderful new vitaminized herbal Flaxolyn on this liberal offer. If Flaxolyn does not bring satisfactory results by the sixth spoonful, you may bring back the partly used bottle and have the full purchase price refunded.

Flaxolyn contains nothing that can hurt you, and it may prove to be the means of bringing joy to your existence.

Don't wait. Start taking Flaxolyn. The pure harmless ingredients are printed right on the package. You will feel the tonic change at once. You will enjoy renewed vigor, a new and better grip on life.

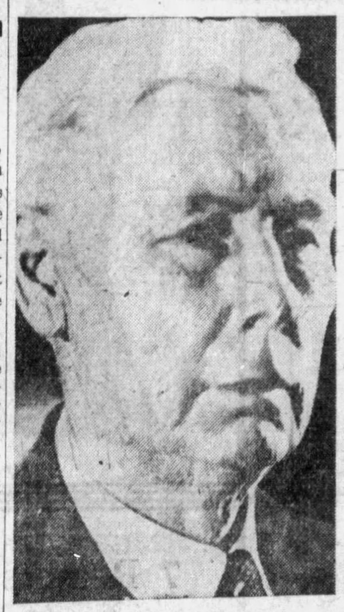
DR. THOMAS EDWIN ELDRIDGE (M. D.)

"Flaxolyn Feeds New Strength to Stomach and Nerves," Says Eminent Phila. Specialist

Forty years' experience in the treatment of organic blood and nervous diseases has convinced Dr. Eldridge that patients suffering from nervousness, loss of appetite, autointoxication, vertigo, or chronic constipation should quit the use of drastic drugs.

"I advise the use of new vitaminized Flaxolyn," says Dr. Eldridge, "because it is one of Nature's most valuable and efficient herb remedies, I find that it tones the vital organs while acting as a healthful sedative to the entire nervous system; and, what is best of all, it leaves no bad or distressing after-effects."

"Sleep Without Drugs" Says Pittsburgh Physician



Dr. C. A. Doak of Pittsburgh

"Flaxolyn Whips Vital Organs to Normal Action; Relieves Constipated Condition Naturally," Says Dr. Claude Anderson Doak.

Thousands of men and women here who formerly suffered nights of sleeplessness and days of agonizing stomach distress, now feel fit and get a keen pleasure out of life, since receiving the benefits of Dr. Luntz's Herbal Flaxolyn.

"I have used Flaxolyn for many years and am recommending it all the time to my patients and friends," writes Dr. Claude Anderson Doak, physician of Pittsburgh. "When taking Flaxolyn, after the first few spoonsful, the user begins to feel better at once.

"You note a condition of physical content as the formula whips the vital organs to more normal action. Flaxolyn acts upon the liver and intestines in such a way that the body is immediately benefited. The new vitaminized Flaxolyn is certainly a wonderful tonic."

Pittsburgh Man Makes Remarkable Statement

Was So Bloated Up With Gas; and So Generally Sick, He Could Hardly Endure Life; Now He Enjoys It.

Not being doctors, it is hard for some of us to tell just what it is that causes us to feel that our health is bad. Very often it is neglected condition of the entire system, especially the stomach, kidneys and bowels.

Sleep Was Broken Up

"This was probably my case," says Mr. Albert L. M. Wallace, 670 Princeton Boulevard, Pittsburgh. "For some time I have suffered from a kind of chronic constipation. It has caused me to bloat up something awful. Then again, I was disturbed during the night by a restless condition.

A Healthy Man Now

"But since I have taken Dr. Luntz's pleasant Flaxolyn, I feel so entirely different that there is no comparison between my health today and what it was just a little while ago.

There used to be times when I felt so "knocked out" that I could hardly do any work. But now I am always full of pep. I sleep fine, eat everything without any trouble—and if you know anybody who is like I was, you will be doing them a great big favor to urge them to try Flaxolyn. I will be glad to tell anybody personally, or in a letter, just how wonderful Flaxolyn really is."

"My Skin at Last Is Clear and Aglow With Health!"

Peggy Bolton, like many young Pittsburgh girls, had ambitions to get on the stage. Despite discouragements at first, she was determined to win out. Through hard work and perseverance Peggy finally got a part in the successful show "Rose Marie" by Oscar Hammerstein and Otto Harbach. She made good and now she's working her way to star parts.

Use of Flaxolyn Ends Paleness

What disheartened Miss Bolton most was the strain of rehearsing, acting and traveling. It had a telling effect upon her health. "I used to have to eat in a hurry, and work long, hard hours," she says. "People don't realize how difficult it is to win out in show business. Soon my condition began to show on my face, and I began to get worried.

"One of the matrons suggested I take Dr. Luntz's Flaxolyn to keep in condition. I did so, and now I never worry about myself. Flaxolyn keeps my skin clear from the inside—the best way after all."

WARNER HEADS AUTO SOCIETY

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Edward P. Warner, former assistant secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, last night was announced as new president of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Other officers, announced at the 1930 annual dinner of the society included seven vice-presidents: Chance M. Vought, New York; Bruce G. Leighton, Paterson, N. J.; O. D. Treiber, Camden, N. J.; Arthur J. Scaife, Cleveland, O.; George L. McCain, Detroit; John Younger, Columbus, O., and F. C. Horner, New York.

A plea for a "master plan" under Federal and State supervision, to increase the capacity of American highways, was made before the society by Col. Sydney D. Waldon, Detroit.

Super highways for arterial throughfares of 204 foot width and with a minimum width of 120 feet were recommended.

New members of the council who will serve for two years are Ralph R. Teetor, Hagerstown, Ind.; Frederick K. Glynn, New York, and Arthur W. S. Herrington, Washington.

Kills Bear After It Wounds Dog

KITZMILLER, Md., Jan. 10.—A bear weighing 350 pounds was killed in the woods on Stony River Dam, near the headwaters of the Potomac River by Emory Wolfe, of near Gormania. Wolfe wounded the bear, but it mutilated a dog belonging to Wolfe before he could get in a shot.

Fathers, Sons to Be Banquet Guests

The Brotherhood of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, of West View, will hold a father and son dinner January 20 in the Sunday school auditorium. H. H. Wilt, president, will preside. The principal speakers will be the Rev. G. E. Swoyer, of Mt. Zion Evangelical Church, Perrysville avenue, and Attorney John E. Winner. Officers for the current year will be elected.

OCEAN AIRPORT BEING BUILT

TERCEIRA ISLAND, Azores Archipelago, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Far out in the Atlantic Ocean, on the little island of Terceira, which is one of the Azores group, the Portuguese government is erecting the first international trans-oceanic airdrome in the world.

American and other airmen seeking to span the Atlantic or circumnavigate the globe by air will find on this rocky oasis on the Atlantic, a highly modern air base, equipped not only with the most approved form of slipways and hangars, but with spare parts and most skilled aviation mechanics ready to lend assistance in any direction.

Terceira Island is 3,250 miles from New York and 2,500 miles from Le Bourget, the great French aviation center.

This island on the Atlantic was chosen as a landing spot by Portuguese aviation experts because it is the most sheltered of all the numerous islands constituting the Azores Archipelago and is free from high winds and other atmospheric disturbances, which hinder an airman's path. Unlike most of the other islands in the Atlantic which are of volcanic origin and mountainous, Terceira possesses the unusual virtue of being flat and is covered with a smooth and luxuriant growth of grass.

It will require from 18 months to two years to complete the new air station. The government has already approved the necessary credits which are not to exceed $5,000,000. In taking this step, the Portuguese government has acknowledged that modern aviation, even with highly skilled pilots like Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and the most highly developed machines, is not altogether safe unless a series of floating airdromes such as those urged by noted American aviation experts and all along by Louis Bleriot, the first aviator to fly the British Channel, are established along the route of flight across the ocean.

It is believed by Portuguese aviation authorities that if such a landing point, as the Lisbon government is now establishing in the Azores, existed a few years ago, many of the airmen who lost their lives in attempting to bridge the Atlantic without a stop, might have been saved.

Convicts Eagerly Aid Snowbound Parole Board

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Never did convicts work harder or more willingly at the state penitentiary than yesterday.

A squad was released with snow shovels to dig a path for three miles down a hard road to enable the State Board of Pardon and Paroles to get into the penitentiary. The convicts thus hoped to impress the board favorably.

The automobile containing the board members became stuck in a snowdrift and broadcast calls for aid. The convicts were only too willing.

West View Church Plans Installation

Officers of the congregation of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West View, recently elected at the semi-annual meeting, will be installed Sunday morning with the pastor, the Rev. L. P. Spoehr, in charge.

SILVER TARIFF HIT IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The president of the National Chamber of Mining, Jenaro P. Garcia, said the proposal of certain Western senators of the United States for an import duty of 30 cents a troy ounce on silver, should not worry Mexicans. He said this country's silver market was principally with India, China and in Europe.

Poor economic conditions in China and the fact that India is retiring much of her silver money from circulation were given by Garcia as the chief causes of the present depression in bar silver. He said the condition of the metal market had created a serious situation in Mexico's silver mining industry.

It will be necessary, he added, to reduce operations in almost all silver mining districts of the country.

EVICTION ORDER CAUSES ROW

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Four Vestaburg persons were arrested following trouble at the mine barracks, when Louis Ziges, secretary of the Vestaburg Lions Club, informed the occupants of the building that the barracks would have to be vacated in the event rent is not paid.

Arraigned before a squire, Mrs. Rose Washington, Mrs. Mabel Culp and Mrs. John Molnar were charged with disorderly conduct, and Frank Krassie with assault. They were fined.

Ziges claimed that 100 men, women and children threatened him after he had told them the barracks had been given the Lions Club by the United Mine Workers of America in payment of back rent of $380 for use of the club's grounds.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians for 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade-Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

'PARROT FEVER' HITS HUMANS

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The death of a second parrot in a Baltimore pet shop is thought by health officials to have been caused by the rare "parrot fever," which came to the attention of authorities through the illness of three persons at Annapolis after the death of a parrot which they had bought at the Baltimore shop.

Health authorities continued their investigation of the case, as the three Annapolians were reported in an improved condition at the Emergency Hospital there. An employe of the pet shop also is ill, and the nature of the illness of all four is coming under the scrutiny of health officials.

Dr. C. Hampson Jones, Baltimore Health Department chief, said the only cases of disease he had ever known came from contact with infected parrots, but said that the fever might be contracted from contact between persons.

Mercer's Legion Will Give Play

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 10.—Mercer Post, American Legion, will present the musical comedy, "Parr," in the high school auditorium, January 30 and 31.

Excellent For Young Girls

Daughter of MRS. IVA PRYOR
R. No. 1, Parkersburg, W. Va.

"When my oldest girl was seventeen years old she was pale and weak. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began giving it to her. I thought it was good for girls in her condition and I found it was just what she needed for she began to gain weight and strength as it gave her an appetite. She goes to school and does some work at home too. I am giving it to my next oldest girl too and have taken it myself to build me up. I am going to give it to the rest of my girls as they get old enough. I am blessed with a nice big family—nine girls and two boys. I recommend this medicine to other mothers for their girls."—Mrs. Iva Pryor.

Daughter of
MRS. CATHERINE LAMUTH
Box 72, Mohawk, Michigan

"After my daughter grew into womanhood she began to feel rundown and weak and she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Herb Medicine. Her nerves are better, her appetite is good, she is in good spirits and able to work every day. We recommend the Vegetable Compound to other girls and to their mothers."—Mrs. Catherine Lamuth.

10,000 Bottles Sold every day

730 Burleigh Ave., Dayton, Ohio

"Three years ago my daughter Eugenia fell from a horse. She was then 14 years old and weighed 130 pounds. Her health failed and when she was 16 she weighed 85 pounds and she was so weak she could hardly walk. My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl so I have begun to give it to Eugenia. She is gaining in weight and is better of all her troubles. I work in a factory and she is now doing all the housework and is a different girl altogether. My relations and my neighbors as well as all the women of the factory are watching her case. I tell every one I meet about it. If my letter will be of any help, pass it on."—Mrs. John Weimer.

THUG, OFFICER SHOT IN DUEL

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Two men were wounded late yesterday in a gun duel in the heart of the Gold Coast hotel district.

Robert Joyce, who attempted to hold up a motorist at Oak street and Michigan boulevard, was wounded twice in the back in a battle with Policeman Clarence Binder, while the officer suffered a flesh wound in the arm. Joyce was captured due to the quick thinking of a taxi driver whose cab he had commandeered.

The policeman saw Joyce leap on the running board of an automobile that was stopped by traffic lights at the busy intersection. There followed a short pursuit and then a quick exchange of shots as both men emptied their gun chambers.

Joyce leaped into a taxicab and with his pistol at the driver's head, ordered him to drive. The chauffeur, James Ward, complied, but after he had driven several blocks he saw two policemen. Suddenly swerving into a snow drift, the driver slumped in his seat and yelled for help.

Joyce snapped his pistol at the officers but it didn't fire and he was arrested.

DROP IN SILVER PERILS CHINA

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The big decline in value of the Mexican silver dollar in China caused the suicide of Sze Chun-Yu, prominent business man and nephew of Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to England. Sze-Chun-Yu lost $200,000 in speculation in gold bars.

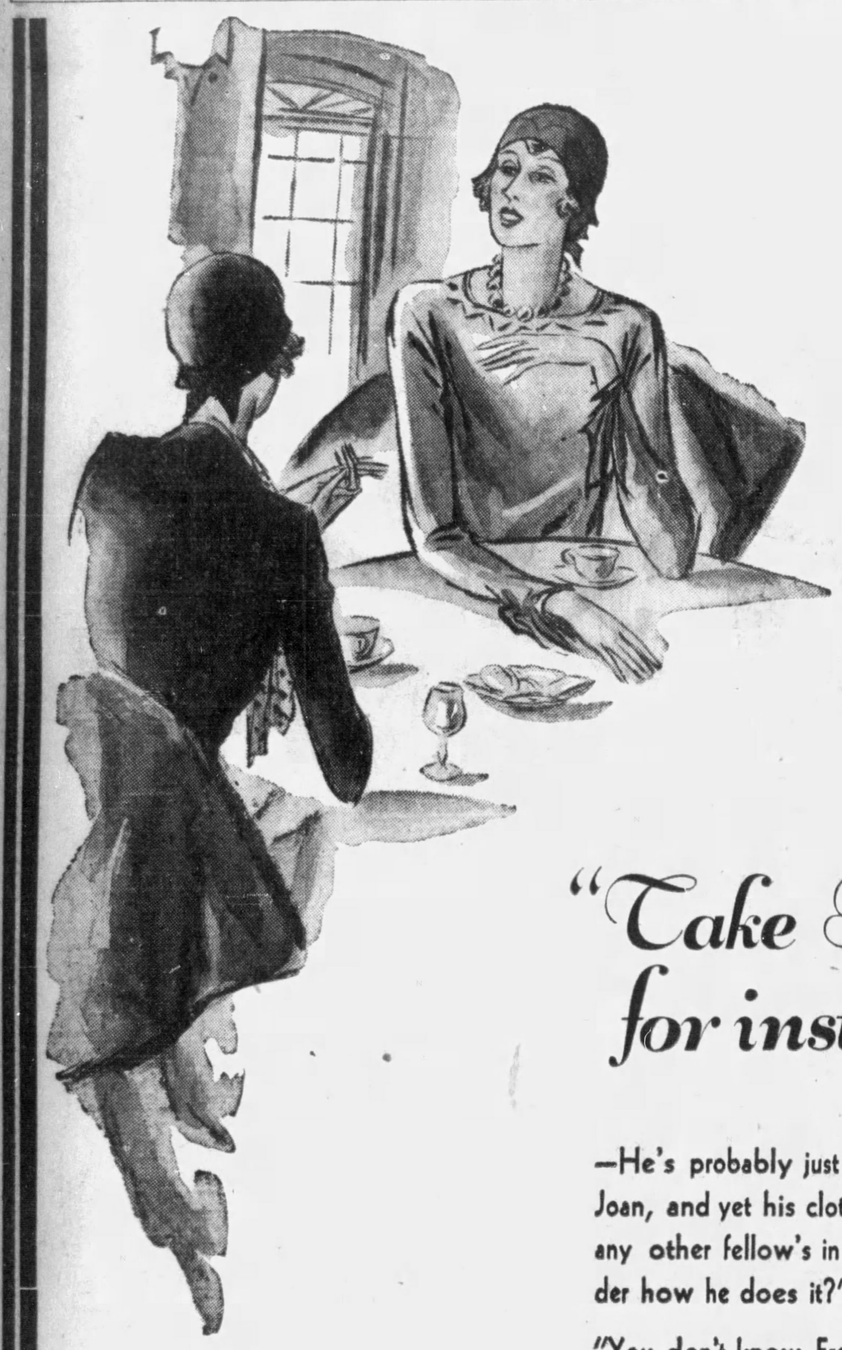
The Mexican silver dollar, used extensively in trade in China, was quoted yesterday at 34.5 cents gold, lowest ever reached in China. Its decline from 49 cents a year ago, has caused embarrassment to banks and business generally with rising prices of commodities. Some banks have failed and numerous business failures are predicted. Several importing firms advertised cancellation of their price lists today. Others advanced prices 15 to 25 per cent.

The Nationalist government, it is rumored, is considering the advisability of prohibiting further silver importations in an effort to halt the decline in silver value. Shanghai is said to have on hand 600,000,000 Mexican silver dollars with 200,000,000 additional due to arrive before the end of this month.

Years of civil war have made the farms non-productive, halting the movement of this huge sum to the interior and causing a large accumulation of goods in Shanghai.

Shoe Dealers Elect Philadelphia Man

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—A. H. Geuting, of Philadelphia, was re-elected president of the National Shoe Retailers' Association at the close of the annual convention here.



"Take Fred for instance—

—He's probably just getting a fair salary, Joan, and yet his clothes are smarter than any other fellow's in the crowd. I wonder how he does it?"

"You don't know Fred like I do, Carol. He's clever, that boy. Those clothes you admire so much are Fintex Clothes. Only twenty-three fifty—would you believe it? But he'll have to look to his laurels now. The other fellows have discovered Fintex too!"

Men are discovering Fintex Clothes every day, finding in them the clothing smartness and quality the well-dressed man demands regardless of cost. Only the planning and power of a great organization, with its own factory and stores, could make such a clothing character possible at $23.50

3 KILLED, 5 HURT IN GAS BLAST

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Three persons were killed and five injured, two seriously, in a gas explosion here last night which wrecked a double brick house on Canal street. An employe of a gas company who had been sent to the house to investigate reports of leaking gas, was missing, and firemen continued their search of the wreckage in the belief that he might have been caught in the blast.

The dead were Mrs. Leslie Harr, 47, her son, Robert Harr, 4, and Joseph Hawk, 50.

Earl Gadown, an employe of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, was missing.

The injured were Leslie Harr, 52, husband of Mrs. Harr; Ronald Harr, 6, another son; Mrs. Cora Welch, 43, a widow, her son, Francis, 11, and her daughter, Helen, 15.

The Harr family occupied one side of the house and the Welch family lived in the other. Hawk lived with the Welch family.

Earlier in the evening the two families had detected an odor of gas about the building and upon their report the company had sent Gadown to investigate.

Soon after the Harr family retired, the odor of gas filled the house, and Harr decided to take his family outside while he investigated. As he opened the door the explosion struck, and he was hurled 60 feet down an embankment to the tracks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The other members of the two families were buried in the wreckage. They were rescued by police and firemen.

A blacksmith shop, located next to the house, was damaged.

UTILITIES RADIO OUSTER SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, (Rep.-Ind.), said before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today that he was considering an amendment to the radio law to bar public utility stations from the air.

The announcement came during a discussion by Chairman Robinson, of the Radio Commission, of a recent court decision by which station WENR, of Chicago, operated by an Insull subsidiary, was permitted to share a cleared broadcasting channel with station WLS, also of Chicago, on a half-time basis.

Robinson was testifying on the Couzen's communication bill.

"Some of us believe," Brookhart said, "that public utilities have no business on the air. If we amend the law the court can't overrule the decision of the commission."

Amelia Earhart Safe In New Mexico Town

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Fear for the safety of Amelia Earhart, who took off here for New York in unfavorable weather, were allayed early today when aviation officials were informed that the trans-Atlantic aviatrix had landed her plane at Albuquerque, N. M., late yesterday.

Miss Earhart is scheduled to visit Pittsburgh next Monday and speak at the luncheon of the Hungry Club on "Commercial Aviation."

Special Delivery Apple Dealers Sought

Two "farmers from Butler County" are using unique methods to dispose of an apple crop to Squirrel Hill, Homewood and Wilkinsburg residents. Police are looking for them, but not to buy apples.

A dozen persons have reported to police that the men who declare themselves to be farmers have been exploiting them by leaving boxes of apples at their home as collect-on-delivery packages for next door neighbors. The delivery is always made while the neighbor to whom it is addressed is absent. The obliging person next door almost invariably pays the $3.75 asked by the "farmers" for the apples, which are really worth about a dollar.

DRIVER FREED IN AUTO DEATH

Roger Bissell, of Forest Hills, was acquitted by a jury in Criminal Court today on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas Hutchinson, 19, of 246 Halsey avenue, who died July 29 last in the Braddock General Hospital.

Hutchinson, according to testimony, was riding on the running board of Bissell's automobile on the Yost boulevard, July 29, when the machine collided with one driven by Frank Carritato, of Sharpsburg. He was thrown to the road and sustained a fractured skull. Hutchinson died a few hours later.

LAND PLEDGED IN CATTLE CASE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Charles C. Stark who, with Guy H. Thomas, has been charged with being a principal in the state's $129,584 cattle swindle, has conveyed to Assistant District Attorney E. Leroy Keen "in trust" all his real estate holdings comprising 19 properties.

Agreement to this effect has been reached between Deputy Attorney General Philip S. Moyer and Carl B. Shelley, Stark's attorney. Moyer also indicated that similar action will be taken by Thomas, and said the equities and balances from these properties will revert to the "ultimate loser in the expected suits for collection of the checks."

If the state is declared legally responsible for payment of the alleged fraudulent cattle claim vouchers, the money thus obtained will be turned into the state treasury. Otherwise the banks, if ruled liable for the amount of the checks, will receive the fund.

Use Brick to Smash Door, Rob Store Till

Breaking the window of a front door with a padded brick, a robber, during the night entered the United Cigar Store at Grant street and Sixth avenue, and stole about $25 from the cash register, it was reported to Detective Bureau. Teddy DeMinno, clerk, told police that he discovered the robbery when he opened the store this morning. The brick, which was found on the floor, was wrapped in newspapers. The safe, under the cash register, was not tampered with.

State and Navy Aids At Cabinet Meeting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Two new faces appeared today at the President's regular Cabinet meeting. Acting Secretary Cotton, of the State Department, occupied the seat of Secretary Stimson, and Acting Secretary Jahncke, of the Navy Department, was in the place usually occupied by Secretary Adams. Secretaries Stimson and Adams are en route to London to attend the disarmament conference.

R. T. Lilley Burial Set for Tomorrow

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Raleigh T. Lilley, secretary and treasurer of the Calvert Building and Trust Company, who committed suicide yesterday will be buried Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Lilley's body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found in the garage of his Jessups home by his chauffeur, a pistol lay nearby. Worry over ill health was given by the family as reason for his act.

$100 Fine or Jail For Raid Victim

Frank Tuleski, of 39 South Thirteenth street, was fined $100 with the alternative of spending 30 days in the workhouse by Magistrate John J. Sweeney, in South Side Police Court today following a raid at 6 St. Leo street, last night. Police testified they confiscated a still, moonshine and mash.

Bandit Robs Worker Of $11 on Street

Joseph Peterson, 17 Nieuport street, Castle Shannon, reported to police that he was held up while on his way to work and robbed of $11 by a Negro, who leaped from an automobile at South Twenty-first and Wharton streets, early today. The Negro fled with a companion in the car, Peterson said.

Homestead Officer Freed in Assault

Patrick H. Claherty, Homestead policeman, was acquitted of an assault and battery charge in Criminal Court today, brought by Floyd Teal, a Negro, of Homestead. The patrolman testified he had been compelled to hit Teal with a blackjack when he resisted arrest on a robbery charge last August.

BUS LINE PLANS CONTESTED

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 10.—At the hearing before the Public Service Commission in Pittsburgh on January 15, the Great Lakes Stages, Inc., will face opposition against granting of certificate to operate buses between Butler and Erie by the "extra-service" method.

Frank Alberti, owner of the Union City-Titusville line, will be one of those entering a protest. Companies operating buses between Oil City and Titusville, between Franklin and Oil City and between Franklin and Slippery Rock will also fight the proposed extension of service, which would pick up passengers at Titusville and carry them to Franklin, or between Oil City and Union City, both on the route of the Great Lakes Stages.

Active At 79, He Credits Cold Baths

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 10.—John T. Diefenbacher, an active volunteer fireman at 79, attributes his longevity to the habit he inaugurated at 20 of taking two cold baths a week.

Diefenbacher was one of the guests at a banquet given to city officials last night which was interrupted by three fire alarms. All firemen and police attending responded.

Graduate Agrees To Install Organ

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 10.—C. G. Williams, a graduate of the high school, has offered to bear the expense of installing a pipe organ in the school auditorium. The school board recently purchased a used organ, but did not have funds to repair and install it.

DRY LAW GAINS SEEN BY DORAN

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Dr. James M. Doran, United States prohibition commissioner, said yesterday that improvement in the prohibition enforcement situation in the Philadelphia district had been greater in the last three years than in any period since the enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Dr. Doran came here for a conference with Samuel C. Wynne, district prohibition commissioner.

He cited as an illustration of improvement in the district that the number of permits for alcohol withdrawal was about one-seventh of the number last year. Dr. Doran said his visit was not actuated by reports that night clubs here would open.

To show that enforcement officers were meeting with less opposition, Dr. Doran said that during last year, regardless of all other reports, there were but two killings due to prohibition agents in the entire country. Other killings, he declared, involved other officers of the law "who flew off the handle."

"Four years ago," he said, "there were 27 deaths attributed to prohibition agents and in the following year eight and then six, so the fact that there were but two last year clearly indicates they are meeting with success."

Glenn Frank Talks At Youngstown, O.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 10.—W. E. Bliss, vice president of the Standard Slag Company, will preside Sunday at the opening of the eleventh annual forum conducted by the Y. M. C. A. at the Stambaugh Memorial Auditorium. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, will be the speaker.

9 IN M'KEESPORT RUM CASE SENTENCED

SIDEWALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

A. D. Brandon, Former Magistrate, Morals Court.

Al:

YOU'RE becoming absent-minded, Al, in the prime of life. Yesterday you cleaned out your old office at Morals Court, didn't you? You emptied the desks of all your papers and you took those pictures from the walls.

You took that one that Eddie Guest autographed for you. And Judge Cohen's and Joe Mackrell's and Harry Little's and E. V. Babcock's and the one of you and Father Cox and the other one of you and your secretary, Pauline Rubin, which was taken when she was sworn in.

But, Al, you forgot to take that big framed picture which had the spot of honor right over your desk—you know, the one that Mayor Kline autographed for you. What's to be done with it? SIDEWALKS.

Sir: I am a young lad who has just purchased a derby outright. Should I or should I not wear glasses with it?
PAUL BOWER.

Your problem should have been addressed to the Derby Editor, but inasmuch as the Derby Editor is confined to his home with a cold in the head we shall try to set you right. Our advice is that you see an eye specialist.

WHEN employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad find things on trains they turn them in to the lost but found department. If the owners fail to appear for their belongings in six months, the old rule of "losers weepers, finders keepers" applies. The other day a veteran conductor found a set of beautiful furs. The furs will be his if the owner doesn't claim them. Thus do we have something to look forward to—the picture of a 67-year-old conductor strolling down Liberty avenue in furs on a warm June afternoon.

Two crooked rasslers were sent on an exhibition trip to the provinces with instructions from their manager to make things exciting. After the first match Igloff (for it was none other than Igloff) returned to the city alone.

"I'm through," he complained to the manager. "Vladimir (yes; it was Vladimir) and I was rassling around in the first match and

I was trying to give the customers some excitement.

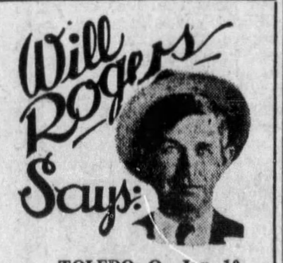
"He shoved an elbow in my face and I figured it would make some excitement if I bit the elbow. I did."

"Great!" the manager ejaculated. "Great!"

"No," Igloff announced. "It was my elbow."

Hays St. Closing Will Be Debated

East End residents and property holders, for or against the closing of Hays street to permit construction of an athletic field at Peabody High School, will be given an opportunity to air their views at a meeting in Walker Moore Inn, Collins avenue Tuesday noon. The meeting is the regular weekly luncheon of the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce, but invitations have been extended to all interested in the subject.



TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10

JUST passed through Chicago. It's not a boast, it's an achievement. That's a big city. It's growing by heaps and mounds. The snow was so deep the crooks could only hit a tall man. To try and diminish crime they laid off 600 cops.

Chicago has no tax money. All their influential men are engaged in tax-exempt occupations. What they got to do is to tax murder. Put such a stiff tax on it that only the higher class gangsters can afford it. It's the riffraff that makes any business disreputable.

Yours,
WILL.

Lovejoy, Lunching With Steve, Sees Husband

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Armed with happiness, love and youth, Tom Nicholson and Lovejoy Mason are married. Tom's salary is small. They take a tiny flat. To both marriage was a leap in the dark. For two years, before the marriage, Tom had been jealous of Steve Oglebay, rich and handsome bachelor.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER III.

LOVEJOY spent the whole morning of Christmas Eve downtown with Norrie Shane.

Norrie was a nurse who lived in the flat above Aunt Em's flat, and she and Lovejoy had been great friends ever since Lovejoy could remember.

Norrie shared the flat with three other nurses.

The three other nurses were trained ones, who wore white professional-looking uniforms and went out on all sorts of difficult and important cases.

But Norrie never finished her training at Mercy Hospital. She had taken some kind of a special course in caring for children, however, and she was what is known as "a trained child's nurse."

She was not the sort of girl who instantly attracts men. She was tall and slender, but she had very little grace and allure. There was nothing of the flirt and siren about her.

Her brown eyes were direct and keen. Her mouse-colored hair was brushed straight back into a flat coil at the back of her head. She had no beauty. None at all.

She was shopping on this cold clear morning for little presents for the crippled children at Mercy Hospital.

"I want to buy four presents. One of them is for you, and I don't want you to see it. So let's separate," said Lovejoy, when the two of them had reached the crowded downtown district.

She looked down at the little silver wrist watch that she wore. "It's eleven now," she added. "Let's meet each other at noon, and have lunch at Tingley's."

Tingley's was a tearoom at the corner of Fourth avenue and Jones street. It was a little place that made a specialty of salads and sandwiches, and it was very popular.

When Lovejoy opened its doors at ten minutes before twelve that morning she found it packed.

The air was stifling. The smell of chicken and ham and coffee fought with the smell of women's furs and perfumes, and with the sharp Christmassy fragrance of the pine boughs that covered the ceiling.

"Not much chance of getting waited on here," a voice said close to Lovejoy's ear. And swinging around, she found herself face to face with Steve Oglebay.

She was so surprised that she left one of her four packages fall. And even through its paper wrappings she could hear it smash as it struck the marble floor of the room. It was a china powder box she had just bought for Norrie.

Steve picked it up, feeling it with his fingers.

"It's broken — whatever it was," he said, his face very red, "and it's my fault. You'll have to let me buy you something else to take its place."

Lovejoy shook her head.

"No, indeed," she said firmly, and took the package from him.

It always is exciting for a woman to meet a man who is in love with her—even if she is a happily married woman.

And Lovejoy saw at one glance Steve Oglebay still was in love with her. He was smiling at her, but the smile stopped short before it reached his eyes.

"He still likes me," she said to herself with satisfaction.

She should have been sorry for him.

She should have been sorry that he could still bring back that look of hunger and longing into his face with its keen blue eyes, its blunt nose and tanned freckled skin.

But she wasn't sorry. She was glad.

It gave her a sense of power, too, to know that he still cared for her.

I can hold Tom certainly, if I'm attractive as this to a man that I don't care a snap about, was the swift thought that ran through her mind as she flashed a smile up into Steve's face.

He was drawing her aside from the crowd now. He wanted to talk to her.

"Let's get out into the air," he said to her.

And when they were outside the shop, he had another suggestion to make.

"Why don't we go up the street to the Seminole and have a bite of lunch?" he asked.

Lovejoy looked longingly past him at the roof of the big hotel, shining in the noonday brightness.

"All right, she said slowly. "But we'll have to wait until Norrie Shane comes along, and take her with us. I promised to have lunch with her."

But when Norrie came hurrying along, with packages under both her arms, she refused to have lunch at the Seminole Hotel.

She refused to have lunch anywhere with the two of them.

"No," she said solemnly, "I asked Lovejoy to have lunch with me here, and I think she ought to stay and have it here with me."

She knew, too, that the reason Norrie wouldn't have lunch at the Seminole with Steve was that she thought it wouldn't be proper.

Norrie was exactly the kind of girl who would think it immoral for a married woman to have anything at all to do with one of her former sweethearts. Norrie was prim and narrow-minded and too good to be true, almost.

"Well, I'd like to have lunch with Steve," Lovejoy declared stubbornly. "Come along, Norrie. There's no harm in it. If Tom knew about it—and he will—he'd think it was all right."

Norrie shook her plain brown head.

"No. You can count me out." And she turned on her flat common-sense heel, and in a flash had vanished behind the swinging doors of Tingley's tea-room.

There was a carpet as thick as moss on the dining-room floor of the Seminole Hotel.

Mirrors lined the room, and palms hid the orchestra, which was playing "Broadway Melody" when Lovejoy and Steve Oglebay sat down at a table in a corner overlooking Fourth avenue.

While Steve ordered the meal, Lovejoy's eyes, wide and bright and innocent as a child's, ran over the room with its well-dressed people, its snowy tables, its black-coated waiters.

Then suddenly they stopped, and a look of guilt and fright came into them.

In the farthest corner of the room, beyond the palms and the orchestra, sat Tom, her husband, and another man. Some client of his, no doubt. He had not yet seen her. She was sure of that.

EX-CHIEF OF POLICE GETS 18 MONTHS

Others Draw Stiff Terms for Part in Liquor Ring; New Trial Granted Freedman

Nine police officials and alleged bootleggers, convicted or confessed members of the McKeesport rum ring, were sentence to jail and penitentiary terms by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson today.

The stiffest sentences—18 months in the penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.—were meted out to John F. Brennan, former police chief of McKeesport, and Harry Uskovitz, convicted bootlegger.

OTHERS SENTENCED

The others sentenced were:

Charles L. Bergstedt, former police chief of Versailles; Leo P. Vennebush, motorcycle patrolman, Ben Frank and Martin Firestone, alleged bootleggers, all sentenced to one year and one day in the penitentiary; Albert Rasp, motorcycle patrolman, six months in the county jail; Adolph Markovitz, who pleaded guilty, four months in the county jail, and his brother, Meyer Markovitz, who also pleaded guilty, paroled for two years.

Before sentencing the defendants, Judge Gibson refused the seven who had not pleaded guilty, new trials.

TO TRY FRIEDMAN AGAIN

A new trial was granted Nathan Friedman, convicted as a bootlegger, and the court postponed action for two weeks on the application of Justice of the Peace Charles E. Reinhard, of Versailles Township.

The defendants were convicted of conspiring to sell, manufacture, possess and transport contraband liquor.

GOLDMAN HEADS CREDIT MEN

David H. Goldman, of the Rosa Goldman Company was elected treasurer of the Retail Credit Men's Association, by the directors of that organization, to succeed John R. Jackson deceased. Frank Armstrong, a former treasurer of the association who recently retired as treasurer, placed the name of Mr. Goldman in nomination, seconded by Col. Franklin Blackstone. The directors adopted a suitable minute regarding the death of Mr. Jackson and ordered it spread upon the minutes of the association and a copy sent to the family.

Single Tax Subject Of Luncheon Debate

Members of the Henry George Club will hear the strength and weakness of the single tax discussed at its luncheon today in the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. The speakers will be Dr. Colston E. Warne, of the University of Pittsburgh, and Ward Bonsall.

JUROR SERVES AS WITNESS

Being excused from jury service while she took the stand as prosecuting witness in a Criminal court trial, was the unusual experience of Mrs. Helen Krushaar, of Campbells Run road, Robinson Township. That she lost her case was aside from the unusualness of the incident.

Mrs. Krushaar had made an information against Albert J. Heinlein of near McKees Rocks for larceny, charging he took $70 from her home after being entertained there. The case was listed for trial the same week the woman was summoned for jury service. She called the attention of the district attorney to the case and it was arranged to select the jury from No. 2 panel to try the case. The woman was a member of No. 1 panel and was excused from service while her case was being tried before Judge Thomas J. Ford. The defendant was acquitted.

Magnetic Fan, Electric Ice Box Feature

A magnetically driven fan is one of the unique features of an electric refrigerator which the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company will place on the market on February 1.

The fan is inside a sealed case. The motor is outside. A revolving magnet on the motor attracts the fan and causes it to revolve. The new refrigerator will have a buffet top and legs high enough to permit the use of a broom under it, Carl D. Taylor, of the Westinghouse Company, announces.

LEG CRUSHED, $50,000 ASKED

John B. Smith, rigger, Homestead, has brought suit against the Allegheny and South Side Railroad Company for $50,000 damages for the loss of his right leg. The railroad is operated by the A. M. Byers Company.

Smith says that the railroad tracks are not inclosed and are constantly being used by employes. He sets forth in his bill of complaint filed in Common Pleas Court that in August last year, he was knocked down by a locomotive, of the company, without warning. The muscles and bones of his right leg were crushed, resulting in amputation of the leg above the knee. Attorney Dixon H. Geiser is his counsel.

Judge Carnahan Confined to Home

Judge Thomas D. Carnahan has been confined to his home for several weeks on account of illness. The condition of the veteran jurist of Common Pleas Court is reported as good.

PRISON PROXY CASE PUSHED

United States government agents today were continuing their investigation into the charges that a substitute is serving time in the Erie County jail for an alleged rum runner arrested on Lake Erie several months ago. Investigators promise that all persons implicated in any plot to dupe the government face arrest.

United States Attorney Louis E. Graham yesterday conferred with Federal Judge R. M. Gibson and the officials selected a course to follow in bringing conspirators to justice.

It is alleged by the government that Stanley Wells was the wealthy rum smuggler of Port Coburn who was arrested by prohibition agents. They also alleged that Joseph Jarvis, now in the Erie jail, substituted for Wells. Judge Gibson presided in court at the time Jarvis pleaded guilty.

2 Men Auto Victims Taken to Hospital

Charles Kraus, 45, of 1016 Gibbons street, and Ralph Evans, 46, of Reading, Pa., were in Mercy Hospital today suffering from injuries as the result of being hit by automobiles shortly after midnight. Kraus was run down at Forbes and Stevenson streets, while Evans was struck by a hit-run driver at Magee and Watson streets. Neither was seriously hurt.

Hike to Ben Avon Set for Sunday

Pittsburgh Hiking Club members will walk from Perrysville avenue and Bascom street to Ben Avon for Sunday's hike. F. T. Molk will be leader, the hikers boarding the Perrysville avenue street car from Penn avenue and Sixth street at 1:30 p. m. and alighting at Bascom street.

SEIZED LIQUOR IS NEAR BEER

What prohibition agents thought was illegal beer, found during a raid at 2214 Forbes street, proved on analysis to be nothing stronger than the near variety, government chemists announced today.

More than 30 gallons of the brew, found in the three-story brick building at the Forbes street address, was destroyed, however, they said, despite it was less than ½ of 1 per cent in alcoholic content. Prohibition agents stated near beer was required to be so-labeled by manufacturers and because this had not been done the stuff was destroyed. No one was in the building at the time.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: Plumbers and chauffeurs are licensed. Should not automobile mechanics and radio repairmen, who repair our expensive machines and complicated radios, also be compelled to have a license?

SOL SILVERMAN, East End, clerk: "Some should, some shouldn't. If a radio man or automobile repairman works for a reputable establishment the customer can be assured that he is capable. His employers will see to that. On the other hand, the private repairman, working for himself, should be required to prove in some manner that he can do his work well."

Sol Silverman

HAZEL WASHABAUGH, East End, stenographer: "What's the use of compelling radio and automobile mechanics to take out a license? When a person wants his automobile or radio repaired he naturally assumes that a mechanic is qualified to do the work satisfactorily. Even if they were licensed who would ask them to produce their credentials before beginning their job?"

H. Washabaugh

GEORGE ALCOTT, East End, salesman: "Offhand, I would say that they should. I have had a few unpleasant experiences with socalled radio repairmen — expensive experiences, too. These experiences have proven to me that many people are making money under false pretenses. The real automobile and radio repairman will not fear an examination for a license, but the pretender will be driven out of business."

George Alcott

MOE TYMANN, Downtown, store manager: Yes, they should. Many men who are repairing radios and automobiles are not qualified to do the work, and therefore, often do more harm than good. Who has to pay for the glaring errors of these workers. Nobody but the dear old public. A plumber's job is no more complicated, often not so much so, as a radio repairman's or an automobile mechanic's.

Moe Tymann

JULIA SUMMERS, West End, pianist: "In my opinion radio repairmen and automobile mechanics should be compelled to have a license and only be given them after passing an examination. There are too many men today setting themselves up as experts on radios and automobiles. The customer would have a greater feeling of security if he knew that his automobile or radio was being repaired by a man who knew his business.

Miss Summers

ANNE LISTON, East End, secretary: "No, I don't consider it necessary for such workmen to be licensed. If a man wants to practice a trade why compel him to go through a lot of red tape. You will find that the best worker usually gets the best business; while the poorer workman gets little work. I believe the problem, if any, takes care of itself. Let the public decide who is the competent man."

Divorce Serial Spurs Contest Entrants

Now that you have started reading Beatrice Burton's absorbing serial story "Lovejoy" in the Sun-Telegraph, you may be better qualified to answer the questions "How to hold your wife?" or "How to hold your husband?" The best letters, you know, on these questions will be awarded $250 in gold cash prizes.

Never before has there been a serial story that has created such immediate and widespread interest. All Pittsburgh seems to have been waiting for it. If you haven't commenced to read the story, it isn't too late. "Lovejoy" has just started and the synopsis preceding today's instalment tells you what has gone before. Pick it up today. It's a whale of a romance written around the problem of marriage and divorce, skillfully and adroitly moulded into a thrilling romance. It's a story of events that might happen in any home today.

The prizes in the letter writing contest will be divided as follows: For the women: First prize $50 in gold; second prize, $25 in gold; third prize, $10 in gold; next eight prizes, $5 in gold; next 50 prizes, two tickets each for the best attractions at the leading motion picture theaters in Pittsburgh. The same prizes will be given men contestants.

The above awards will be doubled for winners who have the Sun-Telegraph delivered to their home by carrier boys or get it by mail subscription.

The contest will end next Sunday. All letters must be in before Tuesday, January 14, addressed to Lovejoy Contest Editor, the Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

You don't have to wait until the end of the contest. You can submit your letter today—if you wish.

PLAN TO RAISE CHARGE HELD UNFAIR

Letters Protesting Increase On Short Haul Tariff To Be Sent Road Chiefs

A resolution protesting further increase in short haul rates which railroads have threatened in the iron and steel rate case now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been adopted by the directors of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. The resolution was adopted unanimously by the directors and at the same time the board branded further increases as unfair and inimical to Pittsburgh industries located outside the city.

The motion was introduced by L. C. Bihler, assistant to the president and general traffic manager of the Carnegie Steel Company. Bihler pointed out one case where an industry was located 15 miles outside the city and where the present rate was 73 cents a ton for raw material. If the rate increase were put into effect, the cost would be $1.70 a ton. It was decided to send letters to railroad executives, informing them of the sentiment of the directors.

The directors also adopted a resolution on the death of Joseph B. Shea, chairman of the board of directors of the Joseph Horne Company and a director of the chamber. President James Rae presided at the meeting.

Weather Conditions.

The rainstorm that persisted over the central valleys during the past three days moved out during yesterday and last night, and is now central over New Jersey. It is still cloudy everywhere east of the Mississippi, but the precipitation is about ended. There were light scattered snow or sleet storms over Ohio and Western Pennsylvania this morning. The Northwest high advanced to the upper Mississippi valley, and diminished considerably in intensity. The highest barometer reported is 30.84 inches at Port Arthur and White River. There was a considerable drop in temperature over the Ohio Valley states, and the lower Mississippi valley, while over the northern plains the temperatures are rising. There was also a decided rise in temperature over Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

River Conditions.

The Allegheny and the Ohio rivers are rising. The Monongahela is stationary or falling slowly. Stage at Franklin is 10.9 feet; Parkers Landing, 10.7; Lock No. 7, 12.9; Pittsburgh, 17.6; Dam No. 4, 16.0; Dam No. 6, 17.9; Dam No. 9, 16.8, and Dam No. 12, 14.0. The Ohio will continue to rise slowly. At Pittsburgh about 18.0 feet may be expected this afternoon. The rivers will fall Saturday.

THINKING IT OVER — By Hal Coffman

This picture is for married men only, and fortunately for not many of them.

Those to whom it applies will easily recognize it.

There is little to add to it by way of comment.

You will say, perhaps, that a man who neglects home, wife, child to run after a gold-digger is a crook. More likely he is merely a fool.

It takes brains to be a crook.

If he had brains he would see that these harmless flirtations, late dinners with the other woman, "evening work at the office," do not end harmlessly.

The gold-digger is the ONLY one that wins in this game.

WILBUR TO TALK CHILD CARE

The work of the White House conference on the care and protection of children will be discussed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the Interior in his address at the eighteenth annual meeting of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania in Carnegie Music Hall Tuesday night. The White House conference, recently appointed by President Hoover, is to hold sessions in the near future.

Dr. Charles H. Frazier, president of the association, who will introduce Dr. Wilbur, also will speak. Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., vice president, will preside. Dr. Wilbur will be entertained at a luncheon Tuesday in the Duquesne Club by Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Brandon Loses Job; To Give Lectures

Former Magistrate A. D. Brandon has been fired as the boss of Morals Court by Mayor Kline but he intends to capitalize on his experiences there.

Brandon announced today that he had signed with a lecture bureau to deliver addresses based on knowledge gained in Morals Court.

Foundling Home Reception Sunday

The annual reception and visitation day at Roselia Foundling Asylum and Maternity Hospital, Cliff and Manilla streets, will be observed Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock. The board of directors has issued invitations to all friends of the institution and their friends so that all interested in the institution can become acquainted with the work.

POSTPONE PLAY BY CHILDREN

The fourth of a series of children's plays to be presented by the Little Theater of Pittsburgh, which had been scheduled for tomorrow morning, has been postponed on account of the illness of Louis H. Abel, director of the children's productions.

The children's department of the Little Theater has announced that the first show for members in the South Hills district will be presented Friday night, January 21, at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium of the Hillsdale School.

The productions to be presented at this show will include "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," "The Toy Shop" and "Magic in the House." The program also will include the personal appearance of the Three Little Latens, Dorothy Wentzel and Victor Griffen and several other juvenile stars. This production is free to all members of the Little Theater of Pittsburgh.

CABBIES HERE GET PAY RAISE

An annual pay raise of more than $300,000 for the 1,400 drivers of the Yellow and Green Cab companies was announced today by the Parmelee Transportation Company, the controlling owner.

The increase, effective Sunday, is approximately 15 per cent and will not necessitate a higher cab rate, Walter Laird, president of Yellow Cab Company, assured.

The increase especially benefits new drivers. The present rate gives the new drivers $3 on the first $9, the new rate allows all drivers 37½ per cent.

The raise was made possible through savings effected by Parmelee management, Mr. Laird said.

Husband Gone 3 Years, Asks Divorce

For more than three years, pretty Mrs. Katherine Krecelich, 5522 Beacon street, has been endeavoring to find her husband, Thomas Krecelich, without success. This developed when she appeared before Judge A. B. Reid of Common Pleas Court and asked him to divorce her from Thomas Krecelich, whose last known address was 18 Caplan boulevard, Buffalo. Mrs. Krecelich, who says she was married in 1918, told Judge Reid her husband had deserted her in 1926, and search for him since that time had brought her no results.

COUNCIL TO PAY ROAD DAMAGE

Brentwood Borough Council signed an agreement last night whereby the County Commissioners agreed to pay damages which may be incurred in the construction of Sawmill Run boulevard through that borough. A. G. Kaufman, elected president of Council Monday night, presided.

New buildings exceeding $900,000 in value were erected during 1929, the annual report of the building inspector revealed. Most of the structures built during the year were residences.

Borough firemen answered 26 calls during the year. Valuation of the property endangered was $218,800, whereas the loss by fire was only $10,000, the report showed.

Mrs. A. G. H. Frazier Heads G.O.P. Women

Mrs. A. G. H. Frazier has been elected president of the Republican Women of Allegheny County it was announced today. The women, about 50 in number, all vice presidents in their respective districts, cast ballots at a meeting Wednesday in the Hotel Henry. Mrs. W. W. Robinson, Mrs. J. C. Hill, Mrs. Emma Madeira and Mrs. J. Serena were named vice presidents. Miss Anny Rebecca Beatty and Mrs. Anna Howe Schaefer were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

Fined for Molesting Girl, 7, in Theater

Louis Froebe, 35, of 304 Beltzhoover avenue, was fined $25 with the alternative of spending 30 days in jail by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court today on a charge of molesting a 7-year-old girl in a theater at 1217 Carson street yesterday.

RUSSIAN GEMS ON DISPLAY

MOSCOW, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—For better safe keeping Russia's $2,164,000,000 collection of crown jewels, probably the finest array of gems ever assembled, have been placed in a huge steel cage in the State Bank, in a great coffer resembling a steel-barred cell in an American prison.

The dazzling gems, which date from the time of the extravagant Catherine the Great to the last czar, are placed in plush-lined leather cases on long tables within the "cage," where they may be viewed by Americans and other foreign visitors.

ON VIEW TO VISITORS

Upon presentation of proper credentials visitors are admitted to the cage to see this extraordinary display of diamonds, rubies, pearls and emeralds, much the same as they would be allowed to see a prisoner in a cell. No object in Soviet Russia, except it be the body of Vladimir Llyitch Lenin, which lies in state in a wooden tomb in Red Square, attracts the attention and excites the curiosity of visitors quite so much as the crown jewels.

It is by no means easy to secure a permit to see this gorgeous assemblage, in the collection of which the emperors and empresses of Russia of centuries past, ransacked the diamond marts of two hemispheres. Special guards within the steel-barred jewel cage keep a vigilant eye on the precious treasure, which forms a part of the government's gold reserve for the issue of paper money.

The principal gem in the great collection is the magnificent crown worn by Catherine the Great at her coronation in 1762, which is valued by the Soviet government at $24,000,000. Eager to see how it feels to wear a royal crown, many American visitors to the State Bank have tried to put this crown on their heads, but were prevented by Soviet guards.

SOVIETS SEEK SALE

Other Americans have been attracted by the huge Orloff diamond, which is as big as a bisected egg, and weighs 196 carats. This stone was presented by Count Orloff, one of Catherine the Great's admirers, as a birthday remembrance to his sovereign.

Ever since the 1917 revolution the Soviet government has been trying to dispose of the crown jewels for cash, or to exchange them for tractors, locomotives or other pressingly-needed articles. As the government, however, has placed a high antiquarian valuation on the gems, very few foreigners have offered to buy any of them.

American experts who have examined the jewels declare the Soviet government never will succeed in selling the treasure on a basis of historic or antique valuation. They insist the fact the gems once belonged to the Russian royal family, who were murdered, and therefore have historic interest, only militates against their value, and that the only equitable valuation is one based upon the sheer weight of the jewels in carats, and appraised at current market prices.

SQUIRREL HILL VICTIM, HIT BY CAR, DIES

Two Men Hurt in Crash on Liberty Bridge; Woman Run Down on South Side

One woman was dead and two other persons were in a serious condition in hospitals today as a result of automobile accidents last night.

Mrs. Samuel Silverstein, 50, of 5710 Munhall road, died in Montefiore Hospital last night shortly after she was struck by an automobile at Beacon and Wightman streets. She suffered a broken neck. Robert Jennings, Negro, of Darlington road, alleged driver of the car, was arrested.

When an automobile in which they were riding crashed into the ironwork at the north end of the Liberty Bridge last night, J. A. Newhart, 45, of 1322 Juniata street, and Stanley Bubach, 51, of Edgebrook street, sustained lacerations and bruises, according to police. Both were taken to Mercy Hospital where Bubach's condition was regarded as serious. Newhart, owner of the car told police, they said, that Bubach was driving when the accident occurred.

Miss Angelina Milanovich, 28, of 2323 Jane street, South Side was in a critical condition in the South Side Hospital suffering injuries received when she was knocked down by an automobile at South Twenty-third and Carson streets, yesterday. Police arrested Robert Johnson, 43, of 1309 Locust street, McKeesport, as driver of the machine.

COMPENSATION CASES HEARD

Hearings on 78 cases from Western Pennsylvania were completed yesterday by the board of appeals of the state workmen's compensation fund. Decisions will be made later. The board met in the state offices in the Fulton building, with M. Houck, of Shenandoah, presiding.

Among the nine Allegheny County cases was that of the Edgewood Country Club, appealing from a decision in favor of James Currie, 17, of 1202 Electric avenue, who was injured while mowing the lawn in front of the clubhouse.

One of the most interesting of local cases was that of Jacob Schwerrer, of 1938 East street, who is appealing against a referee's decision awarding his brother, John Schwerrer, of 27 Strouse street, $112.50 and costs for a sprained back sustained in the former's icehouse.

Four Boys Arrested In Auto Theft Case

Arrested in Beaver Falls in an automobile which had been stolen in McKeesport, four McKeesport boys were scheduled to be arraigned in police court today before Magistrate R. C. Calhoun in McKeesport.

They were returned from Beaver Falls last night. The new teletype system being used by police throughout the state brought about the boys' arrest, police say. They are alleged to have stolen an automobile owned by Henry Flaster in Wilson avenue McKeesport.

Acid Burns Mouth, He Goes to Hospital

Stanley Sosnowski, 22, of 137 South Twenty-first street, was in South Side Hospital today as a result of an alleged attempt to end his life in his home last night. He suffered burns about the face and mouth when he drank acid, according to police. He faces a disorderly conduct charge upon his release.

Investigate Blaze At Bottling Plant

Aliquippa police and firemen today were investigating the cause of a fire which damaged the Star Bottling Works last night. The damage was slight, fire officials said.

is bound from Selfridge Field to Washington State as a test of flying in severe weather.

WAR PLANES ON WINTER TEST

SELFRIDGE FIELD, Mt. Clemens, Mich., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Taking off from the ice of Lake St. Clair, the Army's winter test flight, twice postponed because of weather conditions, got under way at 9:10 o'clock this morning on the first leg of a flight that will take the planes from Selfridge Field to Spokane, Wash., and return.

Headed by Maj. Ralph Royce, flight commander, 18 pursuit planes and one transport ship took off in rapid succession. Two other transports and the radio plane were delayed at the start. A coil on the radio plane was burned out and had to be replaced.

The takeoff presented a pretty picture. Shortly after 8 o'clock the 22 planes were moved several hundred feet off-shore onto the lake ice and the motors warmed up. A few minutes after 9 o'clock Maj. Royce took his place in the lead plane and took off. One after another the remaining transport machines followed him. The group circled the field getting into formation. Then, after swinging low over the heads of the crowd gathered on the shore of the lake, they turned northwest and the 3,700-mile flight to Spokane and return was under way.

ELECT BEATTY COUNCIL HEAD

G. C. Beatty was named president at the reorganization meeting of West Homestead Borough Council last night. N. J. Dean was named secretary, succeeding Charles Adams, and George Lloyd was re-elected treasurer.

B. D. Lindberg was named police chief, replacing R. E. Petty, who was demoted to patrolman. Capt. J. F. McGuckin was discharged and his office abolished. Patrolman Harold Russell was renamed and Patrolmen Joseph Lickenstein and John Miller were discharged. William O'Brien and Eugene Barrett being chosen in their stead.

Fred Knauber was elected street commissioner to succeed A. K. Bargman. Attorney G. L. McCleery was named solicitor, replacing Attorney G. Roy Keitzer.

Arrest 3 in Hall, Seize Movie Outfit

Police who raided Teutonia Hall, at 859 Phineas street, North Side, late last night, arrested two women and a man and confiscated a motion picture machine which they said was to be used in presenting an uncensored film. At North Side Station the prisoners said they were Margaret Price, 24, of Canton, O.; Elizabeth Dekas, 21, of Blair street, and Ben Snyder, 33, of 1814 Carson street. Snyder was charged with keeping a disorderly house and the women with being visitors.

CANAL HEARING OPENS JAN. 20

A hearing on the proposed canaliziation of the Youghiogheny River between McKeesport and Connellsville will be held in Pittsburgh January 20, it was reported yesterday by Congressman Samuel A. Kendall from his office in Washington. The hearing will be in the office of the United States Army engineer here.

Representatives of McKeesport, West Newton, Connellsville and other communities along the river will attend and are expected to protest against the adverse report recently submitted of a survey made. They are expected to give facts to substantiate claims that the improvement would be of great benefit.

Arrested as Peeper, Faces Police Quiz

Police of the East End Station today were investigating William G. Brown, 21, of 6975 Lemington avenue, arrested, they said, while peeping through a window in the first-floor apartment of Mrs. John H. Kunkle, of 5514 Center avenue.

Husband Refused Queries, Wife Asks Divorce

Her husband, Charles C. Decker told his wife "If you ask me another time where I have been I will leave," and now Mrs. Frances Decker, 6 Braddock avenue, is suing for divorce.

"I guess I might have been jealous" the fair libellant told Judge A. B. Reid, of Common Pleas Court, who heard the testimony. The couple were wed in 1921, Decker leaving her several years ago. Martin Croisant represented Mrs. Decker, who charges her husband with desertion.

Coroner's Jury Urges Elevator Safety Gates

Isaac Jones, 4, Negro, of 85 Sylvania avenue, came to his death accidentally in a fall down an elevator shaft in McCreery's store on December 14, a coroner's jury decided today. The same jury recommended that a city ordinance requiring special safety gates on elevator cages be enforced and a councilmanic resolution discontinuing such enforcement be abrogated.

HOLD 3 BANDIT SUSPECTS

Three men who late Wednesday are alleged to have attempted to hold up A. L. Frederick, employe of a Donahoe store, located at 416 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, were held for further investigation when arraigned before Magistrate Robert C. Calhoun, of McKeesport.

Two of the suspects, William P. Morris, 28, and Arthur Blair, 26, both of Elizabeth, were captured shortly after the attempted robbery by a posse of store employes. The third member, Daniel D. Black, 29, of Brownsville road, was arrested, police said, yesterday. Morris and Blair were caught and beaten after Frederick was said to have recognized them as the men who attempted to rob him while he was driving a truck in Foster road.

Frederick identified Black as the one who pointed a revolver when the bandit trio pulled abreast of his truck and ordered him to stop. The men were held in $1,500 bond each.

3 STILLS SEIZED IN DRY RAIDS

Owners of three moonshine plants were sought by prohibition agents today following raids last night in which the agents said they destroyed 6,250 gallons of mash.

A 150-gallon still, 1,550 gallons of mash and a small quantity of moonshine were found in a barn near the Thompson Run road, Shaler Township. Nobody was found in the place at the time.

In dwellings at 1408 Clark street, and 199 Mayflower street, the seizure of a 100-gallon still was reported in each. More than 1,800 gallons of mash in the Clark street residence, and 2,900 gallons of the same product in the latter house were destroyed by the raiders. The operators of the outfits were absent, the raiders reported.

Frank Radovich, 41, was arrested in a raid on a saloon at 121 Hawkins avenue, Rankin. Agents reported a small quantity of home brew was seized.

FATHERS, SONS TO BANQUET

William E. Thomas, of Oil City, a philosopher on every-day modern life, will be the principal speaker at the Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Fellowship Men's Class of the Mt. Lebanon Methodist Episcopal Church, in the church assembly rooms, Monday evening.

H. R. Lapham has been chosen toastmaster. The church male quartet, composed of Messrs. Stevens, Swearer, Wick and Culin, will sing several selections. William Flatley, of Brookline, will entertain with dialect renditions.

The entertainment committee has arranged for several other orators who will speak on the opportunities for promoting the progress and general welfare of "our" boys.

Dr. Curtis Lectures On Trip to Sumatra

Five hundred persons last night heard Dr. Heber D. Curtis, director of Allegheny Observatory, speak on "Around the World to Chase a Shadow." He spoke at Carnegie Museum in place of Andre Roosevelt, originally scheduled to speak, but who was unable to get to Pittsburgh. Dr. Curtis' address dealt with his expedition to Sumatra to observe the solar eclipse last May.

Chimes to Ring Forth Melodies of Foster

Melodies composed by Stephen Collins Foster, Pittsburgh composer, will be played Monday on the chimes of Calvary, Trinity and St. Stephen's Episcopal Churches, while civic and musical organizations observe the sixty-sixth anniversary of his death. Services are to be conducted at the Foster grave Monday afternoon by the Civic Club of Allegheny County.

The Rev. Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr will deliver the address at the Foster grave and a musical program will be presented by pupils from the Stephen C. Foster School under the direction of Miss Emma Hoerr. The Schenley High School Band also will play. A wreath will be placed on the grave by William B. Foster, V.

Monday night a program of Foster music will be presented in Carnegie Music Hall by the Tuesday Musical Club. In schools the children will sing Foster melodies and in the theaters the orchestras also will play Foster compositions.

Testimonial Dinner Given Traffic Men

Clarence L. Williams, who resigned the first of the year as Canadian Pacific Railway general agent in Pittsburgh, was honored last night at a testimonial dinner given by the Pittsburgh Steamship Club in the Fort Pitt Hotel. About 50 members of the club were present. Mr. Williams was presented with a gold watch and chain.

W. A. Shackelford who succeeds Mr. Williams, also was one of the honor guests last night. Plans are under way for another testimonial dinner for Mr. Williams, this to be given in Kaufmann's dining room Monday night by the Pittsburgh Passenger Club.

HUNDREDS VIEW ART EXHIBIT

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Hundreds of persons yesterday viewed the exhibit of 190 paintings comprising the foreign section of the Carnegie international exhibition, placed on public showing at the Municipal Museum of Art.

The paintings include the work of artists of 14 nations, with many of the most eminent painters included in their number. The nations represented are France, Great Britain, Italy, Spain, Poland, Germany, Russia, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Belgium, Norway, Sweden and Holland.

Among the paintings which fill six of the galleries on the main floor is "The Studio," the large canvas by Felice Carena, of Italy, which received first prize of the international display.

The exhibit will remain here through February 17, when it will be taken to St. Louis. Pittsburgh is the only other city which will have a chance to see the works of art.

Dog Rheumatic From Chasing Airplanes

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—A valuable coon dog owned by Delbert Corwin, a farmer residing near Waynesburg on the Waynesburg-Rogersville Pike, is reported suffering rheumatism from a fondness for chasing airplanes which pass over the Corwin farm.

The hound's splashing through swamps and streams in its futile pursuit of aerial prey is held responsible for its ailment.

ORTIZ RUBIO AT GRAND CANYON

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Scenic spots in the Grand Canyon country held the interest of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, president-elect of Mexico, who, with members of his family and official staff is resting here before returning to the southern republic.

Senor Ortiz Rubio yesterday declined to forecast definitely what his future movements would be, beyond the fact that he plans to return to Mexico without visiting the Pacific coast. The length of his stay here, the President-elect indicated, will depend in a large measure upon the health of his wife, whose condition, he said, had dictated cancellation of the remainder of his United States itinerary.

Gonzalo N. Santos, president of the permanent joint committee of Mexico's Congress, said in Los Angeles that his information was that the Ortiz Rubio party would go from Grand Canyon to Nogales, Sonora, via Prescott, Phoenix and Tucson, and thence to Mexico City by way of the Mexican west coast. Senor Santos plans to join the party at Tucson or Nogales.

Railroad officials said they had not been advised of Ortiz Rubio's plans to proceed directly South from the Grand Canyon, and as yet had received no cancellation order for passage of the President-elect's private car to the Pacific coast.

Raise Movie Plane, But Find No Bodies

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—After raising from the ocean bottom the wreckage of one of the two motion picture camera planes which collided and killed 10 persons a week ago, salvage tugs and Coast Guard cutters late yesterday were forced by a squall to discontinue search for the other. No additional bodies were found in the tangled mass brought to the surface.

SHOOTING PLOT LAID TO POLICE

DETROIT, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The Detroit News today said that an investigation carried on by high police officials into the shooting of Inspector Henry J. Garvin, head of the police crime and bomb squad, has brought out the charge that the attack was part of the plot of a jealous police inspector in the same department.

The newspaper said that Detective Adolph Van Coppenolle, of the blackhand squad, Wednesday accused one of the inspectors at police headquarters of having engineered a plot by gunmen to slay Inspector Garvin. Subsequently Coppenolle is said to have contradicted his story and charged that the whole affair was a plot on the part of Inspector Garvin to undermine the accused inspector in the eyes of his superiors.

Hand-in-hand with these two divergent accusations the newspaper story says that there is the charge of another plot—that of the accused inspector and another high official to "hush up" the whole affair by making promises of future favors based on assumed influence with Mayor-elect Charles Bowles, whose administration takes office next week.

Severe Cold Brings Deaths in China

PEIPING, China, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Parts of China are being swept by the severest cold in 60 years, with untold suffering and considerable loss of life resulting. The famine areas particularly have been hard hit.

The Vernacular Press today published dispatches from Suiyuan district in Northern Shansi estimating 15,000 aged undernourished adults and children were dead due to exposure. In the town of Fengchen 2,500 were frozen to death, in Sahsien 2,000 died, and in Pactowchen 300 were killed by the cold.

Beauty Conquers Napoleon.

The story of Napoleon's great love for the beautiful Polish girl, Marie Welewska, will be dramatized.

On New Year's day of 1807, Napoleon was leading his cavalry in triumph to Warsaw. Austria and Russia had been subdued and throughout Poland people swarmed to hail him as the mighty general who would save their country from Russia. As he passed through a little Polish town near Warsaw, a beautiful girl made her way through the crowds and cried "Let me pass! Let me see the great conquerer!" Napoleon glanced toward her and with a smile tossed to her the bouquet of roses he was carrying. Then she disappeared in the crowd.

This girl was Marie Welewska, wife of one of the wealthiest men in Poland. She so impressed Napoleon that when he reached Warsaw, he discovered her name and ordered her to appear at the court ball given in his honor. She refused to dance with him—in fact she seemed reluctant even to speak to him, and the conquerer was forced to plan a strategic campaign to win her love.

"Stronger Than Love."

The two tourists are welcomed to the Provincetown art colony in New England and it is from a Japanese painter that they hear an interesting story. He is in America in search of forgetfulness, making an effort to escape what seemed to be the wrath of untold generations of ancestors which enveloped him when he persuaded his wife to defy the code of her own people. The vivid dramatization of his story—titled "Stronger Than Love" carries the listeners from the blossom-scented mountains of Japan to the ancient cathedrals and the "Quarter Latin" of Paris.

Widow Uses Shotgun.

Making use of the hunting license which Louie stupidly obtained last week instead of the marriage license for the Widow Biddle and Gus, the wily lady obtains a shotgun to help her reluctant fiance to change his mind about the approaching state of matrimony. Only quick thinking saves Gus from facing the parson. He reminds the widow that a shotgun wedding will eliminate the presents they might get were they married in a more orthodox fashion.

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the periodic process peculiar to feminine nature. It does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drugstore has these harmless tablets isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in metal case.*

* Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Current Events in Hollywood and Local Amusement Notes

POLLY AND MARIE TO CO-STAR IN NEW COMEDY RUMPUS ON THE SCREEN

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 10.

POLLY MORAN and Marie Dressler begin work soon in a new double star yarn for M. G. M. This time they'll be rival boarding house keepers in New York. Polly invests on the stock market and cashes in. She advises Marie to do likewise. Which Marie does and loses the family shirt. Whereupon, the rumpus commences and continues until they get together drinking through the rye. No matter what flick those two are in, the nearest box office can have my money — both nickels.

Polly Moran

The local rainy season, in the event anyone is interested, has arrived. Late. But here. Subsequently, the danger local mortals ran of becoming parched mummies is ended for the nonce.

"Show of Shows" opened at the Warner Theater 'tother eve. It was raining hard, but the ermines showed. Spectators lined the sidewalks, only a few protected by umbrellas. A story went the rounds that Warners served the frozen ones hot coffee. You can take this either with sugar or salt.

Many Attend Movie Premiere

NICK STUART traipsed in with a chap, Mrs. Stuart (that may burn Sue Carol) was busy emoting cinematically and couldn't make the late curtain.

Nick Stuart

Elise Bartlett (Mrs. Joseph Schildkraut) came with Lionel Belmore. Elise confessed Lionel was her secret sorrow, but Mr. Belmore wouldn't commit himself. Lionel, by the way, has been an actor for many, many years. He played some 12 years with Sir Henry Irving and Ellen Terry. He appeared with Sir Henry in that star's last play in London. He likewise appeared with Sir Herbert Tree in his last play. He was a close friend of the three. Reminiscing about Ellen Terry, Mr. Belmore recalled that when she was dying, she ordered a paper posted on her gate and the words were quoted from a British poet. The gist of them was: "My friends, don't mourn me. Don't wear black for me. I am just going on a little ahead of you."

Slews of filmites at the "Show of Shows" premier, including: Alice White and Sid Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Z. Leonard (Gertrude Olmstead), Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mulhall, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fay (Barbara Stanwyck), Mr. and Mrs. Tay Garnett (Patsy Ruth Miller), Mr. and Mrs. Monte Blue, et al.

Bancroft Lead Is Mary Astor

JOHN FORD is credited with the claim that he knows a man so disagreeable that not even his food can get along with him.

Billie Dove

Billie Dove doesn't accept the statement that matrimony and career can never merge happily. It just so happens that when she separated from her director-husband, Irvin Willat, shortly before the holidays, the separation was final. Mr. Willat is in the East, but may return to Hollywood.

Next week sees Mary Astor take her makeup case over to the Famous lot and begin work as George Bancroft's lead in "Women Love Beasts." The picture has been in production a little over a week, but as it happened Mary wasn't in the first few sequences. Miss Astor's many friends will be happy to know that she has stood up beautifully during the tragic days following the loss of her husband, Kenneth Hawks, in an airplane accident near Santa Monica.

Anita Stewart is braving the "mike" tomorrow eve at 9:30. She'll sing over something. As us bridge sharks say: "Anita, don't finesse your high C's."

And—that's all.

Sunny Side

Lilies Sprout, Roses Bud in Waynesburg

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—Unseasonably warm weather during the past few days has resulted in early lilies breaking through the ground, while numerous rose bushes are reported budding.

A maximum unofficial temperature of 75 degrees was recorded on Wednesday.

COHAN DRAMA TO BE HERE JAN. 20

Seats will go on sale at the Nixon box office Monday for the engagement of George M. Cohan's new play "Gambling," which will open January 20. Mr. Cohan will appear personally, along with other members of the original cast, in the production. His new play, "Sporting Blood," also will be offered at three special matinees during the week of January 20 and seats for these performances also will go on sale Monday.

Thurston, magician, will continue to baffle audiences in the Alvin next week, concluding his engagement Saturday night, January 18. This year the magician has laid a great part of the burden of the performance on the shoulders of his charming daughter, Jane, who also sings and dances. Seats are now on sale for all remaining performances.

"The Nut Farm" will be next week's presentation of the George Sharp Players in the Pitt.

Gen. Tang's Armies In Honan Surrender

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The Nationalist government announced that the revolt of Gen. Tang Seng-Chi's armies in Honan province had ended with the surrender of the mutineers. The surrender followed the capture of 10,000 of the rebels Tuesday. The government states it had agreed to allow Tang Seng-Chi to go to Japan "for study." It is understood that the government is supplying Tang with 50,000 Mexican dollars (about $17,500 gold) for expenses.

Bottled Water Sold For 'Real Stuff'

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Folks probably will be more suspicious now of sudden delivery of "real stuff" just off a ship. Edward Sonin and Albert Glasser are under arrest. Their game, say investigators, was to go to friends of some one who had just gone abroad, present a forged radiogram arranging for completion of a deal or something such, whisper that liquor was meant, collect in advance, then send a case of water.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Mary Carter To Marry In East

ALTHOUGH snow, and raindrops, one is forced to add, are falling through the air these January days instead of rose petals, as in the month of June, there's something very bridal about the early days of the first month of the year.

Pittsburgh society folks are going east and west for weddings, and staying right here at home for others. Tomorrow one of Pittsburgh's former daughters, Mary Elizabeth Carter, daughter of Mrs. Charles Gibbs Carter, formerly of Pittsburgh, now of Park avenue, New York, will marry Charles Graydon Poore, son of Mrs. Charles Graydon Poore, of Minneapolis, formerly of Monterey, Mexico. I heard a few days ago.

The wedding will be held in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church at 4 o'clock, with the Rev. Dr. Norwood officiating, before members of the two families. And a reception in the Carter's Park avenue home will follow.

Mary will have no attendants, and John Davenport will be best man. Frank Russell, Alfred Ferguson and Owald Lord, all of New York, will be ushers.

HAVE you heard yet that Mrs. Roy Arthur Hunt has been elected to membership in the American Civic Association? Membership is based on outstanding civic achievements. And as you've probably guessed Mrs. Hunt's leading work has been the promotion of home gardens and horticulture. She's president of the Garden Club of Allegheny County, a member of the Civic Club of Pittsburgh, and of the Garden Club of America.

VIRGINIA WRIGHT, a debutante of the season, is among those who'll attend the Sheldon-Horne tomorrow in St. Louis. And Stockton Gaines, and Richard Egan will also be there. Elinor Munroe, daughter of the James D. Munroes, who'll be one of the bridesmaids, will return from St. Louis on Monday, after being a guest at the Sheldon home since New Year's.

SARAH CAMPBELL PATTON, who's the daughter of Mrs. Frank Benett Patton, became the bride of Roland Miner Kenah, son of the Roland Lewis Kenahs, of New Brighton, last evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Patton home. The Rev. H. H. Forsyth, of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Hugh McElveen Patton, wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory mousseline, with a deep bertha and cuffs of rose point lace. Her veil of tulle was held by a tiara of exquisite rose point and her Colonial bouquet was of lilies of the valley, bordering a center of white bovardia. Her maid of honor was Margaret Gnade, of Oil City, and she wore a gown of blue-green satin and carried butterfly roses. The bridesmaids, Margaret Hagan, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Ralph Edwin Reed, of East Orange, N. J., wore peach panne satin and carried Talisman roses.

Henry Kenah, of New Brighton, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Frank McCallum and Lawrence Snyder, of Pittsburgh.

And after the ceremony there was a reception at which the bride's mother and the Roland Kenahs received with the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Patton wore Patou blue velvet with a corsage of orchids, and Mrs. Kenah wore a gown of dahlia velvet and orchids.

The Roland Miner Kenahs left later for Havana, and after February 1 will make their home in Pittsburgh.

NANCY HUME JAMES, daughter of Mrs. Frederick C. Baird, of Fifth avenue, will entertain Mary Finley, of Cleveland, over the week-end, and Kasper Schmidt, of Chicago, who will arrive tomorrow afternoon by 'plane, will be her guest, too.

Miss James will honor them with a dinner tomorrow evening in her home.

A GROUP of society women will give their patronage to the bridge St. Agnes' Guild of Emmanuel Church will give on Monday afternoon, January 20, from 1:30 to 5 o'clock in Oppenheim-Collins auditorium.

Mrs. Robert C. Craig, Mrs. James R. Dodworth, Miss Alive Tindle Duff, Mrs. Edmund W. Mudge, Mrs. O. . Nicola, Mrs. L. K. Speer, Mr William Thaw, Jr., Mrs. Woodward W. Williams and Mrs. Arthur Ramsdell, president of the Guild, will be the patronesses.

MRS. MARGARET GALLAHER, of Third street, Aspinwall, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Ina Alice Gallaher, to Mansel Kevert Mellott, of Rippey street.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT M. HOLBERG, of Bartlett street, announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Rosylind G. Appell, to Emanuel Eber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Eber, of New Brunswick, N. J.

* * *

MRS. R. W. WILLIAMS, of Perrysville avenue, entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday in her home.

MRS. GEORGE W. RYAN, of the East End, announces the marriage of her sister, Miss Emma Anna Yaley, to Edward Sherman Pruner, of Grove City, which took place January 4. Mr. and Mrs. Pruner will reside in Grove City.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE FOR WOMEN will give a dinner of 110 covers tonight in Woodland Hall, in honor of the critic teachers in the public schools, and the college seniors who are doing practice teaching with them. Miss Cora Helen Coolidge will be hostess.

After dinner a program of music will be given by Miss Amelia Lockard, vocalist; Miss Marion Haines and Miss Elizabeth Palen, pianists.

MRS. THOMAS E. RENTON, Sr., of Knoxville, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Theodore Scott Renton, to William M. Freese, of Los Angeles, on January 4.

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS JACOB, of Carrick, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Anna Jacob, to Theodore Proeser, of Koenigswinter, Germany. Miss Jacob will sail for Germany on March 6.

THE Jefferson Club for Women will hold a card party in McCreery's dining room on Saturday from 2 to 3 o'clock.

PRINS FEATURED ON LATEST HATS

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Jan. 10. Brimful of chic are the new little hats, which is just to tell you that most of the hats display brims. These are mostly of the turn-back variety, but the brim is very distinctly present even if it is restricted. Many there are who believe that mushrooms will be on the sartorial menu for spring, and that the cloche will again ring the bell. It has been found that the brim is most desirable as an ally in creating individualized millinery, for it can be so manipulated that even the least expensive hat takes on the contour and cut of a costly and specially designed model.

All of which augurs well for our hats and our happiness next spring. That it will be a straw season, there is no doubt and the new weaves already shown or discussed offer a bewildering variety of names and classifications. But whatever the names, stiff straws are out, for they must be capable of being manipulated and draped, if they are to find favor with the mode of today.

FOR the present, small hats of felt or satin are liked, hats that nestle cosily inside large and imposing fur collars, but are very smart despite their partial concealment. Black is of course predominent, but lately some red has been seen, although it is predicted that greens and blues will emerge as leading spring millinery colors, principally in the pastel shades, though a great color range will be offered. Black with bright touches will be seen, too.

ILLUSTRATIVE of the winters hat are the two models shown here. The first is fresh from the workrooms of Agnes, and is of reversible felt, one side beige, the other brick-red. The latter shade makes the crown, while the brim, turning back from the face and long at the sides, exposes the beige felt. The large bag of pin-seal with an interesting handle of nickle and polished grained wood, is from Patou.

* * *

Marie-Alphonsine makes the draped toque of black satin, the turned back brim looped up at the left side and hanging in two long pointed ends on the other shoulder. The clasp at one side of the brim is of brilliants.

Silk Factory Plans Increasing Output

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Increased business has made necessary expansion of the plant of the Connellsville Silk Company and contract for construction of a storeroom which will permit use of additional space in the factory has been awarded. When the work is completed and new machinery installed, 50 more persons will be put on the payroll.

Stanley Boekhaut is superintendent of the plant, which now employs nearly 200 men and women.

New Men's Styles To Set Off Chassis

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The style committee of the International Association of Clothing Designers today decided the following new clothing styles for men: Coats—Broad-shouldered and trimmed short to accentuate whatever breadth there may be in the wearer's chassis. Trousers—Snug at the top to emphasize slimness of waist and tapering to the ankle.

Tin Hat Inventor Dies in England

BOURNEMOUTH, England, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The inventor of the tin hat is dead. Alfred Bates, manufacturer, devised the steel helmet when casualties from shrapnel were heavy, and he probably save millions of lives. Mementoes of him are in many a home in Great Britain and the United States.

Charleroi Doctor Medico President

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 10.—Dr. H. J. Repman, of Charleroi, was elected president of the Washington County Medical Society. Others chosen were: Vice presidents, Dr. F. I. Patterson, Washington, and Dr. Edwin McKay, Charleroi; secretary-treasurer, Dr. C. C. Cracraft, Claysville.

Novena Arranged at Old St. Patrick's

Father Le Blanc, priest in charge of the Shrine of Good Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Canada, will open a novena in honor of the Mother of Mary Immaculate at Old St. Patrick's Church next Wednesday. Services will be held daily until January 24.

New York Rabbi to Talk Before Sisterhood Of Rodef Shalom

THE Rev. Dr. Nathan Krass, rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, New York City, will be the principal speaker Thursday at the annual reciprocity day of Rodef Shalom Sisterhood. His subject will be "Will Science Supplant Religion?"

Dr. Krass is known as a central figure in some of the pressing religious questions of the day. As scholar and philosopher, he has appeared before many intellectual societies, discussing principally topics pertaining to Biblical and post-Biblical literature. He has founded a forum for young men and women of all creeds in one of the most congested districts of New York City, where large audiences are always in attendance.

TWENTY-FIVE new members were received by the Civic Club of Wilkinsburg at its meeting and reception yesterday in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel. Mrs. Horace Daugherty read a paper on "Pennsylvania Folk Lore," following which a playlet entitled "Their First Quarrel" was presented by Anna B. Grimmes and Earl Emerson Williams. The music was furnished by Mrs. Wallace Bishop, who sang a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Bertha Gross King, musical director of the club.

At the conclusion of the program tea was served by the social aides, Mrs. Edwin Pitzer, chairman, Mrs. J. D. Crawford, vice chairman, and others of the membership committee, assisted by Mrs. Harry Schuler, chairman of the social committee.

THE fourth annual group meeting of the Women's Welsh Clubs of Pittsburgh, Homestead, McKeesport, Carnegie and New Kensington, will be held at the Fort Pitt Hotel on Thursday, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. The luncheon will be at 12:30, with Mrs. A. C. Vaughan, of Lakewood, O., president of the Women's Welsh Clubs of America, as honor guest. Miss Elvira Bleadinghiser, president of the Pittsburgh Club, will preside at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Music for the luncheon will be furnished by Miss Evelyn Mae Williams and a chorus from the combined clubs, with Miss Jane Davies at the piano. Mrs. Vaughan is to be honor guest at a dinner which the Homestead and McKeesport clubs will give Wednesday night at the hotel.

ETA CHAPTER of Delta Phi Epsilon, national social sorority at the University of Pittsburgh, will hold its third annual benefit scholarship bridge on Sunday afternoon, January 19, in the Hotel Schenley. Each year a scholarship is awarded to a junior girl who has shown promise in activities and scholarship.

Miss Bessie Sachs, general chairman of the affair, is being assisted by Miss Rose Middleman, in charge of the entertainment; Miss Frances Bram, in charge of the prizes, and Miss Jeannette Marx, alumnae chairman.

PRECEDING the program hour at tomorrow's meeting of the American Association of University Women, in the Woman's City Club, Miss Elizbeth Lee will conduct the usual round table on international relations. At 3 o'clock, Ruth Crawford Mitchell, lecturer in sociology at the University of Pittsburgh, will discuss "The United States, the Mecca of Foreign Students." The Institute of International Education has just published a pamphlet called "Foreign Students Under the Immigration Law" prepared by Mrs. Mitchell, who is a recognized authority on the subject she presents. At 4 o'clock there will be the usual social hour, with Mrs. F. B. Chalfant at the tea table.

THE child study department of the Dormont Mothers' Club will meet in the home of Mrs. J. E. Crawford, Parker drive, Tuesday evening, to hear Miss Elna Smitten speak on "Emergencies in the Home." Mrs. S. M. Spence will be soloist. Mrs. Arthur Gale, president of the club, has returned to her home after having spent several weeks in Richmond, Va.

AN open forum book review under the leadership of Mrs. Roy Musselman, was held by the Woman's Club of Rosslyn Farms, yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. J. Moore. Each member represented a book and roll call was answered by naming a favorite book of the year. Mrs. C. G. Thornburg gave two reviews, "The Father," and "The Lantern in her Hand." John Galsworthy's life was sketched by Mrs. C. P. Galleher, while Mrs. J. W. Church outlined the life of Warwick Deeping. This was followed by Mrs. Musselman's giving the principal features in the life of Bass Streeter Aldrich. Current events were discussed by Mrs. Mary Cathcart.

KENNETH BLACK, of the First National Bank of Wilkinsburg, told the Thusday Afternoon Club yesterday "What Women Should Know About Investments." The club met with Mrs. Hurd Morris, of Holland avenue, who was assisted by Mrs. Harry Carmack and Mrs. Roscoe Seybold.

THE Rev. Dr. Carl Wallace Petty will address the Edgewood Cot Club at its January meeting Monday in the Edgewood Community Club. Mrs. J. E. Morris is the day's hostess.

THE Woman's Club of the City of Pittsburgh will have an all-day cutting for the blind in the home of Mrs. J. C. Eckel, Smilax street, Ingram, on Thursday. Mrs. George Weber is chairman.

WOMEN STRESS CHILD HEALTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—On the calendar of Secretary Wilbur, today marked a mobilization of the Federated Club Women of America to further the White House conference on child health and protection, of which he is chairman.

He had consented to address the 100 women representing all 48 states now in attendance at the annual midwinter meeting of the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and had prepared a plea for the conference in general and for the delinquent child and the physical handicapped child in particular.

Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, of Portland, Ore., chairman of public welfare, who is now serving on two White House conference committees, declared before Secretary Wilbur's afternoon address that the women's clubs unquestionably will make the child health conference the major part of its coming year's program.

Address on Mass Selling Schedule

E. D. Borden, manager of the domestic distribution department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to speak at luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce here January 21. The talk will be on mass merchandising and the meeting is sponsored by the Wholesalers Council of the Chamber. Borden is considered an authority in the field of business research.

Railroad Officials Brownsville Guests

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Seventy-five visiting railway officials of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio systems, of Pittsburgh and Uniontown, were guests of the Brownsville Railway Club at the annual banquet here last night.

WOMAN FLIER'S RITES AT HOME

WOODBINE, Ga., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The body of Mrs. Neva Finley Paris, 36, of Great Neck, L. I., nationally known aviatrix who was killed near here yesterday as her plane crashed into a marsh at the edge of the Satilla River was to be removed to the home of her father, E. C. Finley, at Great Neck, today. She was en route to Miami Fla., to participate in an air derby there next week.

Mrs. Paris, who won fifth place in the Women's National Air derby last summer, had started from Great Neck last week to fly to Miami in short hops. She left Columbia, S. C., yesterday and was within a few minutes' flying distance of her next stop, Jacksonville, Fla., when her plane circled over Woodbine several times at an altitude of about 2,000 feet and then fell.

A coroner investigated the accident. The body was removed from the marshes to a little church here, and later sent to an undertaking establishment at Brunswick, Ga., pending receipt of word from relatives. The head of the aviatrix was crushed, one arm and one leg were broken and her body was otherwise injured.

Display Managers Confer at Horne's

Committee reports and a general discussion today made up the last sessions of a conference of display managers connected with the Retail Research Association, meeting at the Joseph Horne Store. The managers are making a study of displays. A general report on the store's display activities will be made by a committee of which W. B. Fry of the William Filene Sons Co., of Boston, is chairman. Other committees will report on policies, figures, organization and personnel.

Dr. Gardiner, Once Chum of King, Dies

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Dr. Edwin James Gardiner, a boyhood playmate of the late King Alfonso XII, of Spain, died yesterday. He was 73 years old.

Dr. Gardiner, born in Washington, was raised in Madrid court circles, where his father was in the diplomatic service. Playing in the royal gardens, he became a close friend of the future king. He was a writer on medical subjects and was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

SUNDAY MENU:
Orange and Grapefruit Cocktail
Baked Shad Roe with Tomato Sauce.
Mashed Potatoes. Fried Celery.
Asparagus Salad.
Cream Pyramids. Coffee.

AFTER the fruit cocktail for Sunday dinner, how would you like to have baked shad roe with tomato sauce? Just cook the shad roe 15 minutes in boiling salted water to cover, with ½ teaspoon vinegar; drain, cover with cold water, and let it stand 5 minutes.

Remove from cold water and place on a buttered pan with ¾ of a cup of tomato sauce. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven, basting every 5 minutes. Serve with tomato catsup.

Fried celery is most delicious. Wash and scrape the celery, cut in 3-inch pieces, dip in batter, fry in deep fat, and drain in brown paper.

CREAM pyramids are as lovely as they are delicious. You will need 1 pint of heavy cream, 2 whites of eggs, 2 tablespoons of red jelly, 3 tablespoons of sugar and ½ teaspoon vanilla, or any flavoring that you prefer.

Whip the cream until it's stiff and add 2 tablespoonfuls of sugar and the flavoring, put into ice cream glasses. Beat the whites of the eggs until they are very dry, and add 1 tablespoon of sugar and jelly.

Whip until firm, put spoonful in each glass, and shape into pyramid or cone. Top each cone with a small piece of red jelly, or a cherry. And be sure to have all the ingredients ice cold.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS—One egg, 1 cup milk, 2 cups whole wheat flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons shortening. Beat egg until light and add milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients together and add to the first mixture. Beat just enough to blend thoroughly. Add melted shortening. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven (400°F. 25 minutes. Make 12 muffins. ½ cup of pecans may be added to the dry ingredients.

WHOLE WHEAT PANCAKES OR WAFFLES—Two eggs, 3 teaspoons butter, melted, 1 tablespoon molasses, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder. Beat eggs, and melted shortening and molasses. Pour on oiled griddle or bake in hot waffle iron.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS—Two cups whole wheat flour, ¾ cup milk, 3 teablespoons shortening, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and work in shortening with finger tips or pastry blender. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn on floured board, pat and roll to ¾-inch in thickness. Handle as little as possible. Cut and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 18 biscuits.

WHOLE WHEAT COOKIES—One-half cup butter, 2 eggs, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2-3 cup brown sugar, 1½ cups whole wheat flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¾ teaspoon cloves, dash of nutmeg.

Cream butter and sugar together. Add the eggs and beat well. Sift flour, salt, baking powder and spices together and add gradually to batter. Add vanilla and nuts. Roll about ⅛ inch thick and cut with cookie cutter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) until brown. One cup of nuts may be added to the dry ingredients.

WHOLE WHEAT SPICE CUP CAKES—One cup sugar, ½ cup shortening, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup milk, 1½ cups whole wheat flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves.

Mix sugar and shortening thoroughly. Add egg well beaten, salt, raisins and milk. Add baking powder to flour, sift, and add to first mixture. Add cinnamon and cloves; beat thoroughly. Fill gem pans half full and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 20 to 25 minutes.

SWEDISH PLUM PUDDING—Chop fine ½ cup of suet and ½ cup of raisins, ¼ cup citron, ½ cup currants. Mix with ½ cup bread crumbs. Add ¼ cup of sugar mixed with ½ teaspoonful cinnamon, ¼ teaspoonful cloves, ¾ teaspoon nutmeg, ¾ teaspoon salt, to a well beaten egg. Add ½ cup of milk and combine with the chopped fruit. Pour into a buttered mold and steam 4 to 5 hours. Serve warm, with cooking brandy or flavoring extract in flame.

SPRITZBAKKELSERS are as fine cookies as I ever tasted! To make four dozen of them, cream a cup of butter until smooth. Continue creaming, adding gradually ½ cup of sugar. Add an egg yolk well beaten, then 2 cups of flour and either ½ teaspoon of almond flavoring or ¼ cup of blanched almonds. Chill. Roll thin and cut out with a cookie cutter. Place on a baking sheet and bake about 7 minutes in a 450-degree oven.

A SWEDISH omelet travels under the picturesque name of Ometlet Med Ost. Mix a tablespoon flour, a cup of milk, a teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper and add 4 eggs, beaten very light. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a frying pan, and when hot turn the mixture into the pan.

Bake in a 450-degree oven about 25 minutes until golden brown and well puffed. Sprinkle about 6 tablespoons of thinly shredded cheese over the top and return to the oven until melted. Fold omelet into a roll, turn on a hot platter and serve to 6 hungry people immediately.

SWEET POTATO AND PINEAPPLE—Boil 6 sweet potatoes until tender. Peel and cut them in slices. Make a syrup by mixing 1-3 third cup honey with ¼ cup

POTTED CALF'S LIVER—Soak a whole liver in cold water for one hour and remove the skin. Cut 6 pockets from the top, 1 inch wide and nearly to the depth of the liver. Chop together 2 tablespoons parsley, 2 tablespoons celery and a clove of garlic if desired. Fill the pockets with this stuffing and season with salt and paprika. Tie a string around the liver to hold it together; rub a clove of garlic over the outside and dredge with 2 tablespoons flour.

Brown a sliced onion in 3 tablespoons bacon or poultry fat in a kettle with a close fitting cover. Brown the liver on all sides in the fat, then cover and let simmer slowly for 1½ hours until tender. If necessary, add a little water. And, if desired, add more flour to thicken the gravy.

LEMON PUDDING—Mix 1 cup sugar with 4 tablespoons flour. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the grated lemon rind. Stir in 2 cups water and add the yolks of 2 eggs. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Lastly fold in the whites of 2 eggs, beaten stiff. Pour into a glass pudding dish or in individual molds. Chill and serve. Top with whipped cream or marshmallow, if desired.

* * *

HOT SPICED BEETS—Cook 6 small beets in boiling salted water until tender. Melt 1 tablespoon butter or fat and add ¼ cup water, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Bring the sauce to the boiling point. Remove the skins of the beets, slice and reheat them in the sauce. Serve hot.

BAKED SHRIMP AND RICE—Cut 2 cups cooked shrimp in pieces, and mix with 2 cups cooked rice. Add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, a dash of pepper, and a few grains cayenne. Stir in 2 cups medium white sauce. Pour into a greased baking dish and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are brown—about 20 to 25 minutes.

For the white sauce, melt 1½ tablespoons butter; add 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and a sprinkling of pepper, and mix well. Slowly add 1½ cups milk and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, to keep the sauce from becoming lumpy. The white sauce may be kept over hot water until ready to mix with the other ingredients.

VEGETABLE FRITTERS WITH CHEESE SAUCE—Beat 1 egg with 2-3 cup milk. Sift together 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ cups flour, and ¼-teaspoon salt. Beat the milk and egg together with the dry ingredients until smooth. Cut 2 cups cooked vegetables (leftovers may be used) into cubes and add to the fritter batter. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and fry about 2 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with cheese.

STEAMED MOLASSES PUDDING—Beat 1 egg and add ¾ of a cup molasses. Dissolve 1 teaspoon baking soda in ½ cup water and stir into the egg mixture. Add 1½ cups flour and ½ teaspoon salt, sifted together, and beat thoroughly.

Dredge one cup raisins with flour and stir lightly into the batter. Lastly, add 2 tablespoons melted shortening. Fill a greased pudding mold about ¾ full, cover tightly and steam for 1¼ hours. Serve with a hard sauce flavored with a few drops of lemon juice.

CABBAGE CONTAINS ALL IMPORTANT VITAMINS

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Former Health Commissioner of New York City.
United States Senator from New York.

All of the vitamins are included in cabbage. In addition, it provides the roughage which the system needs. In raw form it has many properties which may be lost in cooking.

ANCIENT races knew a good deal about right living. It is probable they knew about vitamins, even if they didn't use scientific terms in describing them. The famous Roman, Cato, recommended the cabbage, that homely member of the vegetable realm, for a part of the diet in every family.

The history of cabbage is interesting. Not only did the citizens of Greece and Rome use it but it was cultivated by the early Saxons and Germans. Britain was slow in accepting it, but it became a popular dish there, especially in Scotland and Ireland. The New England boiled dinner, with cabbage in the foreground, has been a favorite dish in America for ages.

Why is cabbage quite unique in the vegetable world? Well, it is curious that there is a vegetable that has in it all the vitamins—those necessary life-promoting properties in food which give to certain of them the name "protective foods." Cabbage is one of these protective foods.

Cabbage contains large quantities of the important vitamins. All vegetables contain more or less of the mysterious vitamins, but cabbage possesses them to such an extent that the normal person who can digest it derives much benefit from its inclusion in the diet.

SUPPLIES MANY MINERALS

JUST how these vitamins perform their function we do not know. We do know that good teeth, the bones of the body, firm tissues and strong bodies demand an unfailing supply of minerals. Lime, iron, phosphorus, sulphur, and all the other chemicals are essential to the repair and growth of the body. The vegetables supply all these.

Vegetables perform another useful function for us. The intestinal passage cannot function properly without substance. It needs foods that give bulk and roughage to excite the muscular action of the bowels. In this, the coarser vegetables, like cabbage, are very valuable. We need to get back to the coarser foods of our forefathers. Too much refined food is being used in our day. We do not eat enough foods that need to be thoroughly chewed. In this respect, the eating of raw cabbage as salad is of great good.

RAW CABBAGE HEALTHFUL

FOR another reason it is good to eat cabbage raw. You derive the benefit of all the rich minerals and vitamins from cabbage when eaten raw. It is well-known that, in boiling cabbage, the method commonly used in cooking this vegetable, the water is poured off it and with it goes much of the important vitamins and minerals. Steaming is a much better method of cooking, as it retains all of these.

Cabbage is important because of its "antiscorbutic", or scurvy-preventing factor. The lime compounds in it give it bone-building properties. All can afford to have it, as it is cheap, and very palatable.

Most normal, healthy people can digest cooked cabbage, but the invalid had beter omit it from the diet, as it is hard to digest. Raw cabbage should be masticated thoroughly.

It is a mistake not to be systematic in choosing foods. Don't forget that you will be just as healthy and efficient as you are careful so include in your diet the essential foods that go to make up a sound body. Don't forget the vegetables and once in a while include cabbage.

WOMAN RACER GETS DIVORCE

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Helen Filkey, holder of several women's track records, has been granted a divorce from Beach Warren on charges of cruelty. The decree, which gave the track star her maiden name, was granted Monday.

The couple eloped last April 13 but Miss Filkey said their marriage was unhappy.

She said she expected to reenter track competition, probably under the Illinois Women's Athletic Club colors with which she formerly was affiliated.

Nourishment does not make a meal fun is just as important as food!

Breakfast should nourish. There's no question of that. But—this is just as important—breakfast should also stimulate. It should jog up the spirits. For the sake of good digestion and good living, we need some fun along with our food—especially in the morning. Try this scheme. Serve pancakes—the modern kind, made with the new Pillsbury's Pancake Flour. Here's a breakfast that is more than good food—it's interesting food. The sort of breakfast that brings a sparkle to a man's eye—a sparkle that's extremely important to the day's success. You'll find this worth while—keep Pillsbury's Pancake Flour in the house—use it, regularly!

DUKES' GRID SCHEDULE SET

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Better Year for Petty.
Good Start Promised.
Dukes Keep Up Advance.
College Wrestling Boom.
Martins Ferry Shines.
Heavies Duck McFowler.

SOUTHPAW LIKELY TO BE BUC ASSET

BASEBALL fans of the Pittsburgh district are looking forward very confidently to a big season for Pitcher Jess Petty, following the announcement that the veteran left hander has penned his signature to a new Pirate pact and plans to spend three weeks in Hot Springs, Ark., before proceeding to the California training camp. For when considered in connection with the fact that Petty is 15 pounds lighter than he was a year ago, and is keeping his mind on baseball instead of theatrical engagements this winter, the southpaw's early conditioning program holds out every promise that he will be in shape for a flying start in the pennant race. And judging from his work last year, a good beginning is all that he needs to make him one of the outstanding hurlers of the National League.

Jess Petty

It was only in the early stages that Jess was a disappointment in 1929. He was lifted from seven of the first 10 games that he started, and was charged with six defeats while winning his first two victories.

AFTER that period of adversity, however, Petty recovered his grip and left nothing to be desired. He won nine of his last 13 contests, beating Boston three times, Brooklyn and Philadelphia twice each, and New York and Chicago once each. His earlier two victories were scored over St. Louis, so that during the year he defeated every club in the league except Cincinnati.

Petty's record for the season as a whole was by no means a poor one. Walker and Hubbell, of the Giants, were the only left-handers in the league to prove more effective, and only eight flingers all told made better records in the matter of earned runs allowed. With a good start this year, Jess is likely to be a great deal more successful, and he bids fair to be a valuable man to the Buccaneers all through the race.

THE withdrawal of Duquesne University from the Tri-State Conference caused no surprise, as it had been rumored for some time and had been looked upon generally as certain to come eventually.

With Duquesne advancing rapidly in football since the coming of Elmer Layden as coach, and booking more feature games and fewer Conference contests each year, it became increasingly difficult for the Conference championships to be decided clearly.

Elmer Layden

BY withdrawing, the Bluff school leaves itself free to continue its expansion policy and enables the Conference to have its own championships determined more convincingly, either by continuing with only Waynesburg, Westminster, Thiel, Geneva and Bethany in the group, or by taking in Allegheny or Grove City to replace Duquesne. The Dukes, in their growth and advancement, could not play a sufficient number of Conference games to be eligible for the title, and at the same time they might, by defeating the Conference members they met, cloud any championship claims the latter would otherwise be in a position to make. This change and the fine football schedule for next fall announced today, mark another step in the forward march of the Dukes. It won't be long now until they adopt the freshman rule and other eligibility regulations that will put them right in line with the "big fellows."

COLLEGIATE wrestling presents a striking contrast to the professional variety. The two are not to be mentioned in the same breath. Whereas the pro game has fallen into such general disfavor that it is now classed as a racket and can be put over profitably in only a few parts of the country, college mat competition is a real, gripping sport that is steadily winning new followers.

The extent to which wrestling has been built up in the collegiate world and the position it now holds as one of the most popular pastimes are reflected in the season's schedule that has just been announced for the team representing Franklin and Marshall College, of Lancaster, Pa. It is a program so tough that it reads like a Notre Dame football slate.

STARTING tomorrow night, and continuing until March 7, Franklin and Marshall will meet, in the order named, Michigan, Duke, Penn, Army, Chicago, Ursinus, Temple, Alfred, Gettysburg, Rutgers and Syracuse. Formidable foemen, all of them, and a schedule that attests the broad plane on which wrestling is now carried on at the big schools.

Incidentally, F. & M. occupies a high position in this sport. Since Charley Mayser, one of the foremost mat coaches in the country took charge six years ago, the Blue and White has been a leader in the collegiate wrestling ranks, winning 45 meets and losing only five. This year, the Lancaster institution is aiming at the college championship.

Harry Riconda

TWO Italian ball players who are neighbors and warm friends off the diamond will be fighting for the same job the coming spring, as Harry Riconda, a former Pirate, and Chick Cuccinello, Columbus recruit, are rival candidates for the third-base job on the Cincinnati club, with Charley Dressen as a third bidder. Cuccinello looks like the winner, but some lively competition is promised before the position is awarded. The Reds appear to be partial to Italian third sackers, as Babe Pinelli held down that post in their lineup for several years. In fact, Italian players seem to favor third base as a general rule, for in addition to Pinelli, Riconda and Cuccinello, fans will recall Paul Sentelle and Mike Gazella as having played that bag for the Yankees. Besides, Oscar Mellilo is still paying third for the Browns, and Tony Lazzeri will be shifted to the hot corner for the Yanks if his place at second can be filled satisfactorily.

FOOTBALL success in 1929 was not confined to the colleges. Even some high schools in small cities had notable seasons from a financial viewpoint, and among these Martins Ferry (O.) High School was a standout. Receipts at the team's 11 games totaled $14,423.52, and with expenses of $8,056.80 deducted there remained the snug profit of $6,365.73.

All of which attests again that Martins Ferry is a real live town that steps aside for none as a sport center. Here is a little city of 15,000, about 65 miles south of Pittsburgh on the Ohio River, that supports a high school team so loyally that its receipts are greater than those of many small colleges. The admission charges are 25 cents for women and students and 50 cents for men. It means that on an average every man, woman and child of the population contributed almost one dollar to the support of the eleven.

MARTINS FERRY HIGH has its own athletic field, bought and equipped with money made on football, baseball and basketball. The profits of last season were used to pay off $3,000 on the field indebtedness, interest on various notes and to make improvements on the athletic plant.

In the last 10 years the school has sent to the colleges the following football players: Cy Letzelter to Carnegie Tech and West

BRUINS BEAT PIRATES BY 4-3 SCORE

By CARL W. SHATTO.

The Pirate puckmen, hustling home from Boston, where they met the World Champion Bruins last night, will arrive here late today to make ready for their clash with the New York Americans, at Duquesne Garden, tomorrow night.

The Bucs have not lost a home game since December 5, when they were nosed out by Chicago, and they are confident that they will be able to add to their string of home successes.

LOCALS DETERMINED

The last time that the Pirates entertained the Americans here the visitors were overwhelmed by an 8-1 score, and Manager Frank Frederickson and his men are determined to give Lionel Conacher and his stalwarts another dose of the same medicine. Charges and counter charges of unsportsmanlike conduct have served to make the spirit of rivalry between the two clubs exceptionally keen, and tomorrow night's joust promises to be a real battle.

The return to playing form of Herb Drury, star center, has strengthened both the morale and the playing strength of the locals, and they will be favorites to down the visitors. Herb, who sustained a broken hand early in the season, has been working out at the Garden each day this week, and is eager to get back into harness. He probably will appear at center on the spare front line, replacing Ren Manners.

A tie with Les Canadiens and successive victories over the Americans, Detroit and Ottawa have been turned in by the Bucs since they started their home-ice victory drive.

BRUINS NOSE OUT BUCS

Boston, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins gained their fourteenth consecutive victory here last night by nosing out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3, in a loose game filled with sloppy hockey.

The Bruins gained a two-goal lead in the opening period, when Bill Carson and Dit Clapper pushed shots into Joe Miller's cage. During the second period, careless play on Boston's part enabled the Pirates to tie the score, Milks and Manners tallying. The Bruins regained the lead early in the third on goals netted by Mackay and Oliver, and, although the Pirates made a furious four-man attack, Goalie Tiny Thompson held them down to one goal, scored by Johnny McKinnon during a wild jam about the Boston cage. The lineup:

BOSTON.		PITTSBURGH.
Thompson	Goal	Miller
Hitchman	L. D.	Frazer
Shore	R. D.	Smith
Barry	C.	Lowery
Galbraith	L. W.	Milks
Oliver	R. W.	Darragh

Third period—5, Boston, Mackay (Carson), 11:42; 6, Boston, Oliver (Shore), 12:47; 7, Pittsburgh, McKinnon (Milks), 17:50.

Penalties — Spring, Gainor, Lowery, Smith, Galbraith.

RANGERS BEATEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—In a rough National Hockey League game, the Montreal Maroons beat out the New York Rangers last night 5 to 4. The victory gave the Maroons a three-point margin of leadership in the league's International Group. The lineup:

Rangers—3.		Maroons—4.
Roach	G.	Walsh
Bourgeault	D.	Dutton
Johnson	D.	G. Boucher
F. Boucher	C.	Stewart
W. Cook	W.	Smith

YESTERDAY'S EXPLANATION — BLACK CAT TURNS WHITE IN STORM—On December 17, English papers carried an article about a cat on the fishing vessel "Gladys," which boat was abandoned during a storm in the English Channel. The crew kept the cat with them during their terrifying experiences and they all verify the statement that he turned white.

TOMORROW—THE GREAT BOTTLE MYSTERY

TOWNS SIGNS AS PRO AT AMBRIDGE

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

Eddie Towns, former golf professional at the Shannopin Country Club, and until recently private tutor to E. B. McLean, wealthy Washington, D. C., newspaper publisher, has been signed to succeed Tom Gray as instructor at the Ambridge Country Club, next season, it was announced last night.

Towns, a nationally-known golf figure, has been in the city for several weeks, instructing at Ben Loeffler's Indoor Golf Club, in Fourth avenue. His return to local ranks will be welcomed by his many friends here.

VELICAN SIGNED

J. I. Hook, chairman of the golf committee at the Greene County Country Club, near Waynesburg, sets at rest all reports that Frank Bruno, Jimmy Devlin's assistant at the Nemacolin Country Club, would be its pro there this year. Hook says that Andy Velican has been signed for the job.

Reports that Fred Robinson had left the Hill Crest Country Club in favor of Fiore Bruno, assistant to Perry Delvecchio, at the Greensburg Country Club, were denied today by W. F. (Bill) McCabe, an official at that club.

Archie Loeffled, former Hill Crest and San Antonio, Tex., professional, who until recently was private tutor to a wealthy Long Island business man, and is now also instructing at the Downtown Indoor Golf Club, is likely to work with Emil (Dutch) Loeffler, Oakmont's famous pregreenkeeper, in building the new course of the Duquesne Golf Club in Homestead this season.

NOT TO QUIT

It is said there is no truth to the report that Walter Johnstone is to leave the Butler Country Club or that Walter Andrews will quit Beaver Valley Country Club. Both are holding down winter berths in the south at this time.

Bucs to Press Claim for Taylor

Frank Frederickson, manager of the Pittsburgh Hockey Club, says that he proposes to stop a fast one which National League officials are attempting to put over on his Pirates.

On Wednesday the New York Rangers announced that they had refused to waive on Ralph Taylor, veteran defenseman of the Chicago Hawks, and had purchased Taylor for the waiver price of $5,000.

This would be O. K., but—Frederickson says that the Bucs never were asked to waive on Taylor. Freddie further states that the Pirates want Taylor, that they are last in the standings and have first claim to Taylor and that they are going to get the defense vet.

Chicago wanted to send Taylor and cash to the Tulsa Oilers for Teddy Graham, star wingman.

STATE, GENEVA, ALLEGHENY VICTORS

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Penn State College won its first court game of the season last night, swamping the quintet from Western Maryland College, 45 to 19. The visitors were outclassed from the start.

The Nittany Lion coach used two full teams, and Favis, staring his first varsity game was high score man of the night with nine points to his credit. Wooley, of Western Maryland, led his team in scoring with seven points, and except for poor shooting on his part, might have had several more goals to his credit. The entire visiting team was off in its aim, and made good only seven out of 20 chances from the foul line. The lineup:

Penn State—45.		W. Maryland—19.
Davis	F.	Wooley
Miller	F.	Wellinger
Brand	C.	Hammill
Moss	G.	Baker
Saltzman	G.	Engle

Field goals—Davis 3, Brand 3, Leyda 4, Fry 2, Weber 2, Lee 2, Saltzman 2, Mcss, Miller, Wooley 2, Hammill, Lamb, Baker, Engle. Foul goals—Miller 4, Davis 3, Saltzman, Leyda, Wooley 3, Wellinger, Hammill, Baker, Engle. Substitutions—Penn State: Leyda for Davis, Fry for Miller, Lee for Saltzman, Weber for Moss, Hamilton for Brand, Mahle for Leyda, Macomb for Fry; Western Maryland: Lawrence for Baker, Lamb for Hammill. Referee—Usser. Umpire—Good.

GENEVA ON TOP

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 10.—Ken Loeffler's Geneva College passers opened their home season here last night by defeating Canisius, 27-16. Close guarding at times and the passing of the Covenanters featured the contest, with all of the Geneva players taking part in the scoring. The lineup:

Geneva—27.		Canisius—16.
Friedman	F.	Guarnieri
Manning	F.	Fitzpatrick
Ransom	C.	J. Gallagher
Montgomery	G.	J. Gallagher
Martin	G.	Mack

Score by periods:
Geneva	17	10—27
Canisius	11	5—16

Substitutes—Geneva: Hecker, Fair, McKinney, Sole; Canisius: Reina, Decker. Field goals—Friedman 3, Manning 2, Hecker, Ransom 3, Montgomery, Martin 2, Fitzpatrick, Decker, J. Gallagher. Fouls—Geneva, 3 out of 6; Canisius, 10 out of 15. Referee—Wallace.

Russell Rides Four Winners In One Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.) Kenneth Russell, tiny jockey who blossomed into fame early in the Fair Grounds meeting by riding four winners on one day, provided the high spots for yesterday's program at New Orleans. Russell had five successive mounts in the money, riding the winners in the two featured events and the third place horses in the next three.

In the Shelburne purse, Russell gave Harry Payne Whitney's Agitator a perfect ride to beat out the favorite, H. F. Sinclair's Leucite for the top money.

After this triumph, Russell booted Tantivy home ahead of Old Dutch in the R. O. Rankin, another six furlong dash, then rode West Wind, Leonardeau and Bigot into the show money.

Yellow Jackets of Waynesburg College last night, 35 to 28, in the fastest game of the season here. The first half ended, 18 to 17, in favor of the upstate boys. The lineup:

Allegheny—35.		Waynesburg—28.
Dennison	F.	Avery
Bair	F.	O'Connell
Conn	C.	Smith
Berger	G.	White
Garback	G.	Ufema

Substitutions — Massing for Garback, Hathaway for Ufema, Patsche for O'Connell. Field goals—Dennison 4, Bair 4, Conn 3, Berger 2, Garback 2, Avery 5, Patsche, Smith 2, White 2, Ufema. Foul goals—Allegheny, 5 out of 12; Waynesburg, 6 out of 8. Referee—Waite. Umpire—Dalzell.

Fonseca Ill in West With Scarlet Fever

SAN ANSELMO, Cal., Jan. 10.—Lewis Fonseca, leading hitter of the American League in 1929, was recovering at his home here last night from a serious case of scarlet fever.

The star first baseman of the Cleveland Indians has been seriously ill for the past week. His wife said he passed the crisis several days ago and hopes to regain his strength in time to report to the Indians for spring training in March.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Del Bissonette, clouting first baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is recovering in St. Mary's Hospital, Brooklyn, from a mastoid operation performed New Year's Day. It was the second operation Bissonette had undergone since the close of the 1929 season.

FIVE NEW FACES ON CARD OF BLUFFITES

By JESS CARVER.

Duquesne University has announced its 1930 football card for the edification of local fans. The athletic board on the Bluff last night approved a tough schedule of 10 games as presented by Graduate Manager of Athletics John Holohan and Athletic Director Elmer Layden. Eight of the 10 battles next fall will be played here. Haskell Indians, Albion, Edinboro Teachers, Waynesburg and Westminster were dropped from last year's schedule, West Virginia, Slippery Rock, Chicago Loyola, Catholic University and Geneva keeping places on the new card.

John Holohan

The 1930 card is the strongest the Dukes ever have booked. Howard College is to be played here October 18, in the first game of a two-year contract which calls for the Bluffites to play in Birmingham in 1931. The games with West Virginia Wesleyan and North Dakota U. may be night battles, the Bobcat tilt being scheduled either for October 31 or November 1, and the Westerners for November 7 or 8. The complete schedule follows:

September 20, West Virginia University at Pittsburgh.
September 27, Slippery Rock State College at Pittsburgh.
October 4, Detroit Tech at Pittsburgh.
October 11, Loyola University at Chicago.
October 18, Howard College at Pittsburgh.
October 24, Catholic University at Pittsburgh.
October 31 or November 1, West Virginia Wesleyan at Pittsburgh.
November 7 or 8, North Dakota University at Pittsburgh.
November 15, Geneva College at Beaver Falls.
November 22, Providence College at Pittsburgh.

DUKES QUIT CONFERENCE

The withdrawal of the Dukes from the Tri-State Conference, to take effect at the close of the present scholastic year, figures to bring to a head once and for all the status of Allegheny and Grove City in the tri-state college swim.

Duquesne's athletic council, at a special meeting yesterday, decide to accede to the request of the Conference that the school withdraw, so the league would be able to settle its various championships in a more satisfactory way. You see, the Dukes have not been playing enough league opponents to put them in the race for either the football or basketball championships . . . and the Conference did not like this.

Relations between Duquesne and other league schools are to remain cordial, and the Dukes intend to continue booking tri-state teams in all sports. But as members of the Conference . . . the Bluffites are definitely out.

SEEK NEW TEAMS

Efforts are to be put forth by the Conference to induce Grove City or Allegheny, or both, to step in the circuit. Neither school has ever looked with any great favor on such an arrangement in the past, as both seem to get along very well in the two most important college sports, basketball and football.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Carver gives basketball preference in the foregoing sentence because this is basketball season. He's funny that way.)

There is no reason to suppose that they will change their minds. The Conference never has been particularly strong, especially in a football way, and it is hardly likely that the Crimson or Meth-

DENTON BEATS KIECKHEFER

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Augie Kieckhefer's hopes of competing in the national three-cushion billiard play-off were shattered last night in his defeat by Tiff Denton, of Kansas City, 50 to 26, in 38 innings. The Chicago southpaw's loss left the tournament in a tie between Champion Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, and Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, who meet in the deciding block tonight.

Allan Hall, St. Louis, stayed in the running for second place as he tumbled Gus Copulos, of Detroit, into sixth position with a 50-to-31 victory in 53 innings.

With nothing at stake but the satisfaction of winning, Denton and Charley Jordan, of Los Angeles, improved their standing in the afternoon matches. Denton won from Gus Copulos, of Detroit, 50 to 41, in 41 innings, and Jordan defeated Harry Schuler, New York, 50 to 38, in 65 innings.

Hall meets Kieckhefer this afternoon to see who stays in the battle. The winner will be tied for second place with the loser of the Reiselt-Layton championship, which will be played at night. The loser of the Hall-Kieckhefer match drops down into a tie with Tiff Denton, of Kansas City, for fourth place.

MOOSE ARENA BECOMES MEMORY TONIGHT

PANKA BOXES WILLIAMS IN FINAL BOUT

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Tonight is Farewell Night at the Moose Temple boxing arena. The fistic clans will gather to bid adieu to the compact hall made famous by the boxing shows put on by Promoter Francis Flynn following a number of years during which the sport was not attempted there. Next Friday night Flynn opens his new arena, the Coliseum, until now known as the Columbus Temple, located out Forbes street a bit.

George Panka

A return battle between George Panka, Homestead heavyweight, and Harry Williams, Negro, of Rankin, rings down the curtain at the Moose. The pair fought in the same ring a few weeks ago with the officials calling the bout a draw. Both were down twice and Williams appeared to be entitled to an edge. The scrap was exceptionally lively for a heavyweight affair.

Johnny Smackey, Mike Ray's clever lightweight, boxes Mickey Duris, of Johnstown, in the semi-final tonight. Frank Monroe, Fair Haven veteran middleweight, meets Capo Coluba, of Cuba, in the second bout, and Bob Collura, of Beechview, and Frankie Portland, of the North Side, are in the opener.

Between Rounds

Two of the battles on the Motor Square card Monday night are return affairs. Most important is the windup of 10 rounds between Tony Herrera, of Chicago, and Tommy Crawley, of the South Side and Steubenville. They first met at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, last summer, with Herrera winning the decision. The other is the second bout between Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, and Bobby Burns, of Swissvale, former rivals in the amateur ranks, who also have met as pros. Eddie Brannon, Negro lightweight of the Hill, faces a tough one in Chet Smallwood, southpaw, of Akron, who has beaten U. S. Carpentier, Ken Hargraves, Eddie Ruttman and Sammy Harris, among others, and held Battling Gizzy even. Paul Balint and Sammy Paris, bantams, are in the first bout.

M'TIERNAN ON FARM

Buck McTiernan, somewhat improved in health after his stay of several weeks at Hot Springs, Ark., has landed a job working on a farm there without pay to toughen himself up for his return to the ring when he gets back to Pittsburgh.

Skipper Manning, former Lawrenceville ring favorite, will referee the bouts at the Ninth Ward Republican Club smoker in Forrester Hall next Wednesday night. Jack Burke and Harry Williams will appear in the windup.

Sparky Ewalt, of McKees Rocks, and Tiger Griffith, of Clairton, have been matched to box the main bout of an amateur show under the auspices of the Pastorious Athletic Club in Lithuanian Hall, McKees Rocks, next Thursday night. Five other bouts are listed.

Georgie Day, of New Haven, has been substituted for Al Winkler, of Philadelphia, as Al Singer's opponent at the St. Nicholas Arena, New York, Monday night.

PAULINO VS. VON PORAT

Otto Von Porat and Paulino Uzcudun do their stuff at popular prices in the main bout of a show in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Paulino making his first start under the management of Billy Gibson, who steered Benny Leonard and Gene Tunney to world titles, and Von Porat making his first showing since he fouled Phil Scott into that Sharkey bout at Miami next month.

Marty Gallagher and Johnny Grosso box the semi-final to the Paulino-Von Porat bout, with Fred Lenhart, victor over Maxie Rosenbloom, boxing Phil Mercurio and Edgar Normans meeting Eddie Husel in preliminaries. In other bouts carded around the country tonight, Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, boxes Jimmy Owens, of Oklahoma City, in a non-title bout in the Chicago Stadium, with Billy Wallace boxing Danny Delmont and King Tut opening Bruce Flowers in other bouts on the bill; Tommy Grogan boxes Joey Kaufman at Omaha; Frankie Campbell meets Jack Beasley at Hollywood, Cal.; Tommy Freeman battles Young Jack Thompson at Detroit; Chuck Burns tackles Arvin Spence and Benny Burns hooks up with Tony Tozzo at Erie; Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, goes 10 non-championship rounds with Manuel Quintero at Miami, Fla.; Al Friedman battles Ernie Schaaf and Art Shires takes on Al Spohrer at Boston, and Gene Buffalo tangles with Nick Basciano in Philadelphia.

SCOTT BOUT ANGLES

Jimmy Johnston, manager of Phil Scott, formerly held a 10 per cent interest in Jack Sharkey, whom Scott meets in the mild zephyr at Miami, February 27. That's only one of the angles to the battle that makes it take on all the appearances of a dud, despite the fact that it is admittedly between the champions of America and England. Another is that unless Sharkey knocks out Scott in a hurry Sharkey's stock will take a big drop. And yet Scott is the man of Sharkey's choice.

Benny Schwartz's scheduled six-round bout with Tommy Paul at Buffalo tonight was indefinitely postponed yesterday. Meanwhile Benny, who now is making his home here, is continuing in training at Flynn's gym to be ready for any bouts that may bob up.

Sammy Dorfman has been signed to meet Harry Carlton and Herman Perlick to oppose Jake Zeramby in 10-round supporting bouts on the Tony Canzoneri-Jack (Kid) Berg card in Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night of next week.

Cincinnati Reds Release Five Men

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—Five members of the Cincinnati baseball club drew their releases yesterday, four of them going back with strings attached. Walter Shaner and Eastel Crantree, outfielders, were sent to Columbus of the American Association, subject to recall. Infielder Paul Harrell and Pitcher Bruce Harrington went to Peoria of the Three-Eye League under option, while Pitcher Howard Kemner was released outright to Columbus.

CUDDY DEMARCO

DeMarco, veteran local boxer, surprised by the announcement of his manager, James (Red) Mason, that the latter considers him at the end of his ring career, says he is going to get in shape for a new campaign and can beat anybody his weight in the Mason stable. He admits he hasn't been in good fighting condition in his recent battles. At left above is a picture of him as he appears today, scaling 155 pounds. His best fighting weight is around 140 pounds. At the right above and below are pictures of the boxer at the height of his career a few years ago.

GOLF LEADERS MEET TODAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—After the meeting of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association this afternoon, the big spring invasion of British golf shores will not seem so far away.

The men who say where, when and how national golf competitions in the United States are to be decided planned to name a captain for the Walker Cup team and the players who will sail for England in April to compete against Britain's best amateurs will be selected soon after the leader.

Bobby Jones, open champion and captain of the 1928 Walker Cup team, is slated to succeed himself. Jimmy Johnston is the amateur champion, but the St. Paul star always has declared that where Bobby Jones sits is the head of the golf table. He was among the first executive committeemen to insist that the Atlanta lawyer serve another term.

Five of the eight players who repulsed the last British challenge for the Walker Cup probably will be asked to play again—Jones, Johnston, George Von Elm, Francis Ouimet and Jess Sweetser. George Voigt appeared certain to get a place for the first time and Dr. O. F. Willing, the Oregonian, who was runnerup in the amateur championship, has earned a nomination after an absence since 1924.

Los Angeles Open Gets Under Way

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Down in Santa Monica Canyon, where Riviera's rolling fairways and immaculate greens spread out over broad acres, America's greatest professional golfers started today in the 72-hole journey that leads to the championship of the $10,000 Los Angeles open.

N. B. A. Decides To Govern Wrestling

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Wrestling, a profession which never recognized any national affiliation and frequently witnessed many muddled championship situations, was placed today by the National Boxing Association on the same organized basis as all governed sports.

Stanley M. Isaacs, president of the N. B. A., which last year included the mat game in its jurisdiction, announced that effective immediately all wrestlers are subject to the benefits, championship awards, suspensions and discipline of the national organization. About 3,500 wrestlers are affected.

High spots of the N. B. A. wrestling requirements call for defense of championships three times a year, posting of title appearance forfeits ranging from $2,500 to $5,000, public bidding by promoters for the privilege of staging championship bouts, wrestlers to accept terms of the highest bidder, national champions to be decided in recognized classes by April 20, 1930, and championship entries to be matched by public drawing.

DETROIT GETS JUNIOR MEET

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—The scene of the 1930 national junior indoor track and field championships has been shifted from Baltimore to Detroit, the Amateur Athletic Union has announced.

The meeting will be held Saturday, February 22. The change was made because it was found impossible to obtain a suitable date at the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore.

An Iceman

TOM BURKE

Burke, a forward on the Grove City College basketball team, is a hot player on the courts, albeit he hauls ice for his father's company in Sharon during the summer months. He played on the Sharon High School team that lost to Steelton High in the State finals at State College in 1927.

'THROUGH? NOT ME,' SAYS DEMARCO

Cuddy DeMarco, veteran local boxer, shocked by the announcement of his longtime manager, James (Red) Mason, that he will not book any more bouts for him and has advised him to quit the ring, as told exclusively in yesterday's Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, came back today with a ringing challenge directed at the Mason stable, and an avowal to get in shape and make Mason eat his words of doom.

"Understand me," DeMarco said, "I am not sore at Red, whom I consider one of the greatest managers in the business, but I do think he is exercising snap judgment in my case and will have reason to regret it. I am only 25 years old and no one knows better than I that I have not been doing myself justice in my bouts for more than a year. I drifted into lazy habits and didn't train properly and as a result made some bad showings. I really haven't been in fighting trim. Right now I weigh around 155 pounds, and I should be fighting at 138-40 pounds.

CHALLENGES MASON MEN

"At that, I know of at least two fellows I can whip in my present condition. They are Mason's two welterweights, Dominick Profio and Jimmy Belmont. Perhaps it's a good thing I am getting away from the Mason stable at this time—I may get bouts with them. And, besides, I was considering, a year ago, breaking away from Mason, but let the matter drift and now he has beaten me to the punch.

"This break may be the best thing in the world for me. I have taken stock of myself and realize the folly of the pace I have been traveling and am going to get back in shape. I still am young and if I take care of myself should be able to get in shape and fight for several more years against the topnotchers and get sufficient money on which to retire. In my nine years as a professional I have had 339 bouts, something of a record, and Mason and I probably took in something like $200,000 between us. My end of it is all gone. I'll have to start all over again, but I know I can do it.

TO HAVE OPERATION

"I have been bothered for a long time with a growth in my nose caused by boxing. I intend to enter a hospital within a few days for an operation and then go to Hot Springs, Ark., for about a month to get back in trim. When I come back you'll see the Cuddy DeMarco of old, and I'll beat all of these fellows around here again. And I repeat that I still can beat anybody my weight in Mason's stable right now and wouldn't mind trying conclusions even without the benefit of training."

TWO SOCCER TILTS CARDED

By TOM BIRKS.

Fans should watch the soccer news, for it seems as if only one game will be played tomorrow and that will find the Crafton Heights team meeting the Pittsburgh Celtics at Leslie Park. The semi-final of the West Penn cup has been scheduled for the Carnegie High School field, with Gallatin and Heidelberg Eagles showing their stuff, but ground conditions may stop the game. It is one of the worst fields on which soccer was ever attempted, and fans are wondering why the local cup committee again insists upon these grounds following the German Sport-Celtic debacle.

It would appear the committee is bucking local opinion. Or if the fans had stated the grounds were great, but the drawing power poor, then the venue would have been changed. And even another factor did not change their idea and that was the poor dressing accomodations. Dressing in a cellar after a grueling mud battle for 90 minutes finds the next semi-finalists meeting under the same conditions.

Managers of the Gallatin and Eagles teams should ask some pertinent questions this evening as to where the boys are going to find dressing quarters—cellars should be taboo.

National Tube and the Lewis S. C. were dropped from the schedule of the District League last evening. If the Pierpoint Motors do not get out of cup ties, some other clubs will be giving the District League's schedule the run around.

Permanent possession of first place in the Central Pittsburgh League will be settled tonight when the Irene Kaufmann Settlement House passers meet the crack Manchester Community House quintet on the I. K. S. floor in one of the two league contests on the schedule. In the other game, Johnny Fundy's Foresters oppose Falcons No. 8 on the South Side floor.

The Irene Kaufmann Settlement House passers will be out to obtain revenge for a one-point defeat suffered on the Manchester floor earlier in the season. This reverse is the only setback suffered so far this season by Ziggy Kahn's passers and they are eager to turn the tables on Jim Black's aggregation. The contest brings together two of the best teams in the league and unless all signs fail a great battle is in store for the fans.

The Manchester quintet at present is holding first place by a narrow margin and the Hill District quintet can take the top position with a victory tonight.

In the Allegheny County League tonight, the Sianos invade Allentown to meet Dad Rogers' club. Only one game is scheduled in the Greater Pittsburgh Institutional League, Hill Top Y. entertaining Kingsley House on the Hill Top floor.

FINTEX, LAFAYETTES COP

The Fintex five came back in the fourth quarter last night to topple the Sianos, 23 to 16, at the Duke University gym, while the Duquesne Lafayettes kept in the chase for the County League crown by tripping Elizabeth, 34 to 28, at Elizabeth.

Y. M. H. A. defeated the Knickerbockers, 29 to 26, in the West Penn League; Manchester Community won from National Music, 28 to 25, in the Central League, and Real Estate set down Carnegie Steel, 48 to 40, in the C. & I. loop.

Equitable Gas lost to Philadelphia Company, 36 to 23, in the Philadelphia Company circuit, and Vescio tripped Neville, 28 to 25, in the Steel City League. A good girls' contest saw the Philadelphia Company trim the Blue and Gold, 19 to 12. The lineups:

The City League basketball campaign rolls onward today, with six games on the program, three in each section. In addition to the City loop battles, there are contests on the boards for every section of the W. P. I. A. L., giving the district a full quota of scholastic cage entertainment.

In Section I of the City League, Schenley takes on the Taylor Allderdice passers, with the Bellefielders favored to win. South meets Peabody at Peabody and Ralston invades Fifth Avenue for a battle with the league champs.

Section II throws together Carrick and Perry at Perry; Allegheny Vocational and Allegheny at Allegheny, and South Hills at Langley at Langley.

In the W. P. I. A. L., the champion Homestead five, under the guidance of the astute Bill Campbell, meets Clairton at home in the feature battle of Section VII. In Section II, Ambridge meets Ben Avon at Ben Avon, a game figured to be a tough test for Moe Rubenstein's team. In Section IV, Freedom meets Beaver Falls and Monaca's hopefuls take on a tough one in Beaver.

RESUME RELATIONS

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—Athletic relations between Waynesburg and Washington High Schools will be resumed here tonight after a lapse of seven years, when the basketball teams representing the two schools meet in the high school gymnasium. A hectic encounter is anticipated, as both teams are members of section 111 of the W. P. I. A. L., in addition to being ancient natural rivals.

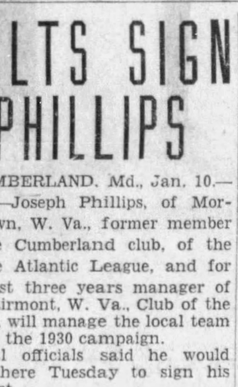
Point; Vince, Aiken, Edwards and Thomas to W. & J.; Taylor to Ohio State; Vaughn to Fordham; Craver, Sebulsky, Joseph and Drobeck to West Virginia University; Evans and Fest to Kentucky State; Herdman and Hinkle to Marietta, and Griffith to Western Maryland. Quite a town and quite a school.



Bud Gorman

IF you want to learn how tough a customer Ike McFowler, Johnstown's Negro battler, is considered to be by the heavyweights in other sections of the country, just go out and try to sign one of them for a fight with him. Jim McGirr, McKeesport promoter, communicated with no fewer than 15 capable heavies on the subject of a McFowler match, but did not get an affirmative reply until he finally succeeded in inducing Bud Gorman to sign for the attractive 10-round number that is to feature the show at the Palisades in McKeesport next Thursday night. Even then, before he could get the able Gorman to take on the Negro, for the third time in his career, McGirr had to give Bud a fat guarantee that would have staggered the average promoter. But the Tube City promoter was willing, as usual, to take a long financial chance in order to get a high-class attraction that would appeal to and please his patrons. It shapes up as one of the best heavyweight battles offered around here in a long time and promises to draw the largest house of the McKeesport season. Gorman holds a 10-round decision over Jack Sharkey, the "uncrowned heavyweight champion," and has also met Young Stribling, Jack Delaney, Harry Persson, and many other topnotchers.

BABE RUTH

—But on the bowling alleys, not at the plate. Ruth, the Behemoth of Swat, has just turned down a contract renewal with the New York Yankees calling for $150,000 for two seasons. He wants a three-year stretch at $85,000 per season. Puzzle: Find the puny duckpin balls in the huge mitts of the demon slugger.

COLTS SIGN PHILLIPS

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Joseph Phillips, of Morgantown, W. Va., former member of the Cumberland club, of the Middle Atlantic League, and for the last three years manager of the Fairmont, W. Va., Club of the league, will manage the local team during the 1930 campaign.

Local officials said he would come here Tuesday to sign his c[illegible]ract.

During the time he has been connected with Middle Atlantic League clubs he has not finished below third place. Two years ago his Fairmont team won the Middle Atlantic pennant and took the tri-state title in four straight games from Chambersburg, of the Blue Ridge League.

Phillips, a bench manager, will succeed John Byrnes, first baseman of the locals for three years, who was made a free agent at the close of the 1929 season.

Inter-Club Squash League Is Formed

An inter-club squash racquets league has been formed, it is announced by the Keystone Athletic Club and play is to begin next Saturday in the four-club league.

odists will be able to see any great advantage in joining up with the other schools remaining in the organization.

SEE THIS ONE

Tonight the 1930 college court campaign will continue along its merry, merry way. There is no varsity game booked for Pittsburgh, but the Dukes will meet a team of all-stars, which is to include in its lineup such gents as the portly John Holohan, Joe Bach and Elmer Layden, Dom DeMaria, Dick Schrading and Sticks Monohan, and other heroes of the past.

In a Tri-State Conference game Thiel will send its Lutherans to New Wilmington for a tussle with the Titans. West Virginia meets Georgetown, Pitt's opponent for tomorrow night, at Morgantown, and West Virginia Wesleyan takes on the Franz-Burka Collegians, of Clarksburg. St. Vincent's meets Canisius at Latrobe.

If you want to get a laugh, come up on the Bluff and see this All-Star, Duke game. What a thrill Johnny Holohan will be . . . and Joe Bach. The All-Stars intend to use Holly and Joe as a front line of defense. If you get past those two—you're welcome to the basket.

W. & J. TO ELECT LEADER

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—Washington and Jefferson's annual football banquet, at which a captain for the 1930 team will be elected, has been set for Friday night of next week, in the grill room of the George Washington Hotel here. The 26 lettermen recently honored, will cast votes for the grid leader of next season, the three principal candidates being Walter Levine and Irvin Newby, tackles, and Andrew Cochrane, guard, with chances said to favor Levine.

At the banquet, the formal award of football insignia will be made to the letter recipients.

EXPERTS TO WAR ON FRUIT FLY

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, announced here that the United States Department of Agriculture has created a five-member advisory board to pass on all biological and entomological questions involved in the eradication of the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida. Acceptances of appointments as advisory board members, Secretary Hyde said, have been received from Dr. W. C. O'Kane, state entomologist of New Hampshire; Dr. W. P. Flint, state entomologist of Illinois; Dr. George A. Dean, professor of entomology at Kansas State Agricultural College, and Dr. P. J. Parrott, entomologist at the New York experiment station. A fifth member is to be appointed.

"The creation of this board," Secretary Hyde said, "to determine policy and biological questions was determined upon some 10 days ago. The receipt of acceptances from four such outstanding men in their profession makes possible this announcement prior to the acceptance of the fifth and last member of the commission.

"It is expected that the board will be able to hear grievances and determine policies. It is the expectation of the department that regulations will be recommended, made and modified by the board with a view to the widest latitude for Florida shippers and growers consistent with the purpose of eradication program."

Serenade Fails, Breaks Guitar On Girl's Head

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Because Maria Reyes did not come out on the balcony to toss him the traditional flower when he serenaded her at 5 o'clock in the morning, Juan Martinez climbed through a window and broke his guitar over her head.

Juan was following Mexican custom when he appeared to awaken Maria on her saint's day and when she refused to get up after a half hour's singing and strumming, he became incensed.

While the police do not often interfere with serenaders, they do take a hand when the situation demands, and Juan is in jail.

MEXICAN BOMB TRIAL OPENS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—On charges of dynamiting the chamber of deputies early in 1928, 10 persons, including Carlos Castro Balda, Eduardo Zozaya and Senorita Maria Elena Manzano and seven others went on trial in the second district court here. They are also accused of having plotted the assassination of the then President Calles and Gen. Alvarez Obregon, president-elect in May of the same year.

Gen. Obregon was assassinated July 19, 1928, by Jose De Leon Toral.

Castro Balda and Zozaya are charged jointly with the actual bombing of the chamber of deputies. The prosecutor asked that each be sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment.

For Senorita Manzona he asked a sentence of six years for alleged implication of the bombing and another of five years on a charge of plotting to kill Calles and Obregon by pricking them with a poison pin while dancing with them at a ball given in their honor in the town of Celaya. This sentence was asked despite the fact that the poison pin plot had been abandoned.

CONVICT FIGHTS RETURN TO N. Y.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—(INS.)—George Sullivan, known as "Hard-Boiled" Sullivan, assistant keeper of the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., scene of recent riots, arrived here with a request for the extradition to New York of Joseph Caprico, now under arrest in Los Angeles.

Caprico, who escaped from the Auburn Penitentiary in an uprising on July 28 last, is resisting his removal to New York.

Sullivan, who directed the rescue of the captured warden and seven guards in a riot last month, declared that political influence outside the prison was responsible for the disturbances. He claimed that the escape plot was engineered on the outside by political friends of prisoners.

During his visit, Sullivan inspected California's state prison at Folsom, 25 miles from here.

He said it was far superior in sanitation, equipment, cell room and space than Auburn or most eastern penitentiaries.

RAIL EMBARGO AT LAREDO

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 10.—(AP.)—An embargo was declared by the Missouri Pacific lines and the Texas-Mexican Railway on all freight business using Laredo as a gateway, it was learned at the Missouri Pacific offices here.

The embargo does not cover freight business going only as far as Laredo, it was said.

The order grew out of international difficulties in connection with the threatened arrest of former President Plutarco Elias Calles, of Mexico, recently by District Attorney John A. Valls, on a charge of conspiracy to murder.

Officials of the Missouri Pacific could not forecast how long the embargo may last.

CHAPTER LIV.

SLIM'S body, with the folds of silk wrapped about it, made a grotesque somersault and then dropped. A momentary shadow flying down the cliffs; an instant of tumult ticked on stupendous, elemental silence.

Sheik cowered. Guy, too, shuddered. The staggering canyon walls, with their battlements piercing the very heavens, towered above them in a living prison. For a moment neither moved, neither had power to move.

Sheik pointed to the trail. Limp with revulsion, he turned to Guy: "Can't you see we'll never make it? Dark coming on."

"We've an hour."

They started down. For a thousand feet, the trail was a mere shelf cut from the precipice. In places it was wide and in places it narrowed to 15 inches. Only a madman would have glanced over his shoulder. Sheer drop on the left. Down 3,000 feet.

Sheik moved like a panther, stealthy, noiseless, pressed against the wall. He threw back terrifying warnings: "Stones are loose. Careful—drops off just beyond. All right—quicker now. Careful again, treacherous, slipping rocks—Better keep up the pace. Once the sun goes, we're finished!"

Down like this, hugging the walls—backed to it—gliding on like shadows.

Suddenly far off Guy saw planes—whole worlds distant; and cutting across the purple ridge were two planes. Were they some of the planes that had started at dawn, and had all day combed these canyons? They were returning now. They'd bring back no word.

Guy felt their failure and quailed. How nearly he, too, had lost! How incredible that he'd NOT failed! An unwonted sense of the superhuman possessed him. Some sweetness, some guiding beauty had brought him here. To save Pat! He went on more surely, his heart and thought focused on the image of Pat's face..... Oh, when he looked in her eyes again—when he lifted her in his arms—

Suddenly the trail opened out in a wide overhanging ledge. It seemed to end here. Sheik halted. His face was dead, yellowish white; moisture dotted his forehead. He made a significant gesture to the sinking sun.

"Sets in 12 minutes. Dark comes on like lightning."

"I've flashes that throw the light 100 feet."

"You'll need both hands to hold on. There's where she goes down."

Guy felt his heart leap, felt a momentary faintness and terror. Steps cut like a crazy ladder went down the bald, perpendicular rocks. And he now glanced at the man who was to guide him. Almost completely sunk against the ledge. Just here he had stumbled, carrying Slim upwards. Just here he had clawed like a maniac to the slipping sandstone. His eyes were sick with the memory.

Guy took his flask, poured a measure of brandy. Shiek grabbed it eagerly, drained it in a gulp.

Again they started down. Their figures mingled with the shadows now thronging in purple concourse through arch and cavern. Down and down—two great brown crabs, claws dug tenaciously into the rocks—moving with bitter caution down the mountain side. Endless the mad ladder seemed. Once Guy's foot teetered. A rock slipped from under him.

He closed his ears and his thought to the sound of the stones clattering down the precipice, to Shiek's warning groan. Go on! Go down!

End of the mad ladder at last. Shiek slumped to the ground. "Easier from here. Gimme another gulp. Good God, Elliott, I'm finished. It's dark—at 5:30 it'll be black."

Guy poured the drink. Almost beside himself, almost insane with suspense, he urged: "On—get going . . . it's not dark—make it NOW! Hurry Montgomery—get me to that cave—to the mouth of it!"

They were running across the canyon floor—level, smooth earth under their feet.

Sheik pointed. By the flashlight Guy made out a heap of ashes. The remains of a fire where the two had camped last night. He forced his guide. Not till they stood within the cave, not till there was no possibility of mistaking it, did he relent. He trembled in a kind of wild hysteria. In here—Pat—He unwound the rope from his waist.

"Good God, Elliott, you're not going to tie me up?"

"I'm not relishing the job, Montgomery. But I'm not taking any chance. Would you?"

Guy's hands shook. Few moments now—in an hour at the longest. He felt her already in his arms.

Pat sat with her back pressed exhausted against the wall of the cave. Ten feet from her was that pit down which they had so nearly plunged. The picture of it was black in her mind—she was inert with the terror of it. Her arms had no strength to fasten about the little, quiet form, nestled in her lap.

Hours she had sat there, hours she had whispered: "I must get him out. Oh, God—dear mother of God—get us out." Yet she didn't move. She was afraid to move.

The child's breath was hot—his hands that now and then patted her cheek were dry and as flames.

Now he reached up and felt of Pat's face. Suddenly he turned against her and began to sob.

This brought her voice, thin and shaking: "Not crying, soldier" . . .

"You're crying, too! This is a giant's cave. You're afraid."

"No—you wait—you'll see—we're going out now—we'll find the little mounds of earth, Billy dear."

"I'm so thirsty. Why didn't you bring some water?"

"Milk is better—here—just a little." She poured from the can into his mouth. She stood up and, holding him hard in her arms, started again to wind and wind through the vicious, appalling labyrinth.

Go slowly—shove this oppressing wall of darkness back. She flashed the light—she pressed her ear against the walls. Oh, for some sound. It seemed to Pat that she would have shrieked in delight at any sound—yes, even to hear Slim groan—even to hear Ace coming with menacing stealth upon them.

Her knees trembled. She stumbled. And this so muted her that she remained on her knees, bowing her head down against the child's shoulder.

This so appalled her that she prayed and had the child pray with her. She got up from this appeal and went shoving against the wall.

She said stark words to herself. "Never in this gallery before . . . see how low the ceiling is . . . where are the little mounds I left. Oh, God—won't you show me the way? Billy—you're not asleep—Billy, answer me!"

But he was quiet. She put a frantic ear against his heart . . . oh, she had heard that children die quickly—they snuff out like candles. And, surely, now his pulse came halting—came very, very weak . . .

"Billy—oh, Billy—"

"Well—I'm tired . . . my eyes hurt . . . Pat, I'm sick. I have a pain here in my throat."

Again she poured the milk between his reluctant lips. He grew heavy — overpoweringly heavy.

Pat looked at her watch. It was 7 o'clock. She pressed on. She told herself in blank quiet: "Keep going . . . I've got to find the mouth . . . this cave MUST end!"

And she thought of Floyd Collins—veteran cave explorer, entombed in the very pits he had discovered — wandering there until at last he lay down to die. Ah—but this it not a mammoth cave—

She went on—8 o'clock. She drank a little of the milk—keep up her strength. She thought of Laura—thought of Guy winging to her in his silver plane.

She could scarcely walk now. Billy was so heavy. Her breath afflicted her. It came in long, laborious gasps. She had to pause every few feet and wipe her forehead.

And finally she had to stop. Can't go any farther tonight. Ah—but in the morning it will still be dark. Guy wasn't coming . . . no one was.

Perspiration dripped from her hair—her hands were clammy. She tried to get up and could not. She flashed the light. A pang that was like a sword splitting through her mind—through her flesh—the light was gone! It gave out a few wavering glimmers and was gone. She put her cheek against the child's—wound her arms gently about him and lay still.

WHEN a young couple are in love they find so much happiness in just being together.

But as soon as this happy young pair marry it seems they must always take guests, and others along when they go anywhere.

Naturally they must be nice to their guests, but if the truth were known most of these social functions end in a family spat of some kind.

Why should they bother to always have someone along. It is trying and costly, and they could have a better time together and no misunderstanding.

Why always include others and do such foolish things as trying to impress each other with the impression they make upon others.

They love each other best, so why bother with others.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Olina Is Advised to Heed Call Home From Her Mother.

"WHAT ought I to do about Maman?"

Princess Olina's question so surprised me—for so arrogant had been her mood lately, I had not imagined she would ask advice on any subject from anybody—that for a moment I did not know what answer to make her. Then her new and surprising humility clutched at my sympathies, and leaning forward I put my hands over hers.

"That can be settled later," I said. "The question now, I think, is what you wish to do."

She turned her palms upward and clutched at my hands convulsively, while her eyes looked at me with the tragic questioning of a young girl brought face to face with a decision which tears her heart.

"Oh! I want to go home, to see Maman and all the rest," she said, and the words were the wail of a homesick child, "but—I can't—I can't—while Georges——"

Her voice trailed away, and she lowered her eyes quickly in the shamefaced embarrassment which only a very young girl can suffer.

"Of course you can't go now," I interposed quickly, in my most matter-of-fact tone. "It wouldn't be possible even if you yourself demanded it. Mr. Underwood does not wish his plans for the capture of the conspirators plotting Prince Georges' assassination to be hampered by the departure of any one of us from the hotel. I think"—I smiled at her—"he is prepared to use force upon any prospective runaway if necessary."

The smile she gave me in return was a wan apology for mirth, but her eyes showed their relief at my answer.

"I am so glad he has issued that edict, for it makes it easier for me to decide. But as soon as Georges is out of this danger I must go home to Transvania. You agree with me, do you not?"

"Yes, indeed," I told her, but I do not think she heard me, so intent was she upon explaining her inadvertent outburst concerning the young prince.

"I suppose you think it odd that I should hesitate a second between my mother and Georges," she said diffidently, "but Georges is like a brother to me—indeed, no brother could have been more devoted than he—and I feel that I should be ungrateful—and churlish—to think of going away while he is in danger. You understand, don't you?"

"I understand perfectly," I told her, heartily—and with truth—for the poor child's heart was an open book just now for the reading of any observer, and the tremulous manner in which she brought out the word "brother" would have evoked a tender smile from the dourest of persons. "And I am sure your mother will understand also, and approve of your loyalty."

"Oh! I know that," she said, quickly. "Mama always liked Georges even when she was planning—other things—for me. She would wish me to stay here if she knew that Georges was here and in danger."

The color had rushed into her cheeks and it was not hard to follow her thoughts. I ventured a comment which would have been an impertinence ordinarily, but I guessed that she was willing, even anxious, to discuss the subject of my query.

"Have you considered, my dear," I said slowly, "that your mother may not have relinquished her ambition to see you queen of Trees, even though she has given up her plan to have you marry the old king, Georges' uncle?"

The color deepened in her face and her eyes searched mine. She was puzzled at my asking the question, I guessed, and was wondering whether my sympathies were as strongly with Mary's engagement to Georges as she had considered them. It was a doubt which I had planned to plant in her mind, and I smiled at her teasingly as I waited for her answer.

"Do you mean—Georges?" she asked, hesitatingly.

"Who else?" I countered.

"But—he is betrothed to Mary."

"Your mother does not know that," I said. "She only knows that the old king is seriously ill and that in all probability Georges will be king of Trees in a few weeks. Her love for you is as strong as her ambition, and she probably believes that a marriage to Prince Georges would make you very happy. He is a most charming chap, you know, worthy of any girl's love."

"But you don't want Mary to be the girl?" she burst forth.

Buttonholes

Mark a chalk line on material, the exact size of buttonhole, but do not cut it. Along this marked line machine a few rows of stitching, which must be very close together. This is to give you something to buttonhole on to. Then cut through middle of stitching and work the buttonhole in the ordinary way. You will get a neat, firm finish with no trouble.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Golf Widowlogues.

"MARRIAGE is getting to be just one Great Big Lark!" remarked Mrs. Green, laying down her newspaper and turning to pour a cup of tea for Mrs. Divot.

"Yes," laughed Mrs. Divot. "Marriages used to be made in heaven; but now they are made in aeroplanes and you catapult straight from the clouds of romance back to earth."

"Or else they are made in Mexico," added Mrs. Green. "Or in Paris or in Reno, or wherever a decree can be turned into a license at any minute. It must give you a fearful feeling of impertinence and irresponsibility to fly or reel or jazz or bump into the Holy Bonds as though it were a Coney Island frolic."

"Well," said Mrs. Divit philosophically, "the spirit of the modern marriage is hardly the Spirit of St. Louis. It has none of that steady purpose and determination to succeed and STICK through fog and cloud and storm which carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic. It is becoming just an experiment or a stunt or a lark, as you say."

* * *

"Perhaps that's why most young modern couples are a lot of QUITTERS!" rejoined Mrs. Green. "When you enter marriage with a feeling of impermanence, you are apt to leave it the first moment it bores you. The modern bridegroom keeps one eye on the exits while he answers the clergyman and the modern bride keeps one hand on her freedom while she places the other in the palm of her husband.

"Going into matrimony just as a transitory adventure or a temporary arrangement makes it seem more like a tide-over or a makeshift than life a life-partnership. It's like moving into a rented house instead of buying one."

"Exactly," agreed Mrs. Divot. "When you own your house you make an effort to keep UP the place. You develop it and beautify it and plant a garden around it. You feel a sense of obligation toward it and a possessive pride in it.

"And it's the same with marriage. When you look at it as a life proposition you'll spare no effort to make GOOD at it! You'll put up with a lot of little discomforts and adjust yourself to it and beautify it and glorify it until you MAKE it just what you have always dreamed it would be.

"But when you go into marriage feeling that you are just a TRANSIENT and can check out at any moment, you haven't the incentive to work at it very hard. You just feel sort of rest-

"And that," said Mrs. Green emphatically, "is why modern divorce lawyers all have gorgeous country estates and own yachts and limousines. They grow rich on our wonderful American sense of humor!"

"Our sense of humor?" repeated Mrs. Divot wonderingly.

"Any nation," said Mrs. Green, "that can take marriage as a LARK or a joke MUST have a remarkable sense of humor! Anybody who can see anything funny about a wedding would regard a funeral as a bit of comedy relief!"

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Diet and Insulin Control Diabetes

DIABETES is a condition resulting from inability of the system to handle properly the sugar which is consumed and which is essential to health. In this disease the body becomes overloaded with sugar or glucose. Other foods cannot be assimilated properly and digestion fails.

DR COPELAND

Persons who have a habit of overeating and who are overweight are subject to it. This tendency to overweight appears to "run in families" and so, in a sense, diabetes may be considered to have a heredity nature. Obesity is usually a forerunner of diabetes.

It is more frequent, too, among people who are mental workers, rather than among manual laborers. Nervous influences have their part to play in the disease as well. It is probable that disturbances in the nervous system interfere with the chemistry of the body.

There are upwards of a million people in the United States today who have diabetes. Some types are very mild in their nature, while others are more severe.

It is encouraging to know, that through a carefully planned diet and the use of insulin treatments, the disease may be kept in control. If a patient will follow certain health rules, he may live long and enjoy a useful life.

The use of insulin in diabetes dates from 1921, when Dr. Frederick G. Banting, in the Toronto General Hospital, made his discovery. He proved it possible to take insulin from the bodies of young animals and use it in injections for the successful treatment of this disease. Its use makes possible the burning of sugar in the body, and it also assists the disposition of fat. This insulin treatment is not taken independently of, but in connection with a proper and limited diet.

The diabetic patient must first of all follow a carefully planned diet, which is outlined by his physician. The prescribed diet is taken under the most precise regulations. Much can be accomplished by such a regime. The diet necessarily differs with each individual.

All reasonable foods may be included, but the total quantity of food should be strictly limited. The patient must be extremely temperate in the use of sweets. Unless frowned upon by the doctor, they may be had in simple desserts, but not between meals.

Highly seasoned foods or sauces cannot be taken. Overindulgence of every kind must be avoided. The older person should strive to keep his weight within normal bounds, and this may be accomplished by exercise and a limited diet. But in these matters medical advice is important.

Answers to Health Queries

M. F. A. Q.—What can be done with a little three-year-old girl with catarrhal trouble?

A.—It might be well to try a good nose and throat spray. Perhaps she has adenoids. Consult a nose and throat specialist for the necessary treatment.

Mrs. E. C. Q.—Is rye bread constipating?

A.—No.

A. T. Q.—Is it possible to buy bottled oxygen for an asthmatic patient who finds difficulty in breathing?

A.—Yes, make inquiry at a reliable drug store.

T. N. T. Q.—What causes a funny feeling in the head as though one were going to faint?

A.—This may be due to poor circulation. Build up your general health and your circulation will improve.

S. T. H. Q.—What causes veins in the legs?

A.—Varicose veins are caused by increased tension in the veins, due to either external pressure, some obstruction of the deep veins, or, as in many cases, to habitual overexertion, such as long standing.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, January 11.

UNDER the benign rule of Jupiter, the major benefic, in conjunction with the moon, all affairs of the day should increase, expand and give satisfaction, although employment has its hazards and there is some danger of subtle undermining unless care and precaution be brought to bear. There may be a desirable but unforeseen change, with the prospect of excellent new contracts or agreements; while business should thrive, the personal relations may not be quite harmonious.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of great opportunity and achievement, with all good things increasing and multiplying under the benignant sway of Jupiter. There may be sudden change, probably involving the employment, and there may be secret enmity and some anxiety in personal affairs, but these should be submerged under the propitious government of Jupiter.

A child born on this day should be versatile, clever and bounteously gifted with the grace and power to attain high position in life. But it may be subject to enmities and do better independently outside of employment by others.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Conversation at Formal Functions

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Here are some things which are confusing to me and I wonder if you could help me?

1. The receiving line at the formal ball. Should one give one's name and then the name of one's escort?

2. What is the general subject for conversation?

3. If my father is absent, and my young man friend is a dinner guest—with only my mother and myself—does he help my mother or me to be seated?

4. And what do you think of my stationery and handwriting? DOROTHY.

YES. And pronounce the names distinctly.

2. The weather. The charm of the decorations. The music. The beauty of the girls and the general charm of the room and its brilliant appearance. The topics of conversation on such formal occasions must necessarily be of the most objective kind.

3. He helps your mother first, and then, if he is agile, he will be behind your chair, to help you next.

4. Your letter-paper would be very good-looking if the sheets were double. But single sheets of this kind lose, I think, all their "social charm," giving more the impression that they are adapted for business letters than for social ones.

Your handwriting is pretty good, and would be better if it did not give such a loose-jointed appearance. Tighten it up, by forming your letters more carefully. Then, too, make a margin around all four sides of your pages.

The Girls May Invite Their Escorts

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am planning to give a birthday party and would like to know if it would be proper to ask the girls to invite their boy friends?

I go to a high school where we have segregation, and I do not go out very much, therefore, I do not know so very many boys and would feel shy to ask boys whom I do not know very well. I also think that the girls might not enjoy the evening with their own friends.

I have been to a party where the girls were asked to invite their friends, and I would like to know your opinion concerning this. ALICE.

IN these informal days it is perfectly correct for you to ask the girls to invite the boys to accompany them to the party. But—do let me beseech you to "second" that invitation with your own invitation. That is, have the girls invite the boys, but then you ask the girls for the names and addresses of the boys that they have invited. Write to each of these boys a cordial, friendly note saying that you wish to assure him that you and your mother will be very happy to have him come and will welcome him to your home. This is excellent form, and a well-bred boy will then know that you know what's what. And the ones who are not quite so well bred will know that there is something in this to respect and admire. Also it overcomes the feeling that you have, of the etiquette of having the boys. Doesn't it?

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

HOOVER'S PLAN DRAWS FIRE OF SNIPERS

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Now that the fear waves, which accompanied and followed the Wall street debacle, have been checked, there has been increased sniping at President Hoover's larger plan for modifying the business cycle.

Of course, the idea of scientific co-ordination among business executives and representatives of government is not sancrosanct, and will doubtless be vitalized by sensible criticism. As a sample of the new forms of opposition, Norman Lombard, executive vice president of the Stable Money Association, attacked the Hoover program in a speech before the Institute of Statesmanship at Rollins College, Florida, because it ignored his own pet plan for currency reform. A more embarrassing and covert criticism has come through grapevine channels from Capitol Hill in Washington, where it has been suggested that Mr. Hoover's extra legal scheme for joining hands between government and business for mitigating the effects of the recession involves super-government.

MAY NEED LEGISLATION

Clearly, one effect in the White House plan was that it left Congress out. It was thought that no legislation was needed to carry out the program. But in order to avoid unnecessary complications, it would be well after the plan has received a better test to get Congress to act on a resolution approving the presidential effort to perpetuate prosperity and to eliminate avoidable unemployment.

Such a procedure would seem wiser than the present administration disposition to play down the idea that the business council, headed by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, might be converted into a permanent body on business planning and co-ordination. In order to allay congressional criticism, the present policy is to give the impression that the business council is only a fire bucket brigade called into being to meet the existing emergency. On the other hand, it is understood that President Hoover long before the Wall Street crash had privately discussed the possibility of setting up a permanent liason between government and business for stabilizing business. The idea, which had been previously suggested by economists, rests on the necessity of a permanent body, not merely one hastily brought together for publicity effect in the time of economic crisis.

CALLED RATHER LATE

Even though Mr. Hoover proceeded expeditiously after the Wall Street crash, economists believe that the economic council was called into being rather late. The real turn in the business situation came earlier in the summer before the speculative debacle in October. A permanent council with adequate statistical facilities would be able to meet emergencies before they materialized, and could be infinitely more effective in keeping trade on a more even keel.

Mr. Lombard seems somewhat irrelevent in reciting platitudes about the desirability of a stable price level, about which there is little disagreement. However, the last two years have been characterized by extremely narrow swings in commodity prices. Commodity price instability constituted no major factor in the recent recession of trade from the record-breaking heights of the first half of 1929.

Artificial price maintenance usually brings more evils than benefits. Because of its preponderant position in the world coffee market, Brazil has become frequently cited as a country which has been successful in keeping up the price of its product. As a matter of fact, the governmental authorities recently have had to make great price concessions, as they met resistance in their organized efforts to stand in the way of the law of supply and demand.

BONDS STILL GOOD BUYS

Dullness at the New York Stock Exchange encourages those with surplus funds to supply investment standards to securities, rather than to pursue the earlier habit of paying a premium for more excitement and popularity. Public interest in stocks always moves in cycles, and, broadly speaking, the best bargains are available in times of apathy. The investor who waits for active periods when he will have to compete with speculative buyers overlooks opportunities.

The current trend of interest rates and the near term outlook for money indicate that the advice to buy and hold good bonds is still timely.

A new fashion has sprung up, especially among investment trusts and trading companies, of buying up their own shares when they sell in the open market below liquidating value, and then canceling such shares. The effect of the operation is to raise the book value of the shares which remain outstanding. In the case of a company, whose business is merely holding a portfolio of diversified securities, it is clearly advantageous to support its shares in this manner. In the case of a manufacturing company, there might be difficulty in realizing at a forced sale the nominal value of fixed assets. Accordingly, liquidating value in an industrial is a vaguer matter.

Slow Start in Motor Output Expected

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

AUTOMOBILE production in 1930 is unlikely to reach the totals of last year but, following a brief period of recession, the industry may be expected to continue its upward trend. This opinion has been expressed by several leaders in the trade and it is also the conclusion drawn by the makers of several statistical studies of the industry.

Pittsburgh industrial organizations have been watching for the first tangible signs of the activity of the new automobile selling season since Detroit is one of this district's biggest customers. The motor car makers are the second largest consumers of steel. They also use 75 per cent of the plate glass output and 25 per cent of the aluminum production. These three industries form the most important part of Pittsburghs' industrial life.

Motor Show Attendance

AN encouraging amount of public interest in the new models has been shown at the New York automobile show but it is still too soon to accurately gauge the volume of actual sales. Steel mills have felt the benefits of some increase in the demand for material for automobiles but the size of production schedules for the next few months has not yet been determined.

Most authorities agree that it will be far beyond reasonable expectations to hope that 1930 will approach the record production of about 5,700,000 cars and trucks in the United States and Canada in 1929. The decline may be attributed to the curtailment of public buying power and the fact that dealers are rather heavily stocked with cars left over from last year.

Three Year Cycle

SINCE the end of the post-war boom automobile production has been running in three year cycles. Every two years of expanding business has been followed by a year of moderate depression, but the average of these three year periods shows a general upward trend.

The last year of depression was 1927, when 3,580,000 units were made in the United States and Canada. This was followed by a new high record of 4,601,000 cars in 1928 and a further high in 1929. If this cycle continues, and most signs indicate that it will, the current year is due for a decline. There is a wide divergence of opinion as to the extent of the drop to be shown. Most of the estimates place the year's probable output at 4,500,000 to 4,800,000 cars as compared with about 5,700,000 in 1929.

To Gain Late in Year

IN view of the fact that general business activity in 1930 is having a slow start, most people connected with the automobile trade believe that the latter half of the year will be better than the first half. If past precedents are followed this expanding tendency at the close of the year should continue into 1931 with the usual seasonal variations.

While the industry has been gaining at an exceptionally rapid pace, there are some who believe that market saturation is not far off. This has been worrying the trade for years but the country has been constantly exceeding most estimates of its ability to absorb new cars.

The fact that the life of automobiles is short makes the approach of saturation less of a danger to the motor industry than to many other newly developed types of business. Replacement demand insures a good rate of production indefinitely although the growth of markets may be less rapid in the future than it has been in the past.

Business Trend to Show Improvement in Final Quarter of Year.

A SURVEY of the views of many interests regarding the business trend in the current year has resulted in the following average opinions: That first quarter results will show a sharp drop below the record of the corresponding three months of 1929. That the second quarter will disclose an improvement over the preceeding period, but still will be below the level of activities for the second quarter of last year. That the third and fourth quarters will show a decided stepping up of industrial activity and will compare more favorably with the corresponding periods of 1929. It is maintained that if these views are correct and the market is to reflect the changes for the better as they develop later in the year, there should be a definite upward trend in stock prices, subject to the minor interruptions which are always to be expected during a rising market.

One of the New York utilities which has enjoyed good scale buying on every reaction since the middle of November is Brooklyn Union Gas. Important interests have been credited with accumulating the stock during every opportunity in the past month or so. The issue is on a more attractive yield basis than many other utilities. Many discussions were heard during the past year of the merger possibilities of the company and these are likely to be revived again when activity and strength develop in the issue. In some quarters it is contended there has been evidence of banking demand, but most buying orders have been scattered among a number of commission houses.

BECAUSE National Biscuit new stock will remain on a "when issued" basis for several months, there has been good buying in the stock. Plans for splitting the old stock 2½ shares for 1 were made public during the November break in the market, when conditions prevented much response to this favorable development. Interests who always have favored picking up the split-up shares of high-grade companies have been purchasing the new stock. They point out this practice has been quite profitable in many cases in the past, because split-ups usually mean increased earnings and better dividends. The lower-priced stocks also are more in public favor, improving the market for the issue over that which ruled for the old and higher-priced stocks.

A lively spurt in Texas Gulf Sulphur provided the market with one of its outstandingly strong features in the early part of yesterday. This stock which had been a favorite medium of speculation not so long back had been virtually dormant for weeks. Yesterday, however, interest was revived in a measure by the news that the company had been upheld by the court in a suit brought against it and the Gulf Production Company, a subsidiary of the Gulf Oil Corporation, and others, by the Union Sulphur Company, seeking cancellation of certain leases held by these companies on the ground that they had failed to develop the area involved.

ALTHOUGH the market was a trifle more active and the tone a shade better, it still beat about in the doldrums during yesterday. Most observers were of the opinion that the present lethargy would not be of long duration, but were hesitant in venturing a guess on the course of direction the market will take as it breaks out of the present lull. There was, however, some tendency toward revision of estimates of the proportion of the short interest now in the market. The action of the market itself carried the suggestion to many that the dimensions of this element may very likely have been overestimated recently. At any rate it was generally conceded that the short interest now outstanding is neither lightwasted nor timid and may be expected to fight stubbornly any advance that might develop.

Reports are current that the stock of United Gas Improvement is under accumulation for the account of strong banking interests. It is pointed out that United Gas Improvement is in a position to benefit materially from the steady growth in the territory served in and around Philadelphia. It is understood that United Gas Improvement owns over 1,600,000 shares of Public Service of New Jersey. The latter recently increased its dividend and declared an extra. In some quarters it is thought that United Gas Improvement will sooner or later pass along some of this increased revenue on its holdings to stockholders.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stock Rise Halted — Local Market Narrow

PROFIT TAKING HALTS STOCK RECOVERY

Market Turns Dull When Gains Dwindle—Operators For Rise Have Advantage

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP.)—Heavy profit taking impeded the resumption of the recovery in today's stock market, although operators for the advance continued to retain the advantage. Early gains of 1 to nearly 7 points were cut down, and in a few cases wiped out and converted into moderate declines. Trading, which started off at a brisk pace, turned dull in the early afternoon.

An increase of nearly 300,000 tons in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation was the most important business development of the day. The gain, however, probably was due to a shutting down of operations last month rather than to any unusual increase in demand.

STEEL ADVANCES

U. S. Steel Common, which advanced 2¼ points to 173¼ in the early trading, lost practically all of its gain in the wave of profit-taking which followed the announcement, but soon crossed 172 again. Sloss Sheffield Steel ran up 5 points.

Call money renewed unchanged at 4½ per cent but the supply of new funds was not as plentiful, and it looked as though the rate would be maintained instead of being dropped to 4 per cent as it nas in the three preceding sessions. The time money market was quiet.

Despite the optimistic statements coming from automobile executives attending the annual motor show here, the automotive issues continued heavy. Nash, Chrysler, Hudson, Timken Roller Bearing and Hayes Body all yielded a point or more, while Auburn lost its early gain of 5¼ points by early afternoon.

WESTERN UNION SAGS

Western Union, which soared 14½ points yesterday, fell back 5½ today and American Machine and Foundry, which closed yesterday with a gain of 5½ points, was hammered down 7¾ today. International Silver fell back 7 points and American and Foreign Power, Simmons Company, Firestone Tire, Fox Film A and Andes Copper lost 2 points, or more.

American Zinc preferred ran up more than 6 points, Otis Elevator 5, and Houston Oil, J. I. Case, Columbian Carbon, Allied Chemical and Louisville and Nashville advanced 3 points or more.

SHARON MILLS SHOW GAIN

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 10.—A slight increase was made in the operating schedules of Shenango Valley mills during the past week. Sharon Steel Hoop operated three open hearths, three strip mills and all sheet mills.

Carnegie Steel Company maintained its usual schedule with two blast furnaces and the skelp mill still inactive.

American Steel and Wire was on its 60 per cent basis. Farrell and Mercer Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company remained unchanged.

Gain Noted in N. Y. Savings Accounts

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The stock market crash of last fall has resulted, savings bank officials here say, in a large increase in the number of accounts of persons heretofore classed as "small investors" in Wall street. It is estimated that nearly 20,000 new savings accounts were opened in New York during October and November.

Westinghouse Will Market Refrigerator

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company plans to begin distribution of its new electric refrigerator about February 1. The initial distribution will be made to dealers in the territory between Pittsburgh and Detroit. The refrigerator will be manufactured partly at East Springfield, Mass., and partly at Mansfield, O., but assembled at the latter point.

Record Gas Output By Michigan Firms

DETROIT, Jan. 10.—Production of Michigan gas companies for 1929 amounted to approximately 38,000,000,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas, an increase of 3,500,000,000 cubic feet or 11 per cent over 1928, the previous record year, according to estimates of Michigan Public Utility Information Bureau. Revenues for 1929 aggregated around $34,750,000, or a gain of 10 per cent over 1928.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED

Eastern States Power.

Eastern States Power declared initial dividend of 25 cents on class B stock and regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 on $7 preferred and $1.50 on $6 preferred stock, all payable February 1 to record January 15.

Lone Star Gas Initial.

Lone Star Gas Corporation declared an initial quarterly dividend of $1.63 a share on the preferred stock, payable February 1 to record of January 20. The company will pay quarterly $1.63 and $1.62 alternately, so as to make $6.50 for the year.

Cotton Exchange Investigation to Reopen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Senate sub-committee on agriculture will resume its hearings on the situation in the cotton market Saturday at 10 o'clock.

T. R. Jones, of Norfolk, Va., and S. L. Morely, of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association, both of whom are now in Washington, will be subpenaed to appear before the committee. Two ex-presidents of the New York Cotton Exchange, John M. Hubbard, Sr., and Mr. Marsh, will be summoned to testify. The committee also wants to hear the auditor and manager of the clearing house of the New York Cotton Exchange.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Wheat values here took an early downward course today, influenced by apparent slackness of export demand and by sagging of wheat quotations at Liverpool. British millers were represented as showing indifference to purchases. Starting ¼ to ¾c down, Chicago wheat later continued to decline. Corn, oats and provisions were also easier, with corn opening ⅛ off to ⅜c up, and subsequently receding all around.

To a large degree, setbacks in Chicago wheat prices today resulted more from dearth of speculative buying than from any aggresive selling. An outstanding feature was that export bids for United States wheat appeared to be mostly at figures below the cost of replacement and affording no margin of profit. On the other hand, messages from St. Louis said No. 2 red wheat there had been sold at 6c a bushel over the price of Chicago May delivery, a premium higher than any heretofore reached this season.

Some wheat traders today attached significance to word that Germany's potato crop is short, a circumstance indicating enlarged need of breadstuffs to substitute. The 1929 yield of potatoes in Germany was officially estimated as 1,472,563,000 bushels compared with 1,516,373,000 bushels in 1928. On the other hand, instances were cited today showing that re-sellers of wheat in Europe were offering wheat 3 pence a bushel cheaper than was asked by North America.

Byllesby Efficiency Lauded by Phillips

The efficiency of the Byllesby Engineering and Management Corporation since it has taken over the engineering management of the Philadelphia Company has resulted in large savings, especially in time lost due to accidents, according to F. R. Phillips, vice president of the Philadelphia Company, who addressed the Pittsburgh Bond Club at the regular weekly luncheon at the William Penn Hotel yesterday.

Time lost from accidents, he stated, has been reduced 8 per cent and service complaints more than 60 per cent. Mr. Phillips further cited Byllesby efficiency in the case of Pittsburgh Railways Company, stating that although the gross revenue had been reduced over $2,000,000 last year, operating costs had been so reduced that the company had been able to invest more in maintenance and improvements than in any previous year.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The curb market again turned hesitant today after a further extension of yesterday's rallies during the first hour of trading. This was in keeping with the recent tendency of the market to attract profit taking on moderate advances and indicates that speculative confidence is slow in returning. While little decisively bearish comment is heard among traders, there is a notable lack of optimism over near term prospects.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

STEEL DEMAND IMPROVES

Moderate improvement in steel demand is noted in the Pittsburgh district, says Daily Metal Trade, Merchant. Bar releases are increasing and with most automotive interest preparing to renew or increase their operations, steel specifications from these interests are improving. This is particularly true of Alloy Steel Bars. More strip steel is being taken than in December and operations have been stepped up, largely through the accumulation of deferred shipment tonnage. Demand for structural shapes in the east is keeping up at a high rate, and mills in the district are able to maintain production around 80 to 85 per cent of capacity.

Gradual return to normal activity in the steel industry is indicated by the fact that subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation are expected to be operating between 63 and 65 per cent of capacity by the end of this week. Independent Steel Producers also are stepping up their operating rates.

A flurry in iron and steel scrap at Detroit has boosted prices on half a dozen grades 50 cents or more a ton. Scrap, turning strongly upward, might be taken as a fair weather sign for the steel industry. Shipments of pig iron are increasing in the Chicago district, and it is expected the January delivery rate will show a gain of as much as 20 per cent over that of December.

Brown Denies Rail Merger is Pending

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(INS.)—Rumors current in Wall Street yesterday that directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company and the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company have taken preliminary steps to effect a merger of their lines, were denied by E. N. Brown, chairman of the board of the Frisco, and also chairman of the Rock Island executive committee.

"I cannot understand how this story originated," said Mr. Brown. "There is no foundation for it."

Chesapeake Gets Bond Authorization

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Chesapeake and Ohio Railway was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $35,088,000 of 4½ per cent refunding and improvement mortgage gold bonds, series B, which will be sold at not less than 91½ per cent of par and accrued interest, and proceeds used to retire maturing bonds and to reimburse treasury for moneys spent in retiring matured bonds.

I. C. C. Approves Union Switch Control

WASHINGTON.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, after inspection and test, has approved automatic train stop devices of the Union Switch and Signal Company, installed on portions of the New Haven and Providence Divisions of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. The installation was made pursuant to the Commission's order, at a cost of $644,402 for roadway equipment and $249,373 for locomotive equipment.

Union Switch and Signal Company is a subsidiary of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company.

Reading Awards Big Power Contract

Walter Winchell
On Broadway

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

THAT between the Battery and 135th St., in New York City, there are exactly 18,968 electric signs and 1,243,538 electric bulbs.

That C. B. Dillingham didn't have the first electric sign for theaters. The first was used on Miner's Fifth Ave. Theater at Broadway and 28th St., and read "Miner's 5th Ave. Theatre —Fanny Davenport."

That the Beaux Arts, one of the better known gay places in N. Y., never charges a couvert to customers who keep $100 on deposit, who are also allowed from 5 to 10 per cent discount on restaurant fees.

That Victor McLaglen, 6 ft. 3, is the smallest of seven brothers.

That when Chicago was Fort Dearborn on the shores of Lake Michigan there was a guide named Alexander Wolcott, the first critic of his time to be barred from the local tepees.

ON WITH THE SHOW

THAT Ruth Morgan, until recently a show gel with Ziegfeld's "Whoopee," who never was on the stage before, is now playing the role of the Baroness in "Candle-Light" at the Empire. Hmmm!

That the N. Y. World had the Nicky Arnstein marriage story two weeks before it was scooped on it. An office leak.

That in most of the major movie houses on Broadway there is a major—Major Bowes, Major Warner, Major Roxy and Major Zanft—which explains all the military discipline and other epplesuss.

That women are not allowed to smoke at the snooty Lake Placid Club, that is, according to that club's year book.

That Minnie Maddern Fiske, the star, has been a member of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and has never worn a fur piece in her life. That when she encountered a woman member of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Birds, she soundly scored her for wearing a fur coat. "Practice what you preach, my dear," snapped the woman who asked Mrs. Fiske why she was wearing a feather boa.

ONE CROSS DURG, $1,000

THAT the German Schnauzer dog, which costs about $1,000, is a cross between a Scotch terrier and a police durg.

That Charles Leonard Fletcher of vaudeville has played 311,913 holes of golf in 31 years and can prove it.

That it takes eight months, working day and night, to build one of those technicolor cameras, of which only 11 are in Hollywood.

That since the Equity strike flop out there 11,000 extras are registered at the central casting office.

That another reason why Broadway managers cannot lick the talkie invasion is that when The Griffiths Family, a $700 a week sensational laugh provoker opened here in "Wake Up and Dream," they received an offer the following day to go into the movies at $2,500 per wk.

TROUBLE, HOW TO GET

THAT a drunken British actor, suspicious of two men following him, ran for a mailbox and threw his money and jewelry into it, for which the would-be bandits gave him a sound thrashing. His screams for help brought a cop, who arrived just as the actor was fishing for his valuables in the mailbox, so he was arrested on two counts: For being disorderly and attempting to rob the U. S. mails. It took a month to effect his release.

That Fannie Brice and Vera Maxwell made a pact 20 years ago, viz: If the breaks went sour for either the other would do the supporting. The vow was made during the 1910 "Ziegfeld Follies."

BREAKING OF BREAD

THAT Americans have bigger and better diamonds than the citizens of other countries. There are about ten million carats of diamonds sparkling here to a value of about four billion $.

That the French cannot disinherit their children.

That the word "kike" is in Funk and Wagnall's dictionary and doesn't mean what you think, at all. It is pronounced "keek."

That a magician just imported from London is amazing night club patrons with his "Tea Kettle" trick. Using a tiny kettle he asks you to name any drink—beer, milk, water, ginger ale, white rock, chartreuse, creme de menthe, cream de cocoa, scotch, rye and so forth. As you name the drink he promptly produces it in a glass and sends it over to your table.

AVALON GRANTS 71 PERMITS

Seventy-one permits for buildings, costing a total of $268,773, were issued in Avalon last year, according to the annual report of Capt. J. N. Arthur, borough manager. This is a gain of $35,185, compared with 1928.

The buildings were classified as follows: Twenty-four one-family dwellings, $154,860; four two-family dwellings, $36,000; three four-family apartments, $40,000; two commercial buildings, $18,500; 28 garages, $11,673; 10 alterations and repairs, $7,740.

Real Estate

A 50-year lease for a prominent McKeesport business property involving more than $1,000,000 has been closed through Joseph A. Aronson of the United States Realty Company. A three-story building at 214-218 Fifth avenue, corner Blackberry way, lot 60x140 feet, has been leased for Mary C. Wyant, et al, to the Diamond-Smithfield Land Company. A new structure to be known as the Wyant Building will be erected for chain store organization. Possession of the present building will be given May 1, 1931.

A large brick residence and garage at 5228 Westminster place, Shadyside, has been sold by William F. Bickel to Eleanor C. O'Neill. The lot is 65x277 feet.

A residence at 305 West Swissvale avenue, Edgewood, has been sold to Lewis W. Chubb to Sarah E. Croft. The lot is 55x130 feet.

In West View two new homes in Highland avenue, opposite the Highland Country Club, have been sold by William Jenkinson, Jr., of the Jenkinson Realty Company. A brick dwelling on 30x110 feet at 441 Highland avenue was sold to William M. Hock and a house at 437 Highland avenue, lot 30x110 feet, to Andrew Miller.

A property in Main street, near Davison street, Ninth Ward, has been sold by William A. Austin to Eli R. Fetzer. The lot is 20x100 feet.

A three-story store and apartment at 310 Island avenue, McKees Rocks, has been sold by Jacob Shapira to Joseph Schuster. The lot is 25x34 feet.

A property in Shady drive, Mt. Lebanon, has been sold by Gustav F. Rohrmann to August F. Pischke. The lot is 103x142 feet.

In Brookline, Leslie H. Seidener has sold to Alice M. Carleton 30x120 feet in Glenarm avenue.

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

DUMB DORA — The High Price of Eggs — By Young

THERE'S NO DOUBT IN MY MIND AT ALL, BUT THAT MY TALKING PICTURE WILL BE A SENSATION··· BUT IT WILL NEED A WONDERFUL ACTRESS TO PLAY THE LEADING ROLE···
YOU SAID IT·· SHE'LL HAVE TO BE A LOT MORE TALENTED THAN SARAH BERNHARDT WAS···SHE'LL HAVE TO DO EVERYTHING KNOWN TO THE THEATRICAL WORLD BUT TIGHT ROPE WALKING···
SHE MUST MAKE THE AUDIENCE CLENCH THEIR FISTS IN HATE···THEN BREAK DOWN AND CRY LIKE BABIES··· SHE MUST PLAY ON THEIR HEART STRINGS LIKE A GENIUS PLAYS ON HIS VIOLIN·
-THE NEXT MINUTE SHE MUST HAVE THEM ROLLING OUT OF THEIR SEATS WITH LAUGHTER···THE AUDIENCE MUST BE HAPPY AND SAD, MAD AND GLAD, CONTENTED AND DISCONTENTED, ALL AT THE SAME TIME··
THERE'S NO ACTRESS THAT CAN DO ALL THAT!

PROGRESS IS MADE.

(Interview)

"In two sequences of our picture efforts have been procured which to my knowledge, have never before been managed in a talking picture. One sequence shows a racing car at full speed. Above the roar of the motor, the lash of rain and the roll of thunder the voices of the two men in the car can be heard distinctly. The other sequence shows a motor boat 'wide open.' Despite a dense fog and the pounding of waves, three persons speak with perfect clarity. There is true realism in this story, and unless it is spoiled in cutting, it will prove one of the better type of films."

Gen. Smuts' Propaganda Should Interest Hoover

Gen. Jan Smuts, of Boer War and World War fame, is a great politician, a gallant soldier, and one of the keenest philosophic minds in the world today. America is honored by his presence.

Gen. Smuts is less honored by the errand upon which he is engaged: the task of persuading us that we must work with the League of Nations and eventually join the League itself.

It is vain for Gen. Smuts to protest that he is not here to interfere in our American policies or tell us what to do in our relations with other nations. His actions belie his words.

On January 4 he addressed representatives of a group of 33 organizations, who had been herded to New York by the League of Nations Association, under whose auspices Gen. Smuts was brought to the United States. The assemblage was to honor the tenth anniversary of the founding of the League.

Next day the New York Times announced Gen. Smuts' address with the headlines: "LEAGUE VICTORY HERE FORECAST BY SMUTS asserts foundations of world will be shaken if it fails of purpose."

Turning to the text of Gen. Smuts' remarks we read:

"At one time it seemed as though the great causes you represent had been struck a mortal blow. But you showed a stiff upper lip, and today we have here these 33 organizations, gathered for this great purpose.

"As one from the outside I want to thank you for the loyal work you have done for the League. Time will prove that your work will bear fruit. The office where the League of Nations Association meets is really the greatest place in New York City because it is the place where the greatest cause is represented.

"As sure as we sit here today there will be a time when all the efforts and the cause you stand for will be triumphant all over the world. I know we cannot fail. If we failed, the foundations of the world would be shaken. We must win and we should go on fighting."

He also tells us what we should do about joining the World Court, a highly controversial subject upon which the Senate still has to vote. He told his auditors on January 4:

"It is a matter for congratulation that the World Court followed some of the foundations of the Constitution of the United States. The development of the World Court has been entirely along the line of your own fundamental institutions. Nobody need fear that in becoming a member the United States will be departing from its traditions."

Gen. Smuts is exuberant in his praise of the Kellogg Peace Pact; the only criticism is that "it is somewhat vague still." He will soon tell us what to do about that. In fact, he has already told us, in addresses in England, carefully reproduced in this country by the pro-League metropolitan newspapers of New York. Speaking at Oxford on November 10 he asked what the United States would do in case the League of Nations branded somebody as an aggressor and proceeded to boycott him:

"Will the United States claim her commercial rights as a neutral in such a case? It would be an insult to the United States to put such a question gravely. Now, after the Kellogg Pact, even the form of abstract right (to neutrality) has virtually disappeared. The United States cannot afford to leave the matter where it now stands in the peace pact. It will have to draw the logical conclusions from its declared policy."

How alien this is to American policy is indicated by the fact that on the following day, November 11, Herbert Hoover made his proposal that in future war food ships for civilian populations should be immune from blockade.

Finally, on January 5, at the New York Metropolitan Opera House, Gen. Smuts told us what to do, and what not to do, about disarmament. He said:

"If that conference this month is going to meet in London and approach the disarmament question from the point of view of national needs, I think the result may be not disarmament, but further armament. To my mind, national need is not the standard to follow. It is the peace pact . . . on the assumption that the peace pact means what it says and that the nations who signed it are prepared to carry it out."

Gen. Smuts was followed on the platform by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who went one step further in arguing for a defenseless America:

"What follows the pact in Paris is to leave off violating that pact by continuing to think and plan and vote in terms of war and to begin to think and plan and vote in terms of peace. They are still talking about neutrality. They are still talking about parity. They are still talking about security. They are still talking about defense as if those words had not had all their meaning destroyed by the pact of Paris, if we believe it."

All that the pacifist meeting needed was to have Carrie Chapman Catt, executive chairman of the Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, make her famous plea for formal abandonment of the principle of self-defense as a move for peace.

Imagine—if you can—imagine England tolerating an American statesman touring England, spreading propaganda hostile to the declared purposes of the British government and the British people and perilous to the defense and safety of the British Empire!

The President should intimate to Gen. Smuts that he has violated the hospitality of the country, and request his return home.

You Can't Spend Too Much

Of Course, You Can WASTE.

Prof. Albert van Hecke, Belgian, finds much to praise in the United States. Only an orderly and patient people could endure the rush hour jams without running amuck.

The professor also admires the cheer leaders at football games, and would like to import a few to jazz up Belgium.

He makes one criticism—we spend too much. And there, as an observer, he falls down.

Americans don't spend too much. They don't spend enough. Nobody does.

To be sure, THROWING MONEY AWAY, as many do, is not spending.

Spending means putting your money to work—for a car that will triple your physical efficiency, for an education that will quadruple your brain power, for any of a hundred things that PAY.

THE REFUGE

Drawn by Nelson Harding

A refuge is provided for
The Federal killers, when they shoot,
And after them a stubborn door
Is closed upon the State's pursuit.

The sorry sight depicted here,
Too often seen throughout the land,
Of shelter given one who flees,

"Bugs" Baer Says:

The Collegiate Broth

FOOTBALL reforms for next season will make ticket scalping almost effeminate.

The college dukes want football turned back to the students and the goalposts to their proper owners.

There will be no admission charged to the frozen stadiums of the great northeast.

"Bugs" Baer

The best football game we saw last season was between Jamaica Prep and Carnegie Reading Room. The students were fighting for the possession of a lamppost which was owned by the city.

They were trying to educate a backward sophomore by hanging him. We hope the professors do not turn football back to the students. It's too tough now.

It would be much healthier if they took football away from the students and gave it to the police.

We saw all the big games in the East and enjoyed watching the ambulance crew adding up the numbers on the players' backs. After every game we became a charter member of a panic around the goalposts.

It seems to be an inherited obsession among college students that if you don't run fast enough you are a legitimate souvenir.

The way to make football safer is to put the varsity elevens in the stands and allow the students to scramble on the field. There is nothing so ferocious as a diminutive student who couldn't make the rumble seat of an eight-oared glee club.

When the whistle blows that announces the end of supervised slugging he starts out to snipe old graduates and innocent accomplices.

We have seen 500 classical delinquents charging an ancient village constable whose beard was so dry and withered that it generated its own static electricity.

We do not know why the city authorities always choose to defend the wrong goalposts. Neither do we know why a student wants to rip up goalposts when you can buy a thousand tooth-picks for a dime.

The misguided professors and deans who think they are running football have never been at the bottom of a churning huddle. It would be a nice thing to get into the Yale Bowl free of charge but who wants to see a riot staged by amateurs?

The Rules Committee has tried to take the brutality out of football and have used every angle except resigning in a body. And, even if they make the spectacle free we will continue to get our seats on the half-mile line.

'TRIED AND FOUND WANTING'

By Herbert Kaufman

THE country's quarrel is not with the PRINCIPLE of Prohibition, but with Prohibition's utter LACK of principle.

A decisive majority of the American people are STILL hopeful that the nation may be rid of DRUNKENNESS.

But ten years of experience compels them to decide that drinking is on the RISE instead of wane, and that crime has increased, not DIMINISHED, under the Eighteenth Amendment.

They indorsed the Eighteenth Amendment and applauded its purpose. Now they challenge its effectiveness and DESPISE its spirit—because the Eighteenth Amendment is not a DISPASSIONATE statute, but a vindictive PERSECUTOR—a tool of fanaticism and a toady to politics.

They do not RESPECT the Eighteenth Amendment—because the Eighteenth Amendment has no respect for Constitutional guarantees—because it has no PITY—because it has no consideration for human frailty or extenuating circumstance.

THE Eighteenth Amendment refuses to recognize any OTHER law.

It daily invades the rights born of Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence—encourages and justifies entry and arrest without warrant—empowers enforcement officers to shoot and kill innocent citizens, and defiantly SUSTAINS these illegalities.

The Eighteenth Amendment has grown hateful to all fair-mindedness and loyalty, because the average American does not subscribe to Government terrorism or trial by prejudice.

The average American is a decent, orderly person, with implicit faith in the integrity of duly appointed authority.

BUT that faith must WAVER, when he witnesses the bargains openly driven between Senators and Representatives with the vote-peddling lobbies, which notoriously write every enforcement act and control every important enforcement responsibility.

General confidence in the quality of the Federal bench cannot but be IMPAIRED, as judge after judge overrides the Constitution, precedent and EVIDENCE, to curry favor with organizations so ruthlessly devoted to reformation that they would list mere possession of a hip flask or a single sale of rum in the HIGHEST brackets of felony.

Michigan's retracted "life for a pint" penalty, the atrocious Jones Act, and pending measures which require guests and servants to become spies and informers, indicate the lengths to which uncompromising bigotry and craven legislation are prepared to go.

IF Prohibition is not soon brought to REASON—and CONFORMATION with the CONSTITUTION—the religious forces, conspiring with the Anti-Saloon League to rule Washington—AND OUR PERSONAL HABITS—will set aside the divorce pronounced on July 4, 1776, when the interference of church with state was specifically and forever PROHIBITED within the borders of the Republic.

Volsteadism has rejoined them in wedlock to breed disruption, confusion and tyranny—to confound Federal administration and violate our estate of independence.

The Eighteenth Amendment and its intolerant interpretations NO LONGER express POPULAR will, but Puritanism's reawakened lust for power over community thought and morals.

The Prohibition question now resolves itself into whether we shall be governed by DEMOCRATIC processes or by Bluenose DICTATION.

And THAT'S largely up to YOU, Mr. Hoover.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

PITY—

"The attribute of angels"—it has been called.

BUT IT'S ALSO THE BIG STICK OF CRY-BABIES AND IT'S TIME SOMEONE SHOWED IT UP AS SUCH

Charity, 'tis said, covers a multitude of sins . . . but as a smoke screen for human cussedness, pity has charity backed clear off the map.

Consider a few cases. You can probably match every one of them in your own experience.

There's Hortense. She didn't want to marry Roger. Liked him fine as an old friend, but he wasn't at all her idea of a husband. But he raved 'n' pleaded . . . said he'd go to the dogs if she didn't . . . wore her nerves to a frazzle . . . so she married him from PITY.

There's the Widow Wilson. Everyone knows that Estelle and Bert would have married years ago if their mother hadn't kept up a constant wheeze about her loneliness. So they gave up their own hope of happiness and stayed with her, out of PITY.

There's Eva Smith. For years Eva has held her family terrorized through her tantrums. You'd think they would tell her where to head in. But they're so sorry for her. Think what a terrible shock she had when she lost her fiance, seven years ago. So they stand her stuff, from PITY.

And, of course, there are the "heart attacks" Mrs. Peters pulls whenever Bill wants to go duck hunting with the fellows . . . and Amy Briggs' "sensitiveness" . . . and the Suicide Threat Hugh Stratton springs every time Clair threatens to divorce him. Hugh's been a pain in the neck to Clair for fifteen years . . . he's lazy and rude and generally objectionable and Clair would give her eye teeth to be rid of him. But the thought of him going off all alone and blowing out his brains is too much for her. So she sticks by him through PITY.

Pity . . . how lovely it listens and how contemptible it is when we use it to gain selfish ends!

Do we ever win real love and loyalty by such methods? We do not. But we do make people pay attention to us and sacrifice their desires for ours. Which is all we want.

Actually the person who compels compliance through pity is as vicious and ruthless as any "stick-up artist" who shoves his gun in your ribs. . . .

And no person with a particle of real pride or affection would stoop to such tactics.

Text for Today For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?—Matthew xvi:26.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells,

PERIPATUS differs in a number of important respects from other arthropods. Its chitnous integument is comparatively thin and beset with little spiny warts; being flexible it shows no jointing on the limbs or division into body-segments. The numerous appendages show less specialization of structure than do those of other arthropods.

In its general appearance the animal looks half-way between a centipede and a worm.

H. G. Wells.

In its internal anatomy the animal shows many arthropod features. It has a body-cavity that contains blood, simple unbranched tracheae, and so on. But in other respects it resembles the worms.

It has a series of kidney-tubes, one pair corresponding to each pair of legs like the kidney-tubes of an earth-worm, and its central nervous system, instead of lying along the belly, forms two distinct cords running along the two sides of the body and connected together by regular communications like the rungs of a ladder—a condition that is paralleled by the flat-worms and by some molluscs.

And in its development, it, like sea-squirts or Sacculina, drops clues as to its affinities. Early in embryonic life, it has an ordinary blood-system, with veins and arteries, and an ordinary blood-cavity with no blood in it, just like a worm.

Peripatus, then, is an arthropod which shows many resemblances to animals of other phyla, particularly the segmented worms; it seems to bridge much of the gulf between the arthropods and this latter group.

BOOK TWO.

Sec. 1. Other Animal Phyla.

AT first the only real phylum of animals to be picked out was the vertebrates. The remainder was all a miscellaneous dump of patterns labeled "Bloodless Animals."

The next great phylum to be separated away from this confused head, was the arthropods we have just dealt with. Linnaeus (1707-1778), the father of precise biological classification, made the distinction, using the word "Insect" to cover all the arthropods—but he did not regard the arthropod division as equivalent to the vertebrates; he grouped animals into the six classes, mammals, birds, amphibians (including also the reptiles), fishes, insects and worms.

This last class, the "worms," is his dump.

We have, we hope, made clear that there is no sort of precedence or subordination between these phyla. The lobster is not lower or higher than the frog or fish. He is altogether different. He belongs to a different series of experiments that nature seems to have made.

So, too, we now recognize another very important and various phylum, another plan of living mechanism, in what are called Molluscs (such as oysters, mussels, snails, squids, octopuses) and yet another in the echinoderms (the starfish, seaechinoderms (the starfish, sealilies).

There are three perfectly distinct phyla of worms, the segmented worms, the roundworms and the flatworms, each a large and important group.

And there are the phylum of jellyfish and polyps, the phylum of sponges and the phylum of animals too small for the naked eye to see.

But besides these there are other phyla, which give a less ample spectacle of range and variations.

One might speak of them as nature's less successful or less versatile trials. She is like an enterprising manufacturer who has put a number of devices on the market and followed up those that caught on.

The chordata, when it got to the vertebrate pattern, was a huge success, and the call for arthropods was steady and abundant. Both these phyla conquered sea, land and air.

The molluscs and flatworms and roundworms went well, the segmented worms and echinoderms went fairly well.

But certain other phyla we shall note never ran away with matters in that fashion.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Thoughts while strolling: The filling station fashioned to resemble the leaning tower of Pisa. Ben Bernie's London togs. The glitter in the Broadway credit jewelry shops. The quick jumps and blanched faces after a tire blow out. Martha Wilchinski, press agent and poet.

Bob Sherwood. One of the old Barnum clowns. Charles Butterworth suggests Norman Hapgood. It's about time for Bruce Reynolds to bust out in another globe trot. A one-eyed bulldog with a patch over his eye. Two Broadway characters known as "Legs" and "Feet."

Will Irwin, an Oneida, N. Y., boy, who made good in the city. John Murray Anderson, who started out to be a Canadian politician. And became a producer of musical revues. George White and Flo Ziegfeld pass each other without nodding. Eugene Kelcey Allen's broad smile.

Those enormous sized bath powder puffs. The contemplative, incredibly informed old men who make a rite of dropping into their club every afternoon, bowing stiffly and burying their faces in financial pages. Elihu Root. Spry at 84. A modernistic cookie shop. Will H. Hays wears a derby.

That romantic hour betwixt twilight and dark. When the avenue fills with shadows—like drifting feathers. And the gleaming necklace of lights stretching through the park. The forlorn, eerie cry of swans on the lake. And the sudden blaze of checkered light in the Plaza Hotel zone.

An old cabbie calls out. "It's a 'owling night, sir!" And motions hopefully to his hansom. A quick lunch called: "Bite-and-Beat-It." Gilbert Seldes is growing stout. The shawled old lady with her fortune-telling parrots. The before closing sales in florist shops.

Central Park West in the throes of feverish building. And the complete commercialization of once dignified and stately West Seventy-second street. A hurrying passer-by mutters to himself: "I'm a coward!" The electrical geometrics along the Jersey shore. And the lonely sailors huddled on Riverside benches.

Vilhjalmur Steffansson, the explorer, recently was introduced to a little boy who was also hopeful of achieving fame in the field of exploration.

"How are you going to become an explorer?" Steffansson inquired.

"I am going to buy an aeroplane and fly over something," he replied with easy indifference.

Mr. Steffansson it is noticed, continues to walk New York streets hatless in the chilliest weather. * * *

A stage director until recently did the entire job of rehearsing a musical show. He taught the steps, the "business," the dialogue and right on down to the aloof bow of haughty stage butlers. But now musical productions employ the highly specialized dance directors who train feet to an expert nimbleness and are otherwise responsible for fast stepping. In these days a chorus or dance number often becomes the big feature of a performance. Hence the care in their presentation. The dance director in instances receives higher pay than the regular stage director. As a rule he has been an expert dancer himself, but his big job is to originate something new and when he does is able to ask his price. * * *

Fourteen Polar Bear clubs are carrying on around New York bathing beaches this winter while most of us hover around the radiator. These are the hardy men and women who br-r-r-, take a dip each morning during the winter season. * * *

Tabloids are really a boon for established writers, in the opinion of Courtney Ryley Cooper. "They teach morons to read," he says.

She came into Schrafft's on 57th street magnificently yet sedately groomed, but with a patch over an eye suggesting perhaps a motor accident.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

YOUR position seems to be secure. You have based expenditures upon what you can meet with your salary. You have been with your firm for years, believe your work to be satisfactory and think you have a job for life.

Perhaps you have; but this is the time of consolidations, new employers without notice taking over the business.

How would you stand under such conditions?

Very likely the new purchasers would have a man especially trained to their way of doing things to place in your position. Your years of faithful service to the old firm would not count at all.

Are you prepared for such an emergency?

Does it not seem wise to you to start putting away a little more than you have previously?

Couldn't you cut your expenditures considerably?

Also could you not increase your income by using a part of your leisure in a profitable way?

Are you putting off from year to year the time when you will make that extra effort to increase your income?
